RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. GOODLING

Concurrent RESOLUTION No. 64

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1951

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is conscious of General Douglas MacArthur's comprehensive knowledge of the foreign and the domestic problems with which our government is currently beset. The General Assembly is also aware of the General's penchant for incisive analysis and dramatic utterance—invariably two important media for high lighting questions that are of vital concern to every American.

General MacArthur's experience has been of such a long, diversified and unique character; his military and diplomatic triumphs have been so spectacular; his career has been so distinguished and inspirational, that it is therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly extend its cordial invitation to General Douglas MacArthur to address a joint session of the House and the Senate at his convenience and on such topics and with such treatment as he may deem most expedient in view of the many impending and critical questions before all segments of American society today; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly authorize the formation of a committee, comprising the Speaker, the President Pro Tempore, and the majority and the minority leaders from the House and the Senate, and two members from each body, for the purpose of transmitting this invitation to General MacArthur and making all arrangements thereto.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

An Act providing for the examination, licensure and registration of persons, firms or corporations engaged in the business or work of plumbing or house and building drainage, and prescribing certain rules, regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing, house and building drainage and cesspools, in cities of the second class, second class A and third class, and imposing fines, penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof; and providing for administration of this act by county departments of health or joint-county departments of health in cities of the second class, second class A and third class which are within the jurisdiction of such departments of health, and repealing certain laws.

Mr. BEAR from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 604, entitled:

An Act authorizing the conversion into mutual life insurance companies of certain fraternal beneficial societies orders or associations or certain fraternal benefit societies incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth outlining the procedure and defining the rights of dissenting certificate holders.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I regret the lack of opportunity to address the membership of this House prior to the Majority party caucus.

Newspaper headlines read, "Fine looking to Democrats." His Excellency the Governor is quoted in part as saying,

"Democratic Legislators have a responsibility to all the people and I think most of them realize it. I hope to discuss with the minority party a number of matters to advance the best interests of Pennsylvania if they want to cooperate."

It has been a long and weary legislative trek since January 1st of this year. His Excellency the Governor, if he was at any time interested in ascertaining the views of any member of the minority, had only to invite that member of the minority to call upon him in his office at an appropriate time. Up to the present time His Excellency the Governor has apparently been unmindful that there were any Democrats who are Members of this House or of the other House.

Now, Democrats are Pennsylvanians and we are as much interested in the welfare of our Commonwealth as the other Members of this House, and we will concede that whenever partisanship menaces political stability, partisanship should cease and terminate,—cease to be a governing consideration.

I am not at this particular moment in a position to speak for anyone except myself. I am, however, in a position to outline the basis of cooperation concerning the Commonwealth's fiscal problems which I would be prepared to suggest to the Members of the House Democratic caucus for their consideration.

It is my thought that these suggestions may have at least a passing interest to some members of the majority party. Before I discuss important matters, I would suggest that the majority party House caucus suggest to His Excellency the Governor that he fire whoever is his present Public Relations Counsel.

Governor Fine can hardly be responsible for the ineptitude that has characterized many of his statements. Just as a matter of human probability, no one man, operating by himself could possibly make as many public relations mistakes as His Excellency the Governor himself has done. So he must have had expert assistance from somewhere, and it is high time that he fired those experts.

Particularly His Excellency the Governor should make certain that he doesn't hand Members of the House, who have borne the burden and the heat of the day in his service, a kick in the seat of their legislative pants.

I have here a clipping from one of the papers, which reads,

"The Executive signed the bill Saturday increasing expense allowances of Members of the Legislature from $1200 to $1800 a year, but withheld most of the money until the Assembly provides the revenue.

Fine refused to approve an appropriation of $232 thousand for payment of the expenses increase for the present biennium, but said there is sufficient money left from a previous appropriation to pay the $300 increase through July 1.

I will not approve any further amount for the purpose of this bill,"—

The Governor said bluntly,

"Until the Legislature provides sufficient revenue to care for human needs for essential services, for our public institutions, hospitals, colleges, medical schools, soldier's bonus, school subsidies and for salary increases for teachers and for all state employees."

That statement is just about the unkindest cut of all. The Members of this House have not failed to provide sufficient revenue to care for human needs, for school subsidies, for salary increases for teachers and for all state employees, and if it should develop that we have failed, the Members of this House, as the Governor should know, are disposed to make sufficient appropriation and find the sources.

The Governor inadvertently gave headline hunters and editorial quibblers a club to beat his friends. I approve and I am prepared to defend in any theatre the increase in Legislative expense accounts.

Members of the minority party moreover, are as insistent as His Excellency the Governor can possibly be, that all of the essential activities of the Commonwealth are generously financed. We say to the majority party leader, trot out your health legislation, your labor legislation, your reapportionment legislation, and do not trot out the alibi that by reason of a temporary fiscal deadlock a great many important measures which this administration during the campaign promised to enact could not be enacted.

There is no reason why any platform promise made by the Republican party should be short-changed by reason of any fiscal situation that has so far arisen.

Whatever your legislative program is, trot it out in complete and rounded form. There is no justification for the continued stumbling and fumbling that has characterized procedure up to this point. But you say, action is stymied by reason of the fact a particular type of tax legislation is dead-locked in the Senate. I contend that is simply tommy-rot. When you encounter obstacles in your affairs and you cannot get through you try to go around. The Governor's fiscal program is stymied because of two facts; one political and one economic.

The political reason is this: Mason Owlett wrote the administration tax program, or at least he wrote most of it. That Machivellian operator has been a millstone around the Governor's official neck. Governor Fine should realize that Mason Owlett's political friendship is a kiss of death. If Mason Owlett's object is to ruin Fine, create a permanent rupture between the Governor and Pennsylvania's Junior Senator, disrupt the Republican party and gain control of the fragment, he could not be doing a better job than he is doing right now.

The second fundamental mistake that is being made is the administration's insistence upon the enactment of a two year budget. This is not the time for a two year budget. Only Omnipotence himself can predict the course of events fiscal, economic and otherwise during the next twenty-four months.

Will the spiral of inflation continue? Will we have a period of peace talks and economic recession? Will budget estimates stand up? Will they be exceeded? No one can answer those questions and answer them speaking with authority.

Majority sentiment in this House favors an annual budget, and the time to begin with the annual budget idea is right now. What are the barriers against an annual budget? If they are found only in the Administrative Code, the Code can be amended and the Commonwealth can proceed to operate on an annual budget basis.

I say now as I have said before on the floor of this House, that the General Assembly is deadlocked by reason of a difference of opinion, a difference that only time itself can resolve. One group says there is money enough in sight to finance all of the Commonwealth's essential needs. The other group says that no taxes are necessary.

In my opinion,—and it is only an opinion, the Governor does not need as much new money as he says he needs. On the other hand, the probabilities are that when all the needs have been assembled some new tax money is needed over the two year period. And so the sensible thing to do is to finance the Commonwealth's needs for the current fiscal year and see what happens.

There are those who say that at the end of the year we will be right back where we started. They speak without knowledge of the fact that during the current fiscal year the Republican party can at least make a beginning at the task of redeeming its campaign pledges.

Now, here is what the Republican platform said. I do not want to hold them to the letter of it, but I do want to call attention to the spirit of it.

"Due to the uncertainty of world conditions,—

A certainty that most quite evidently continues,—

Due to the uncertainty of world conditions, the amount of funds required for the next budget is impossible of prediction at this time."

September 9, 1950.

Impossible of prediction? If they could not predict at that time whence comes the present budget? That is when they were framing it. That is when the present budget began.

However, there have been favorable changes in the state's fiscal prospects in recent months. We anticipate that the increase in revenue and the decrease in expenditures arising from this changed condition, coupled with strict economy and good management will be sufficient to avoid any additional taxes.

Now, tax yields have increased. But where are the evidences of increased economy and increased efficiency in the management of the various departments of our state government?

The Republican House and Senate caucuses should proceed to make searching inquiry for the purpose of ascertaining how many departments and bureaus are actually overstaffed, for the purpose of ascertaining how many dead beats and drones there are in the Commonwealth payroll, and also for the purpose of ascertaining how many faithful employes there are who deserve salary increases.

So why not give Republican pledges a chance to operate? Briefly this is my personal position, I will support and will urge the Democratic House caucus to support generous appropriations for all essential state services, but on the other hand, I will urge the members of the Democratic House caucus not to go overboard in favor of any entirely new taxes until the need for them has been actually demonstrated. The annual budget is the key that will unlock the pending legislative deadlock. There is money enough in sight to finance the Commonwealth's needs during the current fiscal year.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Minority Leader has certainly covered a lot of ground. I was trying to write down answers to some of the questions, but they were coming too fast.

There are several questions I would like to clear up. I do not believe the Minority Leader and we on this side of the House are too far apart on a lot of our thinking. I think he has proven a very good case for an annual budget. I think he has proven a very good case for an annual session. I do not think that anyone on this side of the House is against an annual session today, knowing the problems that we have in state government, knowing that we cannot appropriate with good judgment for a two year period. It cannot be done in a small business, and it certainly cannot be done in a billion dollar business like the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I believe, however, we have debated most of these problems on the floor of this House in the past.

One of the things the gentleman brought up was the Governor's statement in vetoing the appropriation in these expense bills. I believe the Governor was justified in vetoing the appropriations. Who are we in this House that we are any better than the state employees, or the hospitals? They are being appropriated for on a month to month basis. There is no reason why we should be an exception to the rule. As long as the money is available this time to pay our expenses, I believe it is no more than right to give us the money.

The gentleman knows, I know and everyone knows that the general appropriation bill will carry the additional appropriations to hospitals, state employes, and I hope it will also carry an appropriation for us.

The gentleman wants to know about our policy. We have our health program in the House today—in committees, although part of it was brought to the floor, and referred back to Committee. We have our labor program in the House today. We have our welfare program; we have passed a good many bills such as FEPC, which were part of our platform, and I do not think we are too far out of line in regard to our promises in our platform.

There is one thing I would like to definitely spike, this one rumor that seems to be the boogey man in a lot of people's thinking, and that is the gentleman Mason Owlett. I myself hold no brief either for or against Mason Owlett. Mason Owlett is a Republican. Let me assure the gentleman once and for all that our fiscal program which was presented to this House was agreed upon by the leadership of the House and Senate. Mason Owlett, so far as I am concerned, I never saw, I never talked to in regard to a fiscal program. If someone else did, I do not know about it. He has nothing, in my mind, to do with this program. It was agreed upon and we presented it. Mason Owlett never sat in at a meeting.

I would like definitely to spike that one rumor. I would also again like to repeat that Mason Owlett, if he did make a suggestion,—which I say he did not so far as I know, is a Republican. I think that any Republican, no matter who he may be, has a right to make suggestions. We have had hundreds of suggestions from Republicans of influence from all over the state, and I can see no reason to make an exception in the case of the gentleman, Mason Owlett.

I think too the program we saw presented to the papers,—the Senate program we shall call it at this time—proved one thing: it disproved the gentleman's statement that he just made that there was no need for new money. I have not had anything officially given to me except what I read in the papers. But what I read in the papers definitely stated and totaled up that we need the money that we are asking for. At least the Senate in the statements that were given to the newspapers, if they be true, admitted that they needed the money. I do not believe that is the basis now, whether we need it or do not need it, it is the method of getting it. I think Governor Fine in his original budget message was right and correct when he said we needed so much money. The Senate has approved that in their statement and approved many millions more.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 584

House Bill No. 390, Printer's No 539 and

House Bill No. 488, Printer's No. 476

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 640, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the sixth day of June 1893 (P. L. 326) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act in relation to the imprisonment government and release of convicts in the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon' approved the twenty-eighth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven" by correcting the name of said institution and of the governing board thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Welfare for the reason that a bill of like nature has already been passed in this session by the House.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 695, as follows:

An Act providing that public employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall not be forbidden by any superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities after working hours

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 No employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall be forbidden by a superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities after working hours unless the same is prohibited by statute

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I thought I would call attention once more to this bill and to the volume of publicity which has been published in Philadelphia on this subject.

The last time it was on second reading I read from an article in the Philadelphia Inquirer. Now I read from an article in the Evening Bulletin:

House Bill 695 in the Pennsylvania Legislature provides that no employee of the State or its political subdivisions is to be forbidden by his superior officer to engage in politics unless such activity is forbidden 'by statute.' One effect of this would be to tell the employees of the Municipal Court they can engage in politics in spite of the prohibition laid on them by President Judge Boyle and the Board of Judges. Other employees would receive similar invitations to violate the wishes and orders of their superiors.

The Common Pleas Judges have a rule against political activity among their appointees, including the Prothonotary and his subordinates.

Under this act employees would be forbidden to engage in politics only if politics is forbidden by statute. Since Philadelphia's new charter might not be construed to be a 'statute,' a term usually reserved for acts of legislature, House Bill 695 might repeal the anti-political provisions of the Charter. Even though the Charter forbade some form of political activity, House Bill 695 would invite employees to engage in other forms. When such a provision is tied to a civil service rule that employees are not to be dismissed for political reasons, trouble lies ahead. House Bill 695 deserves stern repudiation."

Now I read an article on Thursday, June 28th 1951, also in the Evening Bulletin:

"The bill introduced by Representative Pitzer of Adams County to permit public employees to engage in politics has been amended to permit such activity only outside of business hours. What a man does on his own time, it is argued is his own business.

Unfortunately it does not work that way. A public employee is not likely to go out in the division to mend political fences just because that is his favorite hobby, or because it brings him extra income.

He does it because he is forced to do it. He does not get his job in the first place if he is not politically useful to those who have jobs to give, and he will lose the job if he does not continue to deliver.

"So a bill to allow the employee to engage in politics outside of office hours is really a bill to force him to engage in politics. There may come a day when public employees who really want to be politically active will be freely accorded the right to do so, but that day is not today, and the place is not Philadelphia, where both the employee and the public need protection from political exploitation at the taxpayers' expense.

I have another editorial headed

Two bills for Politics in the Court. Two bills pending in the House at Harrisburg are thoroughly saturated with politics and should be defeated. One is the court-packing measure that would add four Judges at salaries of $12,000 each to the Philadelphia Municipal Court, which already has eleven Judges. The other is the notorious Pitzer Bill which would forbid state and local officials to prohibit their employees from engaging in political activity unless specifically required by law.

The Pitzer bill represents one of the last organizational stabs at preserving safe havens for political jobholders. The city charter prohibits municipal office holders from engaging in politics and when and if city-county consolidation is effected, the occupants of the present county offices will become subject to the same ban. Court jobs, until Judge Boyle issued his order, had been desirable plums for party workers, and the Pitzer bill would restore the old order of things in the Municipal Court. There is no excuse for these two belated political bills.

I want to read a letter finally that I received from the Health and Welfare Council signed by its President G. R. Rebman, Jr.:

On June 20th 1951, at the annual meeting of the Health and Welfare Council of Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia Counties, which has a membership of over three hundred public and voluntary health and welfare agencies, the following motion was passed unanimously. Having supported wholeheartedly the recent action by our Municipal and Common Pleas Courts in Philadelphia, divorcing employees from political activity, it is the sense of this meeting that House Bill 695 would defeat such efforts to keep party politics out of public health and welfare services, and the passage of House Bill 695 is therefore opposed.

I submit that the Members of the House should vote down this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House on second reading, amendments were offered to exempt the city and county of the first class from its operations. Those amendments were voted down. Voting those amendments down is an indication of the approval of the bill in its present form. Excepting as an individual will abuse or corrupt his employment, I can see no reason why we should tell people who are employed by political subdivisions that they are not allowed to speak their mind, any more than we can tell the Legislator that he can not speak his mind, or an employee of a company that he can not speak his mind, or that the company officials can not speak their minds or any other citizen of the United States of America cannot speak his mind.

This bill goes to the one of the basic fundamentals on which there is a creeping paralysis coming into effect today to eliminate many of those freedoms which it has been our privilege to enjoy.

I am just wondering, taking into consideration some of the statements which have been made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, if he considers that if a policeman after working hours should speak about bills that might affect his salary, legislation which might affect his pension, legislation which might affect his working hours, whether or not he would consider that to be politics, and if so he would deny that man the right to speak on his own behalf and on behalf of the welfare of his fellow employees.

I am wondering if he would do the same thing in connection with the firemen, who are municipal employees, when they might want to advance legislation that has to do with the safety of their members, with the welfare of the people at large. Would that constitute politics; would a man be permitted to speak his mind on that, and try and promote the welfare not only of his fellow employees but of the public generally?

I am wondering does the gentleman want to deny people the privilege of doing that? Does he consider that to be playing politics?

In the general vernacular of the street what constitutes politics, is when a man speaks out in behalf of the job on which he is employed. The same thing will go for the Health and Welfare employees. Are we to understand that they are asking that those people be denied the privilege of speaking up on their own behalf?

I cannot visualize that under our present system of government, and I am asking that the House support this bill because of the fact that I must again remind you that there are sixty-seven counties in the state of Pennsylvania and so far as I know the other sixty-six counties want very much to maintain their freedom of speech on behalf of these several things which I have mentioned.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman from Cameron well knows, there is a substantial difference between the activities of the members of the Highway Departments and the political activities of the police, the courts or anyone attached to the courts.

The policeman and the court employee carries with him an aura of authority. If there is political corruption it generally has its origin, its seat among the police; and that is the reason why the country over it is stipulated wisely that the police shall not participate in politics. In like measure, there is a well defined movement that takes the courts and the court employees out of politics because, as I have pointed out, there is a very great difference between the political activities of a member of the Highway Department and a policeman or somebody who is connected with the courts. I think that Judges and heads of the Police Departments have the right to say to their employees, "in politics thus far and no further."

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to enter into any controversy. I simply would like permission to ask a question or two of the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Pitzer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Pitzer, permit himself to interrogated?

Mr. PITZER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell me whether there was any specific personal reason that he had for sponsoring this bill?

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, no.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, if he had no specific reason for sponsoring it,—I am concerned about the courts. The gentleman did not specifically submit this bill to refute the orders of the Courts of Philadelphia. Was there any intention on his part that this bill should bring the Courts of Philadelphia back into politics?

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, when I sponsored this bill I had no idea of anything so far as the Courts of Philadelphia were concerned. In my County, I know that this bill is O. K.'d by my Judge.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I went back a number of years in my own writings to find out what my stand on the issue of the Courts in politics was, and I was wondering if you would permit this bill to be placed on the third reading postponed calendar, and amend it so that the Courts alone would not come under the provisions of the bill?

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, I would not because I think it is the right of every man to vote and work politics if he sees fit. Therefore, I would not agree to that.

Mr. SWARTZ. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, it was never my intention just to get up here and talk. I have kept my seat most of the time, except on one very controversial issue, and I would not change my stand on that. In fact, I am more convinced now that I was right than I ever was; but on this particular issue, in checking back on my own writings for many years, I find I have criticized the Judges of the Courts of Dauphin County for sitting in on political meetings after they were elected, sitting on public platforms when political rallies were held in which they had no part after they had been elected.

I do not want to deny any man the right that is given to him under the Constitution either of the United States or of the state of Pennsylvania. But in voting for this bill, in making my decisions, I must make them on the basis that the Courts are included and that above all things we have to have impartial Courts. We have to have Courts where men have to stand on a pinnacle; where they are respected above all other people, and that would include, of course, those people affiliated with the Courts under the Judges themselves.

I merely want to make this statement: if the amendment cannot be made, in voting against this bill, I do so simply because of the Court issue and I am not voting against it to deny any employe of whatever political affiliation the right to do as he sees fit from a political standpoint.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I must again bring to the attention of the Members of this House that we put in an amendment to forbid politics to be played by a person while on his job.

I hold to the belief, and it is a sincere belief, that neither the Courts, the Police Chief, or the Fire Chief or anybody else has the right to tell me what I can do when I am not engaged in the course of my employment under him. If he can tell me that I cannot engage in politics after working hours, then by the same token, he can tell me that I can only go to certain recreational centers at night time; he can tell me that I can only visit and go to certain shows at night time; he can tell me who my associates shall be; he can regulate my life. It is revolting to my whole nature to have the Courts or anyone else to tell me, when I am off of my job, what I can do. If I violate the laws of the Commonwealth, I can be brought in for violating those laws, if I do those things when I am off the job, and so can they be disciplined if they practice politics while they are engaged in the course of their employment.

I see no reason why we should let a creeping paralysis come upon us in the restriction of our freedoms. If I want to go out and do some reprehensible thing after I am through with my employment, that is my business if I want to be sent to jail for it.

I have not yet heard that politics is a disreputable or dishonorable profession, because if it is, then there are 207 dishonorable and disreputable people sitting here in this House today.

The time has come when we must look to some of the fundamentals of our government and begin to realize exactly in what direction we are trying to head ourselves.

I, therefore, say with all the force at my command, that this is a good bill; that it is a bill that should be supported and it is a bill that will square itself with the fundamentals of our American way of life.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, perhaps the remarks I heard from some of the gentlemen as I got up to speak were provoked by the fact that I am wearing a fancy shirt toady. It is not usual or customary for me to do so; but I have it on and while it is a little out of order as far as I am concerned the heat forced me to do it. So, I want to apologize to the Members of the House for not having on a white shirt today. It is insulting the dignity of the House.

However, Mr. Speaker, in reference to House Bill 695 which is under discussion, I heard a few comments during the course of the debate, an expression of opinion by the gentleman, I believe, Mr. Tompkins, to the effect that no man should be prohibited from speaking one's mind and no man should be denied the right to speak for and on behalf of himself, even though he may be a political employe, or an employe of some agency of the government. With that statement of Mr. Tompkins I heartily agree, although, of course, I do not agree with the bill.

I do not think the purpose of the bill aims at that. We are opposed, we from Philadelphia, and we took this position last week, we are opposed to those who accept positions in the Courts or in certain branches of law enforcement or certain agencies of government engaging in political activity. We do not wish to prohibit them from expressing their minds or opinions because we subscribe very highly to freedom of thought. I take this position: I personally oppose a man engaging in political activity if he accepts a certain position of trust and confidence in the Courts and law enforcement agencies.

No man is required to accept any job. We in the House have passed various types of licensing legislation, affecting nurses, affecting osteopaths, doctors, morticians, teachers, and what not.

We have said in this legislation that certain individuals shall be qualified and licensed to practice a certain trade or profession if that person meets with certain requirements. If that person does not continue to satisfy these criteria, then the person may be eliminated from that job or position.

As a matter of public policy, we think that is a necessary and satisfactory thing. For instance, we prohibit criminal records, we require good moral character, we require certification of classification of standards. All that we say is if you wish or desire to accept a certain job, you are going to have to conform to certain standards. I think that a superior officer in saying to a man, if you wish to work as an officer of this Court, or if you wish to work for a law enforcement agency, the Police or the Fire Department, I am requiring that you do not actively engage in political activity whether it be during the day or evening, after working hours—because we cannot separate a man's loyalties.

If this political activity will interfere with the proper performance or function of the man's job, I say that is correct. We should be able to do that and that is not a deprivation of freedom of speech, that is not a deprivation of a man's right to pursue his own activity, his own economic activity with employment. I say that is American and that is the proper thing, and if the proper officer believes that a man should be so prohibited from engaging in political activity for the benefit and the full administration of his job, I think he may do that.

Certainly it is my sincere belief that this bill in its present form is aimed at the political situation in Philadelphia. So it has a motivation which is bad. I spent some time last week speaking upon that subject. I do not want to take your time any more today. Therefore, I am asking the Members of this House to vote against this bill.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill just for a moment.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PITZER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor whether under the provisions of this bill a stenographer or clerk working for a judge would be prohibited from writing letters to, we will say, prospective supporters on the outside?

Mr. PITZER. After working hours, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Either after working hours or during working hours.

Mr. PITZER. After working hours they can write letters but not during working hours according to the bill.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Well, would an employee, clerk, or stenographer employed under a judge be prohibited under the provisions of this bill from passing out a card, we will say, of the judge by whom she is employed?

Mr. PITZER. After working hours?

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Well, you tell me. After working hours or during working hours?

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, this bill specifically gives them the right to work after working hours and not during working hours.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

The impression has gone out that this bill is largely directed to remedy the situation in Philadelphia. I have been trying to place the position of our delegation and of those who do not necessarily live in Philadelphia, as to how it will affect political activity in their counties.

I can follow the arguments of the gentlemen who say that policemen should not be permitted to engage in politics, because they have authority and by virtue of that authority they are in a position to coerce votes. But on the other hand, and I say this sincerely, when we think of all of the lethargy that prevails among the electorate and the fact that politics, when we define it, is simply just the science of government, I am wondering if an extension of this thing would not defeat the very purposes that we are trying to accomplish. What is wrong with our not saying not only to the courts but to the rest of the county officers, "Your employees are not to engage in political activity, they are not to pass out cards, they can not write letters, they cannot campaign among their friends."

I think the thing that is confusing is that nobody has properly defined what we mean by political activity. Certainly we have laws on the statute books of this Commonwealth to protect us against any situation that is bad.

I am compelled to go along with the view that politics is not a criminal activity. We do not have any apologies to offer for being in politics. Those of us who are trying to do a job call ourselves public servants and I do not see why we should prevent any man from engaging in that activity.

Only two weeks ago I witnessed in a committee meeting a judge coming down from Philadelphia. He was there demanding what he thought they needed in Philadelphia, but he was willing to deny the same right to an employee of the court to take issue with him and he wanted to be in a position to place him in the category of an employee and to delegate to himself certain powers by virtue of the fact that he wore a robe. Well, I think that is un-American. I think that is wrong and I think it high time, Members of this House, that if politics has been degenerated to such a status that we have to apologize for being in it then I think we all ought to seek some other type of profession.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to endorse the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Jones, and merely want to make one observation that he himself made and that is this: why should any man be given the privilege of denying to an employee things which he does not deny to himself.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and reconsideration of House Bill No. 1057, as follows:

An Act to add Section 6.1 to the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1216) entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and providing for the licensing regulation and supervision of resident and non-resident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business" by authorizing the issuance of limited real estate brokers' and salesmen's licenses exclusively within the limited field or branch of the real estate business applying to cemetery lots plots and mausoleum spaces or openings and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Public Instruction and the State Real Estate Commission with respect to examination for and the issuance of such licenses

Section 1 The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1216) entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and providing for the licensing regulation and supervision of resident and nonresident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business" is hereby amended by adding after Section 6 a new section to read as follows

Section 6.1 (a) The department is hereby authorized and empowered to issue limited real estate brokers' and salesmen's licenses to any person copartnership association or corporation desiring to engage in or carry on the business or act in the capacity of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman within the Commonwealth exclusively within the limited field or branch of such business which applies to cemetery lots plots and mausoleum spaces or openings and for such purpose the commission shall conduct limited examinations as are in the judgment of the commission necessary to ascertain whether the applicant for such limited licensure has a proper knowledge of that field For the purpose of preparing and conducting examinations for said limited licensure the commission shall consult with an advisory group of at least three persons of established reputation and ability who are actively engaged in that field or branch and who shall be compensated for their services at the rate of not more than ten dollars ($10.00) per day in addition to their expenses in attending the commission

(b) Applicants for said limited licensure shall first submit to and pass an examination prepared by the commission in consultation with an advisory group as herein provided such examinations to be conducted at such times in such special field and subject to such conditions as the commission by rules and regulations shall prescribe

(c) Limited license issued by the department under the provisions of this section shall clearly state on the face thereof the field to which such limited license is applicable and the holder of any such limited license shall not engage in or carry on the business or act in the capacity of a real estate broker or real estate salesman except in the limited field for which he holds the license

(d) Except as herein otherwise provided all the provisions of this act shall apply to applicants for and persons holding limited licenses issued by the department under the provisions of this section.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

White,

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1181, entitled:

An Act to add Section 1207.1 to the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by granting jurisdiction to magistrates in summary proceedings in certain cases where minors are charged with violations of said act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1207.1) page 4, lines 4 and 5, by striking out the word "not" in line 4 and all of line 5 and inserting in lieu thereof: "except that in any case of default in payment of a fine and costs imposed upon such minor, the matter shall be referred to the juvenile court."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1191, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 565) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended to exempt domestic servants and agricultural workers from the provisions thereof except in certain cases" by providing that the purchase of Workmen's Compensation insurance shall be the exclusive means of electing to except the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915 in certain cases

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 565) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended to exempt domestic servants and agricultural workers from the provisions thereof except in certain cases" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Nothing contained in any article or any section of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties" as last reenacted and amended at the regular legislative session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine shall apply to or in any way affect any person who at the time of injury is engaged in domestic service of agriculture Provided however That in cases where the employer of any such person shall have [prior to such injury by application to the Workmen's Compensation Board approved by the board] purchased Workmen's Compensation insurance to cover liability to such employe such employer during the life of the policy shall be deemed to have elected to come within the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and the supplements and amendments thereto the provisions of this supplementary act shall not apply Such election shall become effective on the effective date of the policy and terminate on the expiration date of the policy unless renewed by the employer and shall be binding on both the employer and his employes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor to explain just what this bill does.

Mr. NAUGLE. Mr. Speaker, under the Workmen's Compensation Act there are two classes of employment that come under the voluntary classification. That of employers of agricultural employes and those of domestic help. This provision is in addition to the coverage whereby an employer of help, agriculture or domestic, after having a policy for one policy period, and then rejects it at the end of that period—because of the fact that he comes under the voluntary classification, and the employee would have a claim during the year of the policy and the employer had no renewal on the policy for the following year, he would necessarily have to reject the Workmen's Compensation Act. This would give way for an injured employee to again bring suit against the employer for an additional amount if he saw fit to do so.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1203, as follows:

An Act to select and adopt the Great Dane as the official State dog of Pennsylvania

Section 1 The Great Dane is hereby selected designated and adopted as the official State dog of Pennsylvania

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I had expected a little more barking and howling on this bill. However I had no fear.

A dog can growl and bark and if you are kind to that dog no one needs to fear.

On a previous occasion when I was granted the privilege of taking the floor of this House, as you will recall, I was asked that we get aboard the Ship of State. As I remarked I expected that ship was sailing over troubled waters. And we certainly found that to be the case.

There is only one thing that was needed, that was a dog as a mascot on that ship, which mascot we left ashore.

However at this time I find myself in a quite different and rather peculiar situation. By request I am one of the sponsors, with my friend Mr. Clendening from Delaware, of this particular bill.

Now I am placed in the position of trying to be a salesman. This position is not new for me and since I have spent most of my career in the sailing of a very wide variety of items from hot dogs and hamburgers to,

I might state, almost any thing from a needle to a cow. And I have I might state been very successful.

I am about to at least try to sell a dog, man's best friend, to the Members of the House and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Any successful salesman in selling anything must first come to the conclusion in his own mind after taking all items into consideration, that he has the product to sell which is of the highest quality, the most advisable and the best that can be offered, and after careful consideration in this case, it is the Great Dane to be selected and adopted, as the official State Dog of Pennsylvania.

Of course it is natural that we all have our favorite breeds of dog and everyone of the various breeds have their characteristics which may entitle them to some consideration for adoption.

However, if one were to look over a large pack of dogs, a combination of all breeds assembled, you would find that the Great Dane would be outstanding for its physical beauty, its sturdiness and alertness, its kindness, its showmanship and you would say: "That is a dog which would and should be the blue ribbon winner of all the breeds" as your selection for a State dog.

No one pretends a state dog is a necessity, but we in Pennsylvania are not content with the necessities of life. Perhaps few people know or care what the state emblems are, but they are a source of pride to anyone who is interested in the state.

Certainly they cannot adopt a dog which we ourselves may be partial to. Even though one personally might like a dogwood tree better, he is proud of our state tree—the hemlock (despite the fact that it grows twice as big in West Virginia as it does here), and according to our new state booklet its wood is so inferior to our white pine it could not even be sold except at a loss during the period when Pennsylvania was the leading lumber producing state.

We are proud of our State flower—the mountain laurel, though a rose may smell much sweeter and the laurel belongs no more to us than any other state from New Brunswick to Florida or from Ontario to Indiana where it grows just as profusely.

We love and admire our state bird—the ruffed grouse. Though he is not so spectacular as the cardinal or so sweet a songster as many birds we see far more frequently—and he little cares whether he is in Pennsylvania's woods or in the New England states, west to Minnesota or South to Alabama where he abounds as much as here.

Pennsylvania is one of the few States which theoretically has a state dog. The Great Dane in the Capitol mural has looked down upon every person who has entered the Governor's reception room for years past, and he will continue to keep an eye on things for untold time to come.

He stands, mute evidence of a dog's loyalty to man even when man is spurned by those nearest and dearest to him, as in the case of the founder of our own state. Preserving Pennsylvania's historical heritage is a legislative habit of long standing.

Recognizing its State Dog is one of the few projects which can be accomplished at no expense. Looking into the face of Penn's Dane it would be unintelligent to delay in adopting a state dog, and a farce to adopt any other breed.

But behold, perhaps I have gone too far, Mr. Speaker. I felt that I was going to try and sell this Dog to you and the Members of the House—now I am going to give it to you without cost whatever!

So, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, I kindly ask you to accept the adoption of a doggone good dog for a doggone great State, by voting favorably on this doggone good bill.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1256, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one and thirteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 940) entitled "An act relating to boarding houses for children providing for the licensing and inspection thereof and the adoption of rules and regulations for the maintenance operation and conduct thereof by the Department of Welfare defining offenses and prescribing penalties" by redefining "boarding houses for children" and increasing penalties

Section 1 Sections one and thirteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 940) entitled "An act relating to boarding houses for children providing for the licensing and inspection thereof and the adoption of rules and regulations for the maintenance operation and conduct thereof by the Department of Welfare defining offenses and prescribing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is with a great deal of diffidence and hesitation that I rise to discuss this bill which is one of a series of three now pending on the calendar.

This particular bill, as I understand, is sponsored by the head of the Department of Welfare. I have been told—

I do not vouch for the correctness of this story—that in his early youth the head of the Department of Welfare sold domestic articles from door to door and that it was his practice to rap on the door and usually a woman would respond.

He would say, "Is the boss at home?"

Nine times out of ten the woman would reply, "No." Or, "The mister is at work."

"Oh, I wasn't interested in the mister. You are Mrs. Jones, it was you I wanted to see about this article of domestic use; I wasn't interested in the mister at all, I just wanted to talk to the one whose opinion predominated in the household."

You know it is difficult for early habits to be terminated, they linger. So as I say, I approach the discussion of this bill with considerable hesitation.

In a broadcast sent out over the state, addressed to the wives of the Members of this House, there is the intimation, at least there was the intimation in the letter that came to my house that I was a tired old man, that I was a bit of a nit-wit anyway; that I lacked the mental capacity to grapple with things of major moment. I might have the ability to vote "yes" or "no" on a dog bill but that it was beyond my capabilities and beyond the capabilities of the Members of this House to face the basic and fundamental issues that were involved in House Bill 1356, and therefore the women who have the misfortune to be the wives of Members of this House were urged to get busy and try and pound a bit of common sense into the Members of this House, to try to make them realize that there were grave issues that were pending; to arouse them from their lethargy.

Well, now, I guess I am all that the head of the Department of Welfare thinks I am but I hate awfully to be reminded of it, and I hate awfully to have anybody tell my wife how little I know.

In domestic circles I know the eminent wisdom of Mrs. Andrews, but I do not want everybody to be told by way of a letter sent to all the Members of this House and circulated in the press that the cause of those who are properly wards will not receive proper attention unless the militant womanhood of Pennsylvania move to the fore and demand this sort of action.

Now these measures are controversial. The opinion in our caucus is a divided opinion. The bills are designed to serve an obvious purpose, but there is a fundamental defect in House Bill 1356. The Department of Welfare would be granted under this bill the power to formulate the rules and regulations that would be used in classifying and determining the qualifications of boarding houses for children.

Formulating those rules and regulations calls for a considerable amount of discretion. In our caucus I rather favored these bills but upon mature consideration, when I realized that the rules and regulations that will make these measures operative are dependent upon the discretion of the head of the Department of Welfare, I have grave doubts whether in view of his various performances, his disposition for exhibitionism and his proclivities for the theatrical, whether or not I would be safe, or this House would be safe in entrusting to the discretion of the present Secretary of the Department of Welfare the task of formulating the basic regulations which should qualify a home for children, or a home for the aged. And so, Mr. Speaker, unless this House in its wisdom desires to amend these measures so that they give to the Department of Welfare some indication of the standards that should be set and the regulations that should make those standards operative, I will be compelled, much to my regret, to oppose the series of measures which the Department has asked the wives of the Members of the House to see are passed "as is."

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I find myself today in the happy position of being entirely in accord with the Minority Leader on this particular legislation. I have nothing particularly against the bills as they are written except the reasons as stated by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

I do feel that I have a right to read into the record today a letter that I sent to the Secretary of Welfare. So, with your permission, Mr. Speaker, I would like to read that letter at this time.

July 9, 1951

Honorable William C. Brown
Secretary of Welfare
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

My dear Mr. Secretary:

I wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge the receipt of your July 5th letter directed to Mrs. Helm and to register my complete surprise and displeasure of the means employed to solicit interest for House Bills No. 1356, No. 1357 and No. 1431.

I personally feel that rather than accomplish the purpose you evidently had in mind when writing to the legislators wives, you will effect the exact opposite and will do much to defeat these measures.

I must also convey my displeasure that you saw fit to release this information to the public press simultaneously.

While I personally have a great respect for Mrs. Helm's opinions, and often do consult her, I feel certain I share a kindred feeling with many of my legislative colleagues that the proper way to promote efficacious legislation is through the Legislators themselves.

I cannot conceive of the Legislature, individually or collectively hoping to achieve an end, regardless of its import, by contacting a cabinet member's wife.

May I suggest that your future desires on legislation be brought to my attention by letter or personally and I can and do assure you a fair hearing.

"Very truly yours,

W. STUART HELM.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time in answer to the last two speakers. I find myself in the position of approving the action that was taken by the Secretary of Welfare in this matter.

I feel that the letter that was addressed to my wife was one of the finest pieces of publicity that could have been sent out by the Department to call to the attention of each and every Member of this House the plight of the children, 63,000 in number, in this state who are being boarded out in foster homes.

When I mention that number I do not mean to say that the condition in the homes of all 63,000 is as has been depicted in this letter. But if only the four or five cases that were set forth in that letter are true, and I know that they are true, are called to the attention of the wives of the Members, I felt that they themselves would impress upon the Members the seriousness of this piece of legislation.

Nothing is too good for the youngsters of Pennsylvania and I feel that the Secretary of Welfare has done a great job in calling this matter to the attention of the Members of this Assembly.

No regulation, no matter how stringent, could be stringent enough to make a home worth while for the children of Pennsylvania and I find that I must disagree with the leader on my side when he stands here and says that he cannot vote in favor of a piece of legislation that leaves to the Secretary of Welfare the sole discretion in setting the rules and regulations under which these homes shall be licensed.

I say to each and every Member here that you owe it as a duty to the youngsters of Pennsylvania to see that those who are unfortunate enough, who must be placed in foster homes, shall live under conditions where they are healthy, where the moral standards are high, and where they will be raised as good, clean, decent American citizens. I say to each and every one of you forget your politics, forget the conditions back in your County and the local situation and be men who will stand up here and vote for this bill.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement on House Bills 1356 and 1357.

First of all, it is quite obvious that many Members of the House have made a turn about and have been reading their wives' mail.

I feel partially responsible, perhaps fully responsible, for this idea of contacting the women of the House because I, like so many Members of the House, have been guilty of throwing mail into the waste basket without giving it due consideration. It was my suggestion to the Department of Welfare because of my own sincere interest in this bill that this idea was attempted. It is one that you all use when campaigning because you have gone out after the women to have the women's vote. It is one that certainly in the modern realm of advertising or public promotion has done almost as good a job as it has in calling or arousing interest in the bills.

However, I would like to say at this time that I would like to defend the Secretary of Welfare, Mr. Brown, and at the same time humbly apologize to that gentleman here on the floor of the House for following through with my suggestion, if it has created such a furor. I have prepared here a long statement in relation to the bill. I will forego that statement and ask that each and everyone of you, regardless of what you thought of that particular letter, vote on the merit of the bill, consider the kids regardless of your personal political beliefs or whatever reaction you had to the letter that was sent out.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I sponsored a certain bill in the Legislature several months ago. I went home one Saturday afternoon—and I am speaking seriously and not facetiously—Mrs. Hamilton said to me with a trembling voice: "What did you do in Harrisburg?"

I said: "What is the matter?"

She said: "Well, I had a telephone call from the man who lives around the corner. He is waiting for you and he is going to put a bullet through your head."

I said: "Well, do not worry about it; he will not show up."

When I went home last week Mrs. Hamilton was waiting with open arms. She said: "I received a letter from Harrisburg, written by a man named Brown. And when you go back there next week, that legislation is in the interest of children and I have never asked you to do anything politically, but I would like you to vote in favor of that bill."

Evidently, the letters addressed to our wives have stirred up a little bit of animosity; but following the suggestion of the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant, let us hope in the interest of the children, because, after all, the letter was only sent to the one who rocks the cradle, and we are sure that that person will guide the nation. Let us vote on the merits of the bills and in the interest of the children of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. That is the wish of Mrs. Hamilton and I am going to vote accordingly, because when I go back this week I want her to have her arms wide open, instead of a rolling pin.

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I possibly am not in the same position as the gentlemen whose wives received the letter; my standing is a little different. However, I do think that we should consider this bill on its merits.

If we look over the United States, we find there are 42 of out 48 states that require the licensing of institutions and foster homes. As the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, has said, in one year over 63,000 children in our Commonwealth have been under child welfare and care.

The Department has had many discrepancies among some of these foster homes, which they have no way or method of remedying. Therefore, these bills were requested and I was very happy to introduce them, because I felt sold on the bills. I certainly do believe that we here as representatives of the people of this Commonwealth should consider the welfare of the children of this great state in order that we can make certain that those who are unfortunate and have a terrible home will be cared for properly.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1357, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 234), entitled "An act relating to Boarding Houses for Infants; providing for the licensing thereof and the adoption of rules and regulations for the maintenance, operation and conduct thereof; by the Department of Welfare; and fixing penalties," by redefining "boarding houses for infants"; eliminating license fees; and increasing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, perhaps the suggestion I have to offer is not in order at this time; the Chair could so rule.

Undoubtedly an effort will be made to reconsider the vote by which House Bill 1356 fell and I would, therefore, suggest to the leadership that until it has been determined whether House Bill 1356 will or will not be reconsidered and reestablished on the calendar, the other two bills go over in their order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar. The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1380, Printer's No. 642 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1431, entitled:

An Act providing for the licensure and regulation of commercial boarding homes for the aged; conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare; imposing license fees, and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities to establish and maintain common trust funds for the investment and reinvestment of the moneys of charitable uses or trusts the charge or administration of which has been committed to their care or of the estates of minors of which they may be guardians providing for the administration of funds so established and prescribing the nature and kinds of investments which may be made therein

Section 1 Any city of this Commonwealth now or hereafter charged with the administration of any charitable use or trust or of the estate of any minor of which it may be guardian may establish and maintain one or more common trust funds for the collective investment and reinvestment of the moneys of any such charitable use or trust or any such estate

Section 2 Such city may invest the moneys of the estate of any minor of which it is now or may hereafter become guardian in any common trust fund maintained by it provided the assets comprising such common trust fund consist solely of assets of the class authorized by law as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries

Section 3 If the instrument under which any real and personal property were or are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in confided to or awarded to the city upon charitable use or trust shall limit or restrict the investment of such property or the proceeds thereof to assets of the class authorized by law as legal investments the city may invest and reinvest moneys of the use or trust in any such common trust fund maintained by the city provided the assets composing such fund consists solely of assets of the class authorized as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries.

Section 4 If the instrument under which any real and personal property were or are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in confided to or awarded to the city upon charitable use or trust shall authorize or permit the investment of such property or the proceeds thereof assets of the class other than authorized by law as legal investments the city may invest and reinvest moneys of the use or trust in any such common trust fund maintained by the city composed of such investments as in the honest exercise of the judgment of the officers of the city charged with the administration of the charitable uses or trusts may after investigation be determined to be safe and proper investments otherwise such assets shall be invested and reinvested in a common trust fund consisting solely of assets of a class authorized as legal investments for funds held in fiduciaries

which it may be guardian in such common trust fund by adding the same thereto and by apportioning a participation therein to such use or trust or the estate of any minor of which it may be guardian in the proportion that the moneys of the use trust or estate added thereto bears to the aggregate value of all the assets of such common trust fund at the time of such investment including in such assets the moneys of the use trust or estate so added The withdrawal of a participation from such common trust fund shall be on a basis of its proportionate interest in the aggregate value of all the assets of such common trust fund at the time of such withdrawal The participating interest of any use trust or estate in such common trust funds may from time to time be withdrawn in whole or in part by the city Upon such withdrawals the city may make distribution in cash or ratably in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind Participations in such common trust funds shall not be sold to any other corporation or person except a nonprofit corporation organized and existing for a public charitable purpose

Section 6 If a bond or other obligation for the payment of money is acquired as an investment for any such common trust fund at a cost in excess of the par or maturity value thereof the city may during but not beyond the period that such obligation is held as an investment in such fund amortize such excess cost out of the income on such obligation by deducting from each payment of income and adding to principal an amount equal to the sum obtained by dividing such excess cost by the number of periodic payments of income to accrue on such obligation from the date of such acquisition until its maturity date

Section 7 The city shall designate clearly upon its records the names of the charitable uses or trust or of the estate of a minor on behalf of which such city as fiduciary owns a participation in any such common trust fund and the extent of the interest of the charitable use trust or minor estate therein No such use trust or estate shall be deemed to have individual ownership of any assets in such common trust fund but shall be deemed to have the proportionate undivided interest in the common trust fund The ownership of the individual assets comprising any such common trust fund shall be solely in the city as fiduciary

Section 8 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to to authorize the city to invest moneys of a charitable use or trust in any such common trust fund contrary to any specific limitation or restriction contained in the will deed or other instrument by which any real and personal property are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in the city upon charitable use or trust nor to limit or restrict the authority conferred upon the city with respect to investments by any such instrument

Section 9 No mistakes made in good faith and in the exercise of due care and prudence in connection with the administration of any such common trust fund shall be held to exceed any power granted to or violate any duty imposed upon the city if promptly after the discovery of the mistake the city takes whatever action that may be practicable under the circumstances to remedy the mistake

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities—Third Class for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 452, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of "Authorities" for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bond and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" by empowering Authorities to acquire by eminent domain certain capital stock of corporations of this Commonwealth owning projects in the event the Authority already owns ninety percent or more of such stock and by providing a procedure thereof

Section 1 The act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of "Authorities" for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain or such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" is hereby amended by adding immediately following section eleven a new section to read as follows

Section 11.1 Acquisition Of Capital Stock A In the event that the Authority shall own ninety percent or more of all the outstanding capital stock entitled to vote upon liquidation and dissolution and not subject by its terms to be called for redemption of any corporation organized and existing under the laws of this Commonwealth and owning a project the Authority shall have the power to acquire the remainder of such stock by eminent domain as a part of a plan for the liquidation of said corporation

B The right of eminent domain in respect of the remainder of such capital stock shall be exercised by the Authority in the following manner In the event that the Authority has not agreed with an owner of any of said capital stock as to the value thereof the Authority shall file with the court of Common Pleas of the county in which the corporation's principal place of business is located its bond for the benefit of said owner and of any other persons who may be found entitled to receive damages for the taking of said capital stock of which said owner shall be obligee the condition of which bond shall be that the Authority shall pay or cause to be paid to the owner of said stock or to such other persons as may be found entitled to receive damages for the taking of said capital stock such amount as the owner or such other persons shall be entitled to receive for the taking of such stock after such amount shall have been agreed upon the parties or assessed in the manner provided by paragraph D of this section Said bond shall be accompanied by proof that notice of the proposed filing was mailed by registered mail not less than ten days prior thereto to the owner of said stock at his address as shown by the records of the corporation Upon approval by the Court of the said bond the Authority shall be vested with all the right title and interest in and to said stock and said owner and all other persons shall thereupon cease to have any rights or interest with regard to said stock other than the right to compensation for the taking thereof under the procedure set forth in paragraph D of this section. The word "owner" as used in this paragraph B shall mean the person or persons in whose name or names the stock is registered on the books of the corporation.

C In the event that the Authority shall have contracted in writing to purchase ninety per cent or more of such outstanding capital stock it shall have the right to obtain the approval of the Court to the bond required by the provisions of paragraph B of this section but the said approval shall not be effective for the purposes of this section unless and until there is also filed with the Prothonotary of the said Court within ten days after said approval a sworn statement by the Chairman of the Board of the Authority duly attested by the Secretary thereof that the Authority has become the owner of ninety percent or more of such capital stock.

D If the Authority and the former owner of said stock fail to agree as to the amount which the said former owner is entitled to receive as compensation for the taking of said stock within thirty days after the approval of the bond by the said Court under the provisions of paragraph B of this section or the filing of the required statement under the provisions of paragraph C of this section either party may apply by petition to the said Court for the appointment by the Court of three disinterested persons to appraise the fair value of said stock immediately prior to the acquisition thereof by the Authority without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of such acquisition. The appraisers or a majority thereof shall file their award which shall include the costs of such appraisal with the Court and shall mail a copy thereof to each party with the date of filing stated thereon. When said award is filed with the Court the Prothonotary thereof shall mark the same "confirmed nisi" and in case no exceptions are filed thereto within ten days he shall enter a decree (as of course) that said award is confirmed absolutely. If exceptions to the award are filed by either party before the award is so confirmed the Court shall hear the same and shall have power to confirm modify change or otherwise correct the award or refer the same back to the same or new appraisers with like power as to their award. Within thirty days after the final confirmation modification changing or correcting of said award either party may appeal from said decree to the Superior Court or the Supreme Court as the case may be.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. STIMMEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 732, Printer's No. 406, on page 31 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 245, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section 2 of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 408), entitled, as amended "A supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act, entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine,' approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, amending the twenty-fourth section, by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign fire insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities, towns, townships and boroughs, within this Commonwealth," by providing for the return of funds if not used within a certain time by the political subdivisions for payment to the Department of the Auditor General to defray costs and expenses of auditing the fund and accounts receiving disbursements; restricting payments to firemen and their dependents.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DuBOIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, line 4 from top, by striking out the word "used" and inserting in lieu thereof "paid over".

Amend Title, page 2, lines 5, 6 and 7 from top, by striking out "payment" in line 5, all of line 6, and the words "expenses of" in line 7.

SENATE

TUESDAY, July 10, 1951.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. LEROY C. BRUMBAUGH, Pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Shamokin, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thou Who hast created us in Thine own image and likeness and breathed into our nostrils the breath of eternal life, we thank Thee for all Thy blessings in creation, for the beauty of the earth and sea and sky, for Thy manifold works and the wisdom with which Thou hast made them all, and given them to us for our enjoyment. We thank Thee that Thy providence is discernable unto us as we walk the common road of life and learn the lessons of each new day. Make us faithful stewards of all Thy blessings.

O God, Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and Thy dominion endureth throughout all generations. Regard in grace and mercy all servants of the public and those endowed with authority, especially the Members of this Senate. Fill them with the spirit of wisdom, goodness and truth, and so rule their hearts and bless their endeavors that law and order, justice and peace, may everywhere prevail. Preserve us from sin and corruption. Make us strong and great in the fear of God and in the love of righteousness. Make us reverent in the use of freedom, just in the exercise of power, generous in the protection of those who are weak, and faithful servants of Thine.

We thank Thee for our Country with its privileges and freedoms. We praise Thee for all who have consecrated themselves to her highest good. We bless Thee for the larger vision, for wider sympathy and the inspiration which makes for peace and good will among men. Use us as Thou dost choose, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Mr. HARE from the Committee on Education, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. SCARLETT, on January 15, 1951, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF ESTABLISHING A SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE AT PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

In the Senate, January 15, 1951.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College has an excellent agricultural curriculum but no school for the training of veterinarians; and

Whereas, Such a school of veterinary medicine would complement such existing outstanding curriculum and would prevent the youth of this Commonwealth who desire such higher education from being deprived of the opportunity to acquire the same; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study the feasibility of establishing a School of Veterinary Medicine at Pennsylvania State College; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall file a report of its finding and recommendations to the General Assembly at its next regular session by February one, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, together with drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry out the same.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, for the last four Sessions of the General Assembly I have been introducing a bill providing for the study, treatment and care of inebriates, creating a State fund for inebriates, establishing a board of trustees to administer the fund, conferring powers in order to help those who are alcoholic.

Mr. President, last evening in Pittsburgh, Governor Fine made a statement in which he said that the General Assembly had created a board, the Liquor Board, and that we were encouraging people to become drunkards and doing nothing about it. I am sorry the Governor has not kept in touch with the Legislature over the years, or he would have found out that we, at least some of us, were trying to do something for the alcoholics which are created by our monopoly Liquor Control Board. So, in answer to his pleas for us of the General Assembly to do something for the alcoholics, Mr. President, I present to the Chair the following bill for the study, treatment and care of inebriates which are caused by the liquor which the State sells.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act providing for the study, treatment, and care of inebriates; creating a State Fund for Inebriates; establishing a board of trustees to administer the fund; conferring powers; and imposing duties upon such board; and providing for the commitment of inebriates to the custody of the board.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. LEADER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 786, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 1023 of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subect matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by prohibiting the placing or leaving of certain dangerous objects on highways.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Resolution No. 34 and ask that it be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 17, 1951.

Whereas, There are now on Pennsylvania farms dairy animals, poultry and general livestock worth in the aggregate more than $412,000,000, producing approximately 75 per cent of the total annual income of Pennsylvania agriculture or in monetary terms about $575,000,000, a year; and

Whereas, The greatest economic losses to the dairy, poultry and general livestock industry are occasioned by the inroads of animal diseases and parasites; and

Whereas, Existing facilities for training persons qualified for the practice of veterinary medicine within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are inadequate to meet the existing and still growing need for doctors of veterinary medicine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College by virtue of its scientific personnel; its resources for research; its close working relationship with dairy, poultry and general livestock raisers throughout the State and its physical location is the appropriate institution to develop the needed facilities; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the members of the General Assembly hereby request the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College to authorize the establishment of a school of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College and at the earliest possible time to erect such buildings; employ such personnel and establish such programs of research and instruction as in their judgment are required to the proper maintenance and operation of such a school of veterinary medicine; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly hereby pledge their support in obtaining the funds required to construct and to equip essential research, instructional, clinical, and administrative buildings for a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College, and for the operation and maintenance of the proposed School of Veterinary Medicine; it being understood, however, that funds cannot be appropriated for such buildings and their maintenance at the 1951 Session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the understanding and intention of the members of the General Assembly that funds ultimately appropriated for the construction and equipment of such buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of such a School of Veterinary Medicine shall be in addition to the amount appropriated at that time for the general operation and maintenance of the Pennsylvania State College as then constituted; and be it further

Resolved, That the trustees of the Pennsylvania State College be requested to prepare and to present to the members of th 1953 Session of the General Assembly specific and detailed information concerning the nature and estimated cost of requisite buildings and equipment, and also an estimate of the annual expense involved in the operation and maintenance of a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College under conditions which, in the judgment of the said trustees, would best meet the reasonable needs of the Commonwealth and its citizens for such veterinary medical service; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House send a copy of this resolution to the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments at this time.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "That" the words "the members of"; amend page 2, lines 2 and 3, by striking out the words "request the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College to" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "directs the Joint State Government Commission"; amend page 3, line 10, by striking out the words "prepare and"; amend page 3, lines 10 to 11, by striking out the words "the members of the 1953 Session of"; amend page 3, line 11, by inserting after the word "Assembly" the following: "at its next regular session"; amend page 3, lines 15 and 16, by striking out the words "under conditions which in the judgment of the said trustees" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "which"; amend page 3, lines 17 and 18, by striking out the words "and be it further"; amend page 3 by striking out all of the lines 19 and 20.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution as amended?

RESOLUTION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I request that House Resolution No. 34, as amended, be laid on the table.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. CROWE, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 10, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, July 16, 1951, at two o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, July 16, 1951, at three-thirty o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO
HOUSE BILL No. 160

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 160, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 198) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" by conferring upon said court certain jurisdiction in the trial of criminal causes and suits for penalties granting powers to said court for trial of such causes and suits

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 680

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 680, entitled:

An Act to further amend Sections 4 and 5 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596), entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions," by increasing the amount of pension in certain cases, increasing the contributions required from certain employes and establishing certain minimum and maximum pensions.

PRESENTATION OF WEDDING GIFT TO SENATOR AND MRS. KEPHART

Mr. MEADE. Mr. President, may I have the opportunity to make a few remarks at this time during this hiatus?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Meade, may proceed.

Mr. MEADE. Mr. President, I chose this microphone because it is very close to Senator Kephart, and what I have to say pertains to him in particular. For several Sessions I have had the pleasure and the opportunity to accompany and ride with Senator Kephart to and from Harrisburg. However, two weeks ago I tried to locate Senator Kephart and I tried very very hard without avail. I later came to Harrisburg and learned that Senator Kephart had left the group of players known as the "Keppie Players," and also the group of fishermen, the Isaac Waltons, and I learned through the Governor's Office that he had joined the guild of the benedicts, that he had stepped away from that dreamy land of fishing into the land of pure endeavor for the heart of a bride and as consolation they gave me, the Members of this Senate, the opportunity to make the presentation of a gift to the Senator and his bride.

Mr. President, it is with great pleasure and honor that I now present this gift to Senator Kephart.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair commiserates with Senatore Meade in his loss of transportation and congratulates Senator Kephart in his new status.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, as to the remarks of Senator Meade with respect to accompanying me to Harrisburg, may I say that I did come up with Senator Meade, but I was just his chauffeur. As far as giving up my membership in the two organizations that the Senator spoke about, I think most of the Members of the Senate know very well that I am not going to do that.

Mr. President, seriously, on behalf of Mrs. Kephart and myself, I wish to thank all the Members of the Senate for this gift and we deeply appreciate it. Thank you very much.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read an editorial and make a brief statement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, may proceed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, last Friday in Pittsburgh the Pittsburgh Press carried a very interesting editorial called "The Grand Jury and Mayor Lawrence," and I quote:

"If Pittsburgh's City officials are as negligent and venal as the County Special Grand Jury charges, then the City is in a bad way.

"But Pittsburghers would do well to withhold their final opinion until all the evidence is in. The presentment of the Grand Jury recommends indictment, among others, of six city officials.

"A regular Grand Jury will decide on indictments. If it indicts, trial juries will decide the truth or falsity of the charges.

"The Grand Jury made specific charges against some of these officials.

"But as to Mayor Lawrence, the charges appear to rest only on the ground that he should have known of the acts alleged against City employes.

"There is no allegation in the presentment that Mayor Lawrence, himself, did anything wrong, or that the City's contract for street lighting with the Broadway Maintenance Corp. was fraudulent.

"The jurors merely assert that the Mayor should have known that City employes in his Administration were not enforcing terms of the contract. On that, they base their charge of misdemeanor.

"By the same reasoning, the Governor of Pennsylvania could have been held responsible for the scandal in the GI trade schools which milked the Veterans' Administration of millions of dollars.

"On that theory, President Truman could be held criminally responsible for offenses of minor Federal officials, and—human nature being what it is—almost any top public official could be prosecuted for the acts of some venal payroller.

"In this connection, the Grand Jury's own presentment contains a curious contradiction.

"It denounces Mayor Lawrence on the ground that "the waste of public funds cannot be excused on the basis of reliance upon subordinates."

"But it praises City Solicitor Anne X. Alpern, the immediate superior of Assistant City Solicitor Leo I. Shapiro, who are accused of accepting bribes.

"We make it plain that she knew nothing about the dereliction of Mr. Shapiro, the Grand Jury explained. It is obvious that her trust and confidence in Mr. Shapiro has been shamefully —

"In other words: Miss Alpern may be excused for not knowing, and Mr. Lawrence may not.

"The special investigation in Allegheny County was started last year by a personal and political enemy of the Mayor, then serving temporarily as Attorney General—Charles J. Margiotti.

"Mr. Margiotti tried the same tactics 12 years ago in a special investigation of the State Administration of Governor George H. Earle. He obtained the indictment of Mr. Lawrence on two different charges, only to see him declared innocent after two costly court trials.

"The present head of the special prosecutors handling the Grand Jury probe is an appointee of Mr. Margiotti, Deputy Attorney General W. Denning Stewart.

"The law courts are no place for the grinding of personal axes or the achievement of personal vengeance. And a special Grand Jury investigation, to be effective, must be free of such influences.

"If the Grand Jury reached too far to include defendants against whom there is no real evidence, it has done a disservice to the law it was sworn to uphold."

Mr. President, I would like to draw to the attention of the Senate that twenty years ago in Pittsburgh a Mayor was indicted. A Republican Mayor was convicted of buying a rug that cost three thousand dollars. At that time the jury stated that this was a terrible price, an exorbitant price to pay for a rug, but it seems that the rug he bought, no official in public office ever secured a better buy. The rug at the present time is still in the Mayor's Office, and only last week it was sent out and cleaned and came out as good as new. So, divide three thousand dollars by twenty years and I think it was the cheapest rug that any poor Mayor was indicted and convicted for buying. They said it was illegal because it was not done in the regular form of bidding, but I think that Mayor Kline, whom I have reference to, certainly made a wonderful purchase of a rug. He later was indicted and convicted for malfeasance and misfeasance in office.

Mr. President, I would also like to point out that the present Grand Jury probe in Pittsburgh is costing around a thousand dollars a day. Now, they have recessed the Grand Jury probe for the summer, but I understand that the pay of the Special Grand Jury special prosecutors still goes on.

Mr. President, in this prosecution we have the son of a very famous woman in Pittsburgh who is really the symbol of righteousness, Mrs. Templeton Smith, who is always against sin, a very fine upstanding woman in that way, and I might add that Mrs. Templeton Smith was very instrumental in getting Judge or rather Mayor Kline indicted for the rug that he bought. It seems that she cannot get along with anyone. It is not only politics she cannot get along with, but she cannot get along with her own family, because recently somebody died in her own family, and the brothers and sisters all sued each other to see who would get the money. So I have my own ideas of Mrs. Templeton Smith, who is trying to clean up the City of Pittsburgh. It is just a case of a frustrated old lady who would like to be Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and who tries to keep her name in the paper.

Mr. President, I want to particularly point out that it is costing the taxpayers one thousand dollars a day, and I think it is about time that—I have confidence in the Attorney General of this State, and I want to state here that I personally, and I think the other people of Pittsburgh are not trying to stop justice, but I do not think justice in this case is being served. I think real enmity and grudges are being dragged through the courts at the cost of the taxpayers, and in the indictment I might add, too, that in some way leaks are coming out of the Grand Jury. Newspapermen in Pittsburgh are being slipped what is being done in the Grand Jury, and everyone knows it should be completely secret. There have been mysterious telephone calls being made that conflicts the thing and accusations of jury fixing and so forth. Now, all of these things are rumors but they are rumors which are going to be used for political purposes. I do not think the people of Pennsylvania should be paying a thousand dollars a day for a political campaign. If anyone is guilty, I would be the first to see that they be convicted and sentenced to jail, but I think in this case it is not a case of trying to get guilty persons but trying to make political issues and to smear and destroy the honor and integrity of not only the men whose names appeared, but also of their families, and I think today it is about time that we in politics step up and stop those who want to destroy everybody in politics by smear. If it is the truth, we want to hear it, but if it is just hearsay or smear or hatred or frustration of old ladies who are sore because they cannot get elected as district committeeman, then I think it is time for us to stop this type of presecution. The inquisition should be over. I think that we should put politics on a scale that is above reproach, and I believe that if we do not, no one is going to go into politics because they will fear the type of smear that is now being held under the guise of a grand jury investigation in the City of Pittsburgh.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to make a few remarks, not in answer to but in explanation of some of the remarks made by my colleague from Allegheny County. I know Mrs. Templeton Smith certainly needs no defense in Allegheny County, but unfortunately at the present moment she is not a Member of the Senate and therefore cannot personally reply to the gentleman from Allegheny. I hope some day to live long enough to see it, too, that those of us in public office so conduct ourselves that like Caesar's wife we would be above suspicion. I resent just as much as my colleague the implication always or sometimes spread abroad that a public official is two degrees lower than a numbers writer.

Mr. President, I want to say with regard to Mrs. Templeton Smith I disagree violently with what Senator Holland says about her. I think she has made a real contribution to civic betterment. I do not always agree with her conclusions, but I certainly will fight for her right to have her own conclusions and her own opinions. I wish that there were thousands of women in my district like Mrs. Smith because she is ever alert, whether friend or foe, to see to it that you try to measure up to the responsibilities of public office.

I might say to Senator Holland that it so happens that Mrs. Smith reside in my Senatorial District, and she happens to be a Republican Committeewoman in the district. With regard to the psychological complaint suggested by Senator Holland, I am not a psychiatrist and I do not propose to diagnose or recommend a treatment. I merely say to Senator Holland that I do not agree with what he said, and I think she has made contributions to the betterment of the City and County. With regard to her being Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, I can readily understand that Senator Holland would not want his public life ruled as he and I have our private lives ruled. If Mrs. Smith wants to be the Chief Executive of a municipality, we cannot dictate to the City of Pittsburgh, and would certainly welcome her out in Oakmont. We like energetic and active people out there in that little country town, and while commenting on Senator Holland's remarks, when he introduced a bill awhile ago he made a general statement in which he was repeating from memory a quotation from the Governor's speech in Pittsburgh last night. For purpose of the record I would like to read the paragraph indirectly referred to by Senator Holland, because, I know Senator Holland would appreciate it if we had the verbatim report on the record rather than depending on his memory at this point. I read from the mimeographed copy of the second address of the Governor, which was delivered last night in the City of Pittsburgh, and I am reading the paragraph on page 5 of this printed record. The paragraph, Senator Holland, reads as follows:

"Likewise there is little common sense used in eliminating the one hundred fifty thousand dollars I recommended to rehabilitate the alcoholics. It is unthinkable that a State which receives $163,000,000 income biennially from alcoholic beverages could refuse to give one cent to save the human derelicts it helped to create. It is false economy to promote human miseries."

So, Senator Holland can reconcile himself to the fact that as far as this particular phase of legislative responsibility is concerned, he and Governor Fine are seeing eye to eye.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and received unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I just got a copy of this, and I would like to repeat what it says.

"I hold in my hand a chart which shows receipts from alcoholic beverages to be 19.8 per cent of our income. It amounts to approximately $163,000,000 of our biennial income. Yet, despite this tremendous income, the Legislature has so far refused a requested meager $150,000 to cure alcoholics it helped to create."

So, I cannot read it any other way. In other words, we the Legislators created the alcoholics, according to Governor Fine.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. Walker asked and received unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that is one of the nice things about having the Bible printed in so many languages. There are so many different interpretations.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until four o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL No. 77 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence, House Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two thousand one hundred three of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "Third Class City Law," by further regulating the organization, hours of service, vacations and sick leaves of firemen.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill as amended, will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SILVERT, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 746, entitled:

An Act requiring water companies supplying water to cities, boroughs, towns, and townships to treat the same with sodium fluoride under certain conditions.

He also, from the Committee on Corporations re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 319, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 507) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" by providing for the method of valuation taxable shares of stock in any regulated investment company

SENATE RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO ERECT MONUMENT TO UNKNOWN REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER IN VALLEY FORGE PARK

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. RUTH and WOLFE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 10, 1951.

The tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington is an eloquent and majestic expression of the reverence and the appreciation held in the heart of every American for the heroic and the sacrificial service of our soldiers during World War I.

Is it not fitting that a similar memorial be dedicated to the unknown soldiers who fell at Valley Forge and were buried in unmarked and unhonored graves?

Comparison of various services beyond the call of duty is an impossible and unworthy task. Yet the tale of starvation, disease, the hardships of a rigorous and pitiless winter, and the magnificent fortitude of stout hearted men who fought unquestioningly in the face of problematic success is one to quicken the pulse, to impart a patriotic glow, and impossible to parallel anywhere in the annals of military exploits, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to erect in Valley Forge Park an enduring monument to the hallowed memory of the Unknown Revolutionary soldier to serve as an inspiration to all Americans, to remind them of the sacrifice and the devotion that were a prelude to their liberties, and to stir our living American youth to emulate the dramatic heroism of their forgotten forefathers.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE from the Committee on Agriculture, reported as committed, House Bill No. 186, entitled:

An Act to add Section 2.1 to the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1652) entitled "An act relating to the propagation and growth of nut trees and other trees bearing crops excluding our present commercial fruit trees in this Commonwealth providing for the appointment qualifications term and compensation of an Expert Trees Crops Advisor prescribing his powers and duties imposing and conferring certain powers and duties on the Secretary of Agriculture in respect thereto and making an appropriation" by authorizing the Pennsylvania State College to undertake the development of a research program for certain purposes and making an appropriation therefor

L. 334) are hereby amended or further amended to read as follows

Section 410 Uniform Policy Provisions No policy of life or endowment insurance except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener shall hereafter be [issued or] delivered [by any stock or mutual life insurance company] in this Commonwealth unless it contains in substance the following provisions or provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are more favorable to the policyholder

(a) A provision that all premiums shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by one or more of the officers of the company who shall be named in the policy

(b) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace either of thirty days or one month within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made subject at the option of the company to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before the payment of the premium during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year if any are paid the amount of such premiums with interest on any overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured two years from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums [and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of the company] and that at the option of the company provisions relative to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted

(d) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(e) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages

(f) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the third policy-year the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled to elect such option shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash or applied [to the payment of premium or the purchase of paid up additions to the policy as the policyholder] in accordance with any one of such other dividend options as may be provided by the policy [may elect] If any such other dividend options are provided the policy shall further state which option shall be automatically effective if such party shall not have elected some other option

In lieu of the foregoing provisions the policy may contain a provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the fifth policy-year the company will determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto shall have the right to have the current dividend arising from such participation paid in cash and that at periods of not more than five years thereafter such apportionment and payment at the option of [the policyholder] such party shall be had

Renewable term policies of ten years or less may provide that the surplus accruing to such policies shall be determined and apportioned each year after the second policy-year and accumulated during each renewal period and that at the end of any renewal period or renewal of the policy by the insured the company shall apply the accumulated surplus as an annuity for the next succeeding renewal term in the reduction of premiums

(g) A provision specifying the options if any to which the policy-holder is entitled in the event of default in a premium payment

(h) A provision for a loan value at any time [while the policy is in force] after three full years' premiums have been paid and while no premium is in default beyond the grace period for payment

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Nonforfeiture Law) it shall be provided that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the whole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto and that the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy-year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy-year which provision may further provide that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made A company may in lieu of the provision hereinabove permitted for the deduction from a loan on the policy of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that one-fifth of the entire reserve may be deducted in case of a loan under the policy or may provide therein that the deduction may be the said two and one-half per centum or the one-fifth of the said entire reserve at the option of the company

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) [it shall be provided] the loan provision shall provide that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto less than the cash surrender value at the end of the current policy year as required by section four hundred and ten A of this act and that the company [will] may deduct from such loan value (in addition to any indebtedness deducted in determining such value) any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year The company shall reserve the right to defer such loan except any made to pay premiums to the company for six months after application therefor is made This subsection (h) shall not apply to term insurance

(i) A provision for a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be provided in event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three years which shall secure to the owner of the policy a stipulated form of insurance the net value of which shall be at least equal to the reserve at the date of default on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto specifying the mortality table and rate of interest adopted for computing such reserves less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any existing dividend additions thereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy Such provision shall stipulate that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from date of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid and may stipulate that the company may defer payment for not more than six (6) months after the application therefor is made This provision shall not be required in term insurance of twenty years or less

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section

(j) table showing in figures the loan value if any and the options if any available under the policy each year upon default in premium payments during at least the first twenty years of the policy and if the proceeds of the policy are payable in installments [or as an annuity] which are determinable prior to maturity of the policy a table showing the amount of the [installment or annuity payment] guaranteed installments

(k) A provision that the holder of a policy shall be entitled to have the policy reinstated upon written application therefor at any time within three years from the date of default in premium payments unless the policy has been duly surrendered or the extension period expired upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per centum per annum compounded annually

(l) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to single premium or non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein Provided however That the policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by laws of the state or government under which the company is organized and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth may when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in policies [issued] delivered therein A clause in any policy of life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause

Section 410A Standard Non-Forfeiture Law (a) In the case of policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined in subsection (g) no policy of life insurance except as stated in subsection (f) shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder

* * * * *

(6) A statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary [with] beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy a statement that the cash surrender values and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits available under the policy are not less than the minimum values and benefits required by or pursuant to any statute of the state in which the policy is delivered an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the company on the policy and if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may to the extent inapplicable be omitted from the policy

The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of six months after demand therefore with surrender of the policy

* * * * *

(d) The adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards that the present value at the date of issue of the policy of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy (ii) two per cent of the amount of insurance if the insurance be uniform in amount or of the equivalent uniform amount as herein-after defined if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy (iii) forty per cent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year (iv) twenty-five per cent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole [of] life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance whichever is less Provided however That in applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent (4%) of the amount of insurance or level amount equivalent thereto The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subsection shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy the equivalent [level] uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this

subsection shall be deemed to be the level amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy containing the same endowment benefit or benefits if any issued at the same age and for the same term the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the [inception of the insurance] date of issue as the benefits under the policy Provided however That in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for ordinary insurance and the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table for industrial insurance and the rate of interest not exceeding three and one-half per centum (3½%) per annum specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits Provided however That in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment if any offered as a non-forfeiture benefit the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty per centum (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table Provided further That for insurance issued on a substandard basis the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the Insurance Commissioner

(e) Any cash surrender value and any paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond [the last preceding policy anniversary] the beginning of the policy year in which the default occurs All values referred to in subsections (b) (c) and (d) may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death The net value of any paid-up additions other than paid-up term additions shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) additional benefits payable (i) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means (ii) in the event of total and permanent disability (iii) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits (iv) as [decreasing] term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which if issued as a separate policy this section would not apply and (v) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits and premiums for all such additional benefits shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and non-forfeiture benefits required by this section and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up non-forfeiture benefits

Section 7 The first paragraph and the last four paragraphs of Section 410 B of said act as added by the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1116) are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 10 Section 420 of said act as amended by the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 149) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420 Exchange Alteration and Conversion of Policies Any life insurance company may at the request of a policyholder exchange alter or correct any policy of life or endowment insurance or annuity policy contract or any other policy benefits additional thereto issued by it for or into any policy [conforming (a)] which conforms with the laws in force [when the first mentioned policy was issued if the rewritten policy bears the date thereof or (b) with the laws in force when said exchange alteration or conversion is effected if the rewritten policy bears a then current date Provided however If such rewritten policy bears the date of said original policy] on the date of the original policy if the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective as of such date or which conforms with the laws in force on a subsequent date as of which the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective If the rewritten policy is made effective as of a date earlier than the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs (a) the rewritten policy If evidence of insurability is required in conjunction with an exchange alteration or conversion to a policy on a plan requiring a lower premium rate or to a policy to which benefits or features are added differing from those in the original policy may provide that the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs shall be used in determining the applicability of an incontestability clause in the rewritten policy to the right of the company to contest such exchange alteration or conversion or in determining the applicability of a clause in the rewritten policy limiting liability in the event of suicide of the insured and (b) the amount of insurance under said rewritten policy shall not exceed the amount of insurance under said original policy or the amount of insurance which the premium paid for the original policy would have purchased if the rewritten policy had been originally applied for whichever amount is the greater Nothing contained in section three hundred and forty-six or in clause (c) of section four hundred and eleven of this act shall be construed as prohibiting any such exchange alteration or conversion of policies as provided by this section

Section 11 Section 420C of said act as amended by the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 334) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420C Uniform Industrial Policy Provisions [From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no] No policy of industrial insurance shall be [issued or] delivered [to take effect] in this Commonwealth [or be issued by a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth] unless the same shall contain in substance the following provisions

(a) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace of four (4) weeks within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made except that where premiums are payable monthly the insured shall be entitled to a grace of one month or 30 days. During such period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during said grace period before the overdue premiums are paid the amount of overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

(b) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the life-time of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premium [and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to naval or military service in time of war and except as to provisions and conditions] and that at the option of the company provisions relating to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and those granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted.

(d) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages.

(e) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that the company will annually determine the portion of any divisible surplus accruing on the policy and indicating the conditions under which the company shall apportion such dividends to the policyholder or the party entitled thereto.

(f) A provision for a non-forfeiture and cash surrender value.

(1) In the case of any policy prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be available in event of default in premium payments after premiums have been paid for three full years and shall be a stipulated form of insurance effective from the due date of the defaulted premium the net value of which stipulated form of insurance shall not be less than the reserve on the policy (exclusive of reserves if any for provisions relating to benefits in the event of specific types of disability or provisions granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident and for provisions granting other benefits in addition to life insurance) at the end of the last completed quarter of the policy year for which premiums have been paid and on any dividend additions thereto if any (the policy to specify the mortality table and rate of interest and also the method of valuation if other than net level premium adopted for computing such reserves) less a specified maximum percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of dividend additions thereto if any and less any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy. Provided however That the said percentage or other rule of calculation so stated as to permit determination of the value shall be specified for each year for which required values are not included in the policy. And provided A company may in lieu of the provision herein permitted for the deduction from the reserve of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that a deduction of one-fifth of said reserve may be made or said two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured or one-fifth of said reserve at the option of the company. Provided further That after premiums have been paid for five full years the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within four weeks of the due date of the defaulted premium for a specific cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid. And provided further That the company may defer payment of such cash value for not more than six months after application therefor is made. In the event that such cash or other non-forfeiture value is not requested within the required period it shall be provided that a stipulated form of insurance shall automatically become effective.

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section.

(g) A table showing in figures the non-forfeiture options available under the policy at the end of each year upon default in premium payments during the premium payment period but not to exceed the first twenty (20) years of the policy and providing that the company will furnish upon request an extension of such table beyond the years shown in the policy.

(h) A provision that the policy if not surrendered for its cash value or if the period of extended insurance has not expired may be reinstated upon written application therefor within one year from the date of default in payment of premiums upon payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy and at the option of the company interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum compounded annually and upon the presentation of evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured.

(i) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death.

(j) A form number and title on the face of the policy clearly and correctly describing its form.

Any such policy may be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the policyholder than hereinbefore required. The policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any other state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by the laws of the state or government under which the company is organized not contrary to the provisions heretofore prescribed and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country may contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in the policies [issued] delivered therein.

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and the provisions of this section shall not apply to policies issued or granted pursuant to the non-forfeiture provisions prescribed in [subsection] clause (f) of this section. A clause in any policy of industrial life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause.

RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 296, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 589) entitled as amended "An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for the examination and licensure of those who desire to engage in the occupation of barbering regulating barber shops and barber schools and apprentices and students therein regulating compensation for service rendered conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Public Instruction and providing penalties" by changing the provisions as to fees charged apprentices and students and as to the powers of municipalities removing the limitation on the payment of wages to apprentices and transferring the administration of several provisions of this act to the State Board of Barber Examiners

Section 1 Section 3 of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 589) entitled as amended "An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for the examination and licensure of those who desire to engage in the occupation of barbering regulating barber shops and barber schools and apprentices and students therein regulating compensation for service rendered conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Public Instruction and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 279) and amended in part by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 862) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 (a) Any person not holding a certificate of registration under the provisions of the preceding section and desiring to obtain a license under this act shall make application under oath or affirmation in such form as the [department] State Board of Barber Examiners hereinafter referred to as the board shall prescribe Such application shall be accompanied by an affidavit which shall be made by a practicing physician and shall set forth that the applicant was examined that a test of his or her blood was made and that he or she is free from all contagious and infectious disease is a citizen of the United States or has filed a declaration of intention. The applicant at the time of filing such application and affidavit shall pay to the department an examination fee of five dollars or such other fee as may be fixed by the [department] board and shall present himself or herself at the next examination of applicants as hereinafter provided. The [department] board shall thereupon proceed to examine such person after being satisfied that he or she is above the age of sixteen years free from contagious and infectious disease has a certificate showing graduation from an eighth grade school or its equivalent and has either (1) studied the occupation for a period of two years covering a period of at least two thousand five hundred (2500) hours as a registered apprentice under a qualified and practicing barber as hereinafter provided or (2) studied the occupation and trained as a registered student in a registered and properly appointed and conducted barber school under the instruction of a registered teacher for a period of at least nine months and served at least fifteen months covering a period of at least one thousand two hundred fifty (1250) hours as an apprentice with a registered barber. Under no circumstances shall a student [or apprentice] receive wages directly or indirectly for service rendered. If the [department] board is satisfied as a result of the examination the applicant is possessed of requisite skill in said occupation to properly perform all the duties thereof including his or her knowledge and ability in the antiseptic preparation of tools shaving hair cutting and all the duties and services incident thereto and is possessed of sufficient knowledge concerning the common diseases of the face and skin to avoid the aggravation and spreading thereof in the practice of said occupation and the knowledge of the Barber's Licensing Laws and rules and regulations of the department adopted thereunder it shall enter his or her name in the register hereinafter provided for and shall issue a certificate of registration to him or her authorizing him or her to practice such occupation or to teach in registered barber schools as the case may be. Any person holding a certificate as a teacher may practice as a barber in any registered barber shop.

(b) Any person who has been honorably discharged from service with the armed forces of the United States and who takes an examination for licensure under the provisions of this act shall have ten per centum added to his or her examination score.

(c) Any person registered as an apprentice barber prior to induction into the armed forces of the United States may be admitted to an examination for licensure under the provisions of this act upon presentation of his or her certificate of honorable discharge from such service within one year from date thereof.

(d) For any person to be registered as a teacher in a barber school he must be at least twenty-three years of age a graduate from an approved high school or its equivalent and have had at least five years' experience as a registered barber in a registered barber shop in the State of Pennsylvania. The examination for a teacher's certificate shall differ from the examination for a barber's certificate in that it shall be of a more exacting nature and require higher standards of knowledge of the practice and theories of barbering including ability to teach properly the various practices and theories of barbering physiology hygiene elementary chemistry relating to sterilization and antiseptics massaging and manipulating the muscles of the face neck scalp hair cutting bobbing shaving and trimming the beard dyeing the hair and the barber laws of this State and the rules and regulations adopted by the [department] and advisory committee.  Section 3 Section eight hundred eleven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2329) is further amended by adding thereto after clause (i) a new clause to read as follows

* * * * *

(j) Every commercial motor vehicle and every combination of a commercial motor vehicle and trailer or of a truck tractor and semi-trailer when used on a highway shall be equipped with brakes having an aggregate braking surface of not less than one (1) square inch for each fifty-five (55) pounds of maximum gross weight allowed by section nine hundred three of this act

Section 4 Said act is further amended by adding thereto after section eight hundred twenty-one a new section to read as follows

Section 821.1 Minimum Engine Capacity Every commercial motor vehicle and every combination of a commercial motor vehicle and trailer or of a truck tractor and semi-trailer when used on a highway shall be equipped with an engine capable of propelling such vehicle or combination up a grade of two percentum (2%) at a speed of not less than twenty (20) miles per hour when such vehicle or combination is loaded to the maximum gross weight allowed by section nine hundred three of this act

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

(1) A variance of five per centum (5%) over the several maximum weights allowed by the foregoing clauses of this section shall be permitted for all purposes and no penalty for violation of this section shall be imposed for such variance provided however that no variance shall be permitted for the combination of a truck-tractor and two-axle semi-trailer or for a pair of axles less than seventy-two (72) inches apart [maximum gross weight provided in this section are permissible only under conditions where no other restrictions are provided in this act or in any other laws regulating the gross maximum weight of vehicles]

Penalty Any person operating any vehicle upon any highway with a gross weight exceeding by more than five (5) per centum the maximum gross weight allowed and not exceeding by more than ten (10) per centum the maximum gross weight allowed shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five ($25) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days and any person operating any vehicle on any highway with a gross weight exceeding by more than ten (10) per centum the maximum gross weight allowed shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty ($50) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days]

Penalties

Subject to the provisions of clause (i) of this section any person operating any vehicle or combination of vehicles upon a highway in violation of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine according to the following schedule

For violating clause (a) (b) (c) or (d) of this section the fine shall be one hundred ($100) dollars plus two ($2) dollars for each one hundred (100) pounds or part thereof by which the gross weight of the vehicle or combination of vehicles exceeds the maximum gross weight allowed therefor exclusive of the variance permitted by clause (i) but inclusive of a variance of three thousand one hundred (3100) pounds

Provided that no variance of any amount shall be permitted for the combination of truck-tractor and two-axle semi-trailer

For violating clause (f) without violating clause (a) (b) (c) or (d) of this section the fine shall be twenty-five ($25) dollars

For violating clause (g) of this section the fine shall be twenty-five ($25) dollars

Any fine and costs of prosecution imposed pursuant to this section may upon order of the magistrate be enforced by impounding of the vehicle or combination of vehicles until such fine and costs be paid Violation of this section by any person shall not affect his operating privilege or his privilege to apply for an operator's license or learner's permit under any other section of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I find that there is considerable misunderstanding among Members of this Senate and particularly the motoring public, about Senate Bill No. 615, better known as the Big Truck Bill.

This bill, Senate Bill No. 615, should be given very careful consideration by each and every one of us, for it affects the entire highways system of this Commonwealth.

From all indications it appears that a highly organized minority is endeavoring to take advantage of the unorganized majority. As Senators, it is our duty to pass legislation that will do the greatest good for the greatest number of people. Senate Bill No. 615 does not meet these standards.

Senate Bill No. 615 is exclusively a big truckers bill. These big truckers are a minority, they represent 5 per cent of all trucks and only 1 per cent of all motor vehicles registered in Pennsylvania. During 1950 there were registered in this State 484,549 trucks. The owners of about 25,000 of these are the ones who want this bill. But there were also 2,575,219 passenger cars registered. This is the group in which I am interested.

I drive the highways daily. Like you, I know their conditions; I know the inconvenience and dangers of modern driving. Since all of you are also highway users, it is needless for me to go into detail. You can all vividly recall those dangers and inconveniences.

If the average motorist learns what the highly organized minority is attempting to bring about by passage of this bill, this Senate would be flooded with protests and besieged with angry motorists voicing their opposition. The present public apathy is explained by the fact that there has been little attempt to expose the favoritism in this bill. I sincerely hope that my statements here today will convert this apathy into vigorous public opposition, which will assure defeat of this bill.

There are many rumors that the big truckers and the railroads are trying to iron out their differences in this measure. If Mr. Motorist does not soon rise to protest this bill he may find that the two giant transportation interests have taken over the public highways at the public's expense. At no time, as far as I know, has Mr. Motorist been consulted, even though he has the major interest in the cost of highways.

Since the pleasure car driver foots the biggest part of our highway bill, as long as I am a Member of this Senate, I shall endeavor to see that his interests are fully protected and that he gets fair play.

When this bill was introduced, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association ran ads in every paper in the State with the heading: "At last, a Safe and Sane Truck Bill, a Fair Truck Bill," and set forth the reasons why they said that Senate Bill No. 615 should pass. Are we to judge from this that bills previously sponsored by the Trucking Association and soundly defeated in this Chamber time and again—were unfair and insane? If this is correct, I charge the trucking industry with bad faith on this bill.

This bill increases the limits of the gross weight of a truck and tandem-axle trailer combination from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds. On this basis alone, I accuse this industry of attempting to mislead again the public, for every school child knows that the greater the load, the greater the damage, and the greater the danger to our bridges and to our motorists.

The big truckers also attempt to appease Mr. Motorist by promising fewer truck-caused tie-ups on hills. The provisions of this bill require power enough to go up a two per cent grade at 20 miles per hour. But the average profile highway grade in this State is five per cent. I consider this sort of reasoning an insult to the intelligence of the average motorist.

The big truckers also advertise that the bill requires that trucks have adequate brakes. I am informed by certain members of the Pennsylvania State Police that both of these sections will be difficult, if not impossible to enforce. It will be the responsibility of the manufacturer to say that his vehicles will meet these requirements. No manufacturer is going to condemn his own products.

Let's see if this bill is sane. Yes, it is economically sane for the big truckers, but not for the State. While there are provisions for slight increases in registration fees, these apply largely to heavy-weight vehicles. And, as a matter of fact, the State stands to lose $315,000 a year. The 5400 vehicles which are now registered in the "Z" class at a higher fee will be registered in "Y" class at a lower fee at a loss to the State of $315,000. Again I accuse the big truckers of not dealing in good faith, for the trucks affected are those most commonly used to make up these huge monsters that pound our highways today.

Since this bill was drafted by the trucking industry, I suppose it is natural that they have thoroughly protected their interests. If you analyze this bill, you will find that the big truckers have done a good job—for themselves.

It seems to me that the average motorist is concerned about damage to his bridges and highways and whether the big truckers are getting a cheap ride at his expense.

Everyone knows that our highways are being pounded to pieces by these huge highway trailers. To offset conflicting opinions on the cause of highway damage, our own State Highway Department, together with eleven other State Highway Departments and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, recently conducted a highway test in Maryland, which all of us have heard or read about. The preliminary reports of this test include this statement: "Increased frequencies of heavy loadings on paving surfaces will seriously disrupt the functioning of highly essential highways."

Part of the Maryland Road test had to be stopped because the truck with the 44,800 pound tandem axle load cracked the highway so severely that it was not safe to continue. I want to point out that the results of this test were based on legal loads. It would be enlightening to know what would have happened if the tests had been made with the illegal overloads which are so common in every state.

If we are to ignore the results of these tests, it is a shameful waste of the motorists' money.

Are the truckers getting a cheap ride at the motorists' expense? This bill is for the benefit of about 5 per cent of the trucking industry—the big, over-the-road box cars—the huge monsters that destroy our pavements, wreck our bridges, clog our streets, crawl up one side of the hill and roar recklessly down the other.

In this connection, Mr. President, on the front page of the Wilkes-Barre Record, my home town paper, this morning was a photograph of sixteen cars stopped for a traffic light, which were rammed by a trailer truck out of control coming down the hill, recklessly operated by the big truck interests. It is public information; you can all buy the Wilkes-Barre Record and see it. Every study shows that this group fails to pay its way.

Under Senate Bill No. 615, truckers in this small group will be able to increase their payload from 3,000 to 15,000 pounds every trip—all for the meager increased fee of from $17 to $37 per year. In fact, one class will pay less for the privilege of making more money at the public's expense. Long haul trucks travel an average of 50,000 miles a year. The out-of-state trucker is not required to pay anything but a few pennies gas tax, if he buys his fuel here. The increased weight limits will mean an extra profit up to $15,000 per week per truck—all for $37 for Pennsylvania owners, for free for out-of-state haulers.

Is it any wonder that the big truckers are so anxious to have this bill passed?

At this point, Mr. President, I want to make it clear that I am not asking that all trucks be driven from our highways. The trucking industry is essential. We should encourage its proper growth. I am, however, vigorously opposed to any legislation which will benefit only five per cent of the industry at the expense of all other users of the highways.

As Senators we should protect, not destroy our highways. This problem is not confined to Pennsylvania. Every state is worried about the deterioration of its highways. Most states are enacting measures to protect their highways.

At this time I would like to read to the Members of the Senate just a few words that Governor Dewey said when the Truck Bill was being considered in New York State by the Legislature just a few short months ago and I quote:

"In nine years, during the regular legislative session, only one other lobby equaled this one in venality and in lack of merit." The New York Times the following day explained that this "other lobby" was a Communist group. Knowing this, it is difficult for me to understand why we should consider liberalizing our present laws. Highway construction and maintenance, in many places, is now being curtailed due to the difficulty of securing the necessary supplies. This itself should be sufficient reason why no weight increases should be permitted.

Mr. President, for years I have lived in a rural district. For a long time the cry was to "Take the farmer out of the mud." Pennsylvania has done that through improved highways. Now we see the Grange vigorously opposing this bill, for they know that if the increased weights are permitted, it will only be a short time before the Pinchot type highways will be destroyed by big trucks and the farmer will be back in the mud again.

The press of the State is opposed to further weight increases. They are speaking for hundreds of thousands of farmers, taxpayers, small truck owners, businessmen, township supervisors, county and borough commissioners. The automobile clubs of this State are opposed to this bill. They are speaking for the two and half millions of motorists. In view of this tremendous expressed opposition, I call upon my colleagues to defeat Senate Bill No. 615 and prevent a small well-financed organized minority from ruining our State and local highway system and imposing additional burdens on taxpayers and highway users of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think any answer that I might make would convince anybody, but I just want to state that we have quite a few truckers in my County and I have known quite a few in the State of Pennsylvania, and up until this moment I do not know any of them that are akin to Communism. However, everyone is sincere, I believe, in their own position on their voting in favor of or against this bill.

Mr. President, this bill has been before this Senate, or a bill of similar type has been before this Senate, for the past fourteen years. We know, those of us who are not trying to be naive or trying to hide behind any false issues, that the issue is a question of monopolistic transportation. I think that everyone of us knows there are two sides to this question. I am one of those who believe that transportation, like any other activity of the human being upon a civilized earth, has advancements in it. I think that if you go back through the history of the world, you will find that progress of the people themselves from time immemorial was started when the wheel was first discovered and man found that he could transfer the load from his shoulders and put it upon a vehicle and push it around. That has been the history of transportation on down through the ages. What we have failed to do in this Senate, and what the trucking industry has failed to do, we have failed to show to the people of the Commonwealth, and to the people of the Nation at large, that this is not a so-called big truck bill, but it is the recognition of a new type of vehicle, a vehicle that has been invented by inventive geniuses in the American miracle of production. We do not increase, under this bill, the weight load allowed on Pennsylvania roads by one pound. In fact, the total limit allowed under this bill for this type of vehicle is 2,500 pounds less than that now permitted upon the roads of Pennsylvania. That is a truth that is contained in the Vehicle Code of this Commonwealth and not one that I have fabricated out of the whole cloth. We do not increase the axle load by one pound. The only thing that we do is recognize the tandem axle, which is a completely new invention.

For instance, Mr. President, in talking about other states, my predecessor spoke about the Maryland report. So, I made it my business to get as much information as I could on the Maryland report. There has been a great deal of propaganda come out of the Maryland State test report, but let us just take a look at the situation. The Maryland Truck Weight Commission made a report to the General Assembly, which was based largely on data obtained from the Maryland road test. The purpose of this report was to substantiate the argument for a bill the basic provisions of which called for a reduction of allowable single axle loads from 22,400 to 18,000 pounds, and for lowering tandem axle loads from 44,800 to 32,000. The Maryland Assembly must have found that data very informative and challenging, since it declined to change the 22,400 pounds single axle allowance. The tandem axle allowance was reduced slightly, down to 40,000 pounds. This bill only allows 36,000 pounds tandem axle allowance. If anybody wishes to read the complete report of the Maryland test, here it is. This is a very interesting note which I think that you ought to hear.

Mr. President, the entire Maryland test that you have heard so much about was crammed into a six month period and over that six months period they gave that road the same kind of a beating that the road would have received in a ten year normal use period. You know if you take an ordinary human being and you slap him once a week in the face, the slap does not hurt, but if you stand and slap him time after time repeatedly, you soon knock him groggy, and that is what happened in the road test.

Basically, Mr. President, this is a question of the free movement of goods. Progress is tied to the movement of goods. When I was a small boy we had oranges about once or twice a year, because the price of oranges was beyond the reach of the normal coal mining family in this State, but the price of oranges today is not beyond the reach of the ordinary citizen because truck transportation brings oranges from the market right to the door. Produce can be bought today on every shelf of every grocery and green goods store in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania because it is moved there by truck. The County of Fulton in Pennsylvania has not a railroad line in it, but the people in Fulton County get the green goods from their green goods grocer; they get refrigerators; they get all of the necessities and a great many of the luxuries of life, because we have moved ahead in transportation. The manufacturing of goods and piling it in the field is of no good at all to the people, but the manufacturing of goods and the movement of those goods out on a reasonable cost basis is what makes for prosperity, health and wealth, and for the welfare of the people.

Mr. President, I have here a statement from the Executive Vice-President of the Detroit Board of Commerce. It is just a little card that was sent out. I think perhaps most of you overlooked it because we get so many cards, but I think that this is fundamentally the crux of the whole thing, and I quote from this card, signed by Harvey

Campbell, Executive Vice-President of the Detroit Board of Commerce:

"When will somebody adopt a sound economical practice of building highways in the public interest? That is, to fit the needs of business and industry instead of limiting trucks to conform with the existing and out-dated highway standards."

Mr. President, why is it that we in Pennsylvania are always approached from the angle that our highways won't stand it? Aren't we spending sufficient moneys on our highways, $400,000,000 a biennium? Governor Duff used to brag about the fact that we had the greatest road building program in the United States of America. What are we doing with the money? Aren't we building roads that can stand the need and the demand of industry? My friend said that five per cent of these men are big truckers. I do not know if it is only five per cent, but if you told the people of Pennsylvania that if you took all the so-called big trucks off the road, that only five per cent of the trucks would be taken off the road, I do not think that the opposition that we received through these post cards from people who say, drive the trucks off the road, would be so strong. You see, the people, by the propaganda of those who oppose this bill, are of the belief that if we do not pass this bill it is going to relieve the so-called congestion on the highways. The thing that causes congestion on the highways is the number of vehicles, remember that, and I say now to the Senate of Pennsylvania that our State Police have been lax. They have been lax in enforcing one of the most important safety laws in the entire Commonwealth, that of maintaining the proper distance between vehicles, whether it be between touring cars, ordinary passenger cars or trucks, and one of the most serious violations on the highways is when two trucks do ride nose to tail and go over the hill in such close procession that it is dangerous to try to pass them. I agree with you there, but do not blame that upon the industry. That is the individual. You say that a truck ran wild and rammed sixteen cars. I had a very dear friend of mine killed in a Buick convertible three weeks ago on Friday evening at six o'clock, about ten minutes after he left my home, but that does not mean that all Buick convertibles should be taken off the road. I personally feel they should have been outlawed long ago, because I think it is a dangerous vehicle on the road. A person has no chance if he is in a wreck in a convertible, but that does not say the industry should take it off the road. It is the driver of the vehicle. There are some men that can drive a truck a lot safer than others can drive a Cadillac. It is the individual; you still have the human equation and the human equation is such that some can drive trucks and vehicles of all kinds and others cannot, even if they do have a driver's license. I have often made the statement that the most dangerous projectile ever invented was the automobile. All of us know more people have been killed by automobile accidents than in all the wars this Country has participated in, but you do not outlaw automobiles. Speaking of other States, I think it would be interesting to the Members of the Senate in order that you do not think someone is trying to pull some fast move over the people of this Commonwealth. These are the weight loads allowed in other States. In New York State, the gross weight is 61,500 pounds; in Delaware, the gross weight is 60,000 pounds; in New Jersey, 60,000 pounds; in Ohio, 78,000 pounds; in Maryland, 65,500 pounds. I think you ought to know these things. I think that you ought to know that every State surrounding this Commonwealth has a greater top load than is allowed in Pennsylvania. They build roads; do they have more know how than we have? I do not think they have more know how than we have, and I think that our roads will stand the load if they are built to stand the load.

Mr. President, someone spoke about the Turnpike. I probably have ridden the Turnpike as much or more than any man in the Senate of Pennsylvania, because my home is only two miles from the western end of the Turnpike; I always travel over the Turnpike, and here is a funny thing. You are driving along the Turnpike and you come to a section of it, and that section is bad. Well, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is my humble opinion that if a truck starts across this floor and one piece of the floor gives in near the center of it, it is the fault of the floor and not the fault of the truck, because if the truck is to blame then the whole floor ought to fall down. Every child learned in his early youth that a chain was only as strong as its weakest link, and if cheating contractors have not put the amount of cement into the road at a place where some inspectors let him get away with stealing here and there on the aggregate, that piece of road will deteriorate. Everybody knows that concrete in six years becomes an inert material anyway. Some of us have for years said that the only type of road that could take the kind of weather and climatic conditions that we have in Pennsylvania is the variable base road, made with a bituminous aggregate. Of course, we are in the minority and do not have any say on construction. You can build roads to meet the load and at this point I just want to answer the so-called box car charge because about eight years ago on the Senate floor we had a man who made some serious charges. At that time, I made the statement, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that I would live to see the day, I hoped, but whether it would be me or others who would be here at that time, there would be a group in here fighting against air transportation. So, Mr. President, I have here with me, and every Member of the Senate has received it, a transcript from Air Transportation. Already the fight is going on, and these same truckers who are in here today will be fighting air transportation just as bitterly as the railroads are fighting truck transportation, just as bitterly as the barges and waterways and the canals fought rail transportation, just as bitterly as the stage-coaches fought canal transportation. That has been the history of it. It is not a question of the common good, it is a question of the individual good, the owners of the methods and means of transportation that are finding a competitive field and have had a competitor step into their private preserve. Today we have started already the anti-box car in the sky. You have heard the expression, the box car bill. That is the bill that we are supposed to be working on and what is box car about it? This does not increase the length, the width, the breadth or the width of any truck allowable in Pennsylvania. It does not increase the per axle load of any truck in Pennsylvania. It only recognizes a new and modern type of vehicle that has been invented since the writing of the Motor Vehicle Code.

Mr. President, I worked in the rubber industry for a good many years in a rubber center in this State, and I worked in the rubber industry when we had the high pressure tire. I worked in the rubber industry when we had the solid tires, and the same weight loads are allowed in Pennsylvania today as were allowed when the vehicles in this State wore hard rubber solid core tires. Does any individual in this room within the hearing of my voice—can he conceive of the damage that could be done to the highways by that type of vehicle as compared to the low pressure tire vehicles that you have today? Mr. President, I might say that two of the largest manufacturers of tractors in the County, and I am conceited enough to say to this group again that I know something about that. I think that the Autocar and the Mack tractors are two of the best manufactured in the entire United States and there are more of them sold to tractor trailer groups outside of the State than sold in Pennsylvania, simply because the trucks cannot haul the pay load on the type of vehicle that has been put at his disposal by the inventive geniuses of America, and, therefore, the under-powers that tractor. He puts in front of that trailer a Chevrolet or a Ford or a light powered tractor to pull a big trailer that ought not be pulled by this type of tractor, and that is what causes trouble on the highways. That is the type of vehicle that causes the delays on the hill; it is with that type vehicle, in order to make up time after he has inched his way up over the hill, that he cuts his brake loose and shoots down over the hill, endangering himself and everybody else on the highway. Under this bill, when he can carry the proper pay load with a machine designed to carry that load, he will have the proper tractor in front of him, and he will create the right speed and maintain the right speed.

Mr. President, I say to that group here today that it is my prediction, and I am making this prediction in the full knowledge of what I am saying, that if this bill passes you will find that the City of Philadelphia will become one of the greatest seaports; it is already one of the greatest, I do not want to say the greatest, but it will move up to one of the three largest seaports in the entire United States of America, because many many tons of seaport tonnage is moving around the State down into Maryland and into New York City, because the out-of-State truckers find themselves in the position that when they hit our State line, every state surrounding us finds itself with vehicles that are licensed in their particular state which cannot be used in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Getting back to the box car in the sky, I want to see how this Senate lines up when that bill comes before us, when they start to pass legislation striking out the use of air transportation up to certain weights. Here you have an organization already created against box cars in the sky, and let me tell you another thing.

Mr. President, I said years ago that there ought to be a marriage between the trucking industry and the railroad industry, and I say that this bill will bring that marriage about, because it is smart, it is intelligent and it is good business for the railroads to accept the trucking business, to get into the trucking business and pick up their full trailers on flat cars at long distance points, haul them over night to destination, and have tractors pull up to the railroad yards and take the trailers out. It is being done in other sections of the Country, but it is not being done here. I want to say this, too, one of the largest truck operators in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is the Pennsylvania Railroad. It is one of the largest single operators of truck in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I want to say also that this is a bill designed against the highway chiseler. Do you know the opposition that I have to the bill? I have lots of it, and I do not doubt but what personally it does me no good to fight for this kind of legislation, but if expediency is to be the medium through which we are supposed to vote in the Senate of Pennsylvania, then we best all go home, because if pressure groups are the only ones who can get legislation passed, then I say to you it is time that this Legislature quit. I want to say to Senator Wood that for every letter that he received against this bill and for all of the pressure that he claims that the truckers have put on, I can tell you that the pressure put on by the opposition was much much greater. I have received thousands upon thousands of cards signed after being printed with the same wording upon it. It was not spontaneous; it was engineered.

Mr. President, I do not want to take any more of the time of the Senate. We are all set. Every man has been talked to either by one interest or the other because, basically, it is an interest fight. It is the fight of one means of transportation as against another, and seriously and honestly I say to the Members of this Senate, this bill has been a long time coming. For instance, to give you an illustration of what I mean, for many years the Pittsburgh Press was probably one of the most violent opponents of so-called big truck legislation, and for the first time that I can remember the Pittsburgh Press has come out and said that this is a fair truck bill, and that is all it is. It puts this State in line with other states. It does not mean that if you fail to pass the bill that it is going to shut the industry down tomorrow. It does not mean anything like that, and any person that conceives the idea that this truck bill will ruin the roads of Pennsylvania, they just do not face the truth. When you speak about the Grange opposing this bill, how many Grange roads or farm roads are subjected to the traffic of this kind of truck? It does not pay to take these trucks over back roads because they are, in the main, used for hauling between the ports or main industrial centers. I will tell you what wrecked the roads in my County if you want to know—old man winter. Now, if you can legislate against old man winter, then you can have good roads in Pennsylvania. Where the roads are not properly drained and where the base of the road is not properly put in, you get a road failure and any highway man will tell you that the back roads, the old Pinchot roads were destroyed by two things, climate and neglect. They had not been taken care of, they had not had a top dressing in years, the berms had not been shaped up. That is what wrecked your Pinchot roads, and the heavy loading of trucks from the stripping industry, and those trucks are legitimate trucks, licensed under the Commonwealth, have ruined our roads in western Pennsylvania, and any man that has any knowledge of the western mining industry will tell you that is what ruined the country roads more than anything else; and the big trucks have not done it.

Mr. President, the main thing I want to leave in the minds of the Members of the Senate is that it does not matter one bit to me how any Member of the Senate votes. I know how I am going to vote because I have been voting for twelve years for this same bill, because I think it is a good bill. In order that there may be no misunderstanding, this bill does not add one inch to the length, the breadth, height or depth of any vehicle in Pennsylvania. It does not change one bit the construction of the vehicle. It only recognizes the fact that there has been a new invention, and that the people of Pennsylvania are entitled to the benefit that comes from cheaper transportation.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not intend to take up very much time of the Senate. After listening to the learned gentleman from Westmoreland and the learned gentleman from our side of the fence over here from Luzerne, you have had two sides of it, I felt as though there might be a few little things that I could pick up. I may be fortunate or I may be unfortunate. I have been in the transportation business and I have tractors and trailers which I make a very meager living with, but I would like to go back and I would like to correct a few things that I have heard said here. I have not prepared a speech, it is all extemporaneous, but I think that some things should be clarified for the benefit of my fellow colleagues.

Mr. President, the first thing I noticed was that the gentleman from Luzerne made quite a few statements that I have read myself in some of the garrulous magazines that have been attacking the trucking industry for years. That is something that we are unable to stop. That is their business and that is what they are paid for. I do not know who pays them, but certainly someone that is interested in opposing truck transportation would be the paymaster for those, in my opinion, garrulous, uninformed writers. First, we were criticized on the taxes that we pay to the State of Pennsylvania. As the President of the Blue Line Transportation Company, I am not at all ashamed of my contribution from a little company. You can imagine what the figures would amount to. I am not prepared to give you the figures, but I would like to say to you that we pay a capital stock tax, we pay a corporate net income tax, we pay a gross income tax, we pay all of the expenses of the Public Utility Commission in the State of Pennsylvania for any expense that they are put to in the handling of our tariffs and in the registration of our motor trucks. No one mentioned that, and I thought that important. We also pay for a license in the State of Pennsylvania. They do not give them to us, and I think the fees are pretty high in comparison with those of the other states. Some of them may perhaps be a little lower.

Mr. President, I would also like to say to you that after they sell us a license for a truck, they designate the gross weight that we are allowed to carry on that truck. We cannot carry it because they stick in a regulation saying that you are overloaded on an axle. I can recall one instance right from Harrisburg from the Evangelical Press here, who make a product with a uniform weight.

We are allowed under the present law 45,000 pounds gross on a motor truck, that is a tractor-trailer or any truck. That truck, with an allowance of 45,000 pounds, was fined in Highspire with a load, a total load of 43,000 pounds, because the axle was overloaded. That is the biggest joke, in my opinion, that I ever heard of, overloading an axle. When you purchase a tag which you pay for, in my opinion—I am not a lawyer and I would not dare to try to argue with these gentlemen in the Senate. I know their ability as lawyers, but I certainly think it is unconstitutional for a man to pay for something and then they stick something in there to fine him, to take it away from him, and I want to go on record today and say this. If any of my equipment is ever fined for an axle load, I intend to go to the Superior Court and find out whether it is constitutional.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Luzerne spoke of box cars. Well, I could go back and talk about when Sherman went through the South. I could talk about vehicles used years ago, and I could call them box cars. I do not know how long they were, but I want to say this to you. In the twenty-five years that I have been in the transportation business in the State of Pennsylvania, you have always had box cars on the road, if he wants to call them that. Going back twenty-five years ago, twenty years ago, fifteen years ago, you had obsolete and improper equipment on the road that was just as long as it is today and just as wide, and we hauled materials back twenty years ago that were just as long as today and just as wide, but how did we do it? We had a truck that was approximately sixteen to twenty feet long, and we put some old bolster across the center of it, and we hooked onto the back of it a two-wheeled trailer with a long pole sticking out of it as a tongue that reached onto this bolster. There were no brakes on the trailers. That is what it was twenty years ago, twenty-five years ago, and fifteen years ago and we hauled steel that was thirty-five and forty feet long in those days, but today, no. We have to be criticized and they call them box cars when we are running the same length that we always ran, but it is equipment that is adequate, that has proper brakes, that has proper motor power to pull it. It has a trailer known as a semi-trailer that has the proper length so that you can load it and load it so it is safe. You can pin the load down so that it does not slip and fall from the truck. Gentlemen, that is progress, and the very thing that they are trying to stop here today is progress.

Now, Mr. President, if you want to go back and destroy the trucking industry, vote against this bill, and I will say to you that every legitimate trucker in the big trucking business in the State of Pennsylvania is for this bill and we are not going to make any more money. Today on the highways in the State of Pennsylvania there are what we call gypsies. The poor devils, I feel sorry for them. They are called gypsies, they are people who are hired by unscrupulous truckers that collect eighty per cent of the revenue and give them twenty per cent of the revenue. They are the type of people that called gypsies, and they have my sympathy. Those people are overloaded, and I would like to say to you gentlemen here that today you are not carrying 60,000 pounds over the highways in the State of Pennsylvania. You are carrying 72,000 to 75,000. That is a fact, it is not hearsay, and no one wrote it for me. I did not prepare anything; I am telling you what I know to be the truth. This truck bill if passed will eliminate that. I heard the expression used in my office that this truck bill would make christians out of all truckers. I can agree with you. It will make christians all right. At two dollars a hundred pounds fine, no one is going to overload a truck. It is going to eliminate the gypsy, it is going to eliminate the carrier that does the type of hauling that we do not want in the State of Pennsylvania. We legitimate truckers operate our business at a profit without overloading and tearing the roads up. Now, if the roads in the State of Pennsylvania are torn up, it is not due to the legitimate carrier that is asking for this 60,000 pound load on a tandem axle trailer. It is the man that has had to go out and overload and cheat, and that is what we want to put a stopgap on. That is what we want to put a law in to stop, and when you do that, you will also be protecting the neighboring states which are our neighbors. I think it is a sin and a shame to have to say that Pennsylvania is a bottleneck for the motor truck industry, that you have to cheat, and steal and ride around the roads to find some way to dodge the police to get through the State of Pennsylvania. I do not think it is right, and I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland. Why aren't the other state roads torn up? The Legislature in New Jersey just adjourned. Why did they not write legislation that said, "No trucks with 60,000 pounds load can run over our roads." I can tell you why they did not. For the simple reason that even though the pressure was poured on them by the railroads, the Legislators did not fall for it. They threw away their feelings of personal gain, personal satisfaction, and they voted for something that was right over there, and I ask you gentlemen here to do the same thing. I feel that if this bill is defeated, we are facing another great danger. We all know that our State rights are being taken over by the Federal Government day after day, year after year, and I say this to you, that the Federal Government has a lot of money invested in roads in the State of Pennsylvania along with the Pennsylvanians, and I know that the trucking industry will be forced to go to the Federal Government to find some way to correct this bottleneck in the State of Pennsylvania. The fact that they had a road test given in Maryland is nothing but a fake, it is just something set up and paid for by the opposition to motor trucks.

Mr. President, I am sorry that I have taken so much time, but I just could not sit still and hear someone condemn an enterprise that I have been in all of my life. I would also like to say, too, that the gentleman from Westmoreland talked about the future of transportation. Only last week when I was home, I talked to Mr. Pack, President of the Piacki Helicopter Corporation, of Morton, Pennsylvania, and we discussed at that time the possibility, in the near future, of making a test from Chester to New York with a thirty-two foot trailer with fifty tons on it, that would be picked up by a helicopter and moved over to another field in New York, and a tractor hooked on to deliver the load. Maybe some day, and I do not think this is going too far that these box cars, the expression used, which I hate the sound of and hate the tone, will be floating over our heads, and I imagine then the State of Pennsylvania will try to legislate them out of the air with the same lobby that is pressing this issue. Thank you very much.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the founders of this country did a great job. When our States were formed, they provided that there would be free movement of goods over every state line, and to my mind that has made the United States the great country that it is today. The opposition to that theory is over in Europe where for centuries they have built their lines and their barriers around their countries, and stopped every truck, every railroad train, every traveler, held them up, delayed them and made them pay. It caused wars, hundreds of wars between nations, but in this Country, during all these years, goods have moved from California into Pittsburgh and Harrisburg without ever being stopped by any policemen or any inspector or any tariff collector, and that is what has made this Country what it is today. Here in this State of Pennsylvania today the heavy industry State, we manufacture iron, heavy industry, and it has got to be shipped, and it is a shame that every State around us has gotten a higher allowance for their trucks than we in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, they talk about the box cars. I came down here a week ago Sunday, and I saw a truck ahead of me that had a box car, and it was a beautiful white truck with beautiful black letters on the back, "Don't hit me because twenty-two thousand families are waiting for hellman's Mayonnaise that I am hauling in this box car."

Gentlemen of this Senate, they talk about the box car and ridicule the box car, but it is the greatest service to the United States that was ever brought about. If we could figure out when you see these box cars where the goods are manufactured that they are hauling, and the jobs they are doing delivering these packages that are made in every section of the country at every crossroad and every alley, which did not happen before.

Now, Mr. President, I know that the Pennsylvania Railroad has always fought the truckers, and I do not blame them. I do not blame the Pennsylvania Railroad for fighting the truckers and yet I am convinced, I am convinced that the increase of weight for these trucks would help the Pennsylvania Railroad. When you create business, when you bring business into your State, when you allow trucks from other states all around us to move across our State, like they do in every other state without being stopped and blocked by policemen and fined, then we can make some headway with the laws that we have in this State. Gentlemen, I know there are two sides to this question, naturally, but at the same time I feel that it would be a curse to this State of Pennsylvania to build a wall around us and stop the movement of goods in and out of our State.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 616, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P L 127) entitled "An act relating to Adoption" by reducing the period during which an abandonment must have existed clarifying the requirements of and eliminating certain consents necessary to an adoption empowering orphans' courts and in counties of the first class municipal courts to establish investigative staffs with respect to adoptions requiring all persons societies agencies institutions or similar organizations or corporations receiving or placing children for adoption to make certain reports to the court conferring jurisdiction upon orphans' courts and in counties of the first class municipal courts to determine the custody of certain children prohibiting the receipt of compensation for the placement of children for adoption and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Sections 1 2 and 3 of the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P L 127) entitled "An act relating to Adoption" as last amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P L 1180) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c Contents of Petition for Adoption It shall be lawful for any adult person desirous of adopting any person either a minor or an adult as his or her heir or as one of his or her heirs to present his or her petition to the Orphans' Court or to a law judge thereof of the county where he or she may be resident or upon allowance by the Orphans' Court in the county in which the person to be adopted is a resident except that in counties of the first class where the petition shall be presented to a judge of the municipal court declaring such desire and that he or she will perform all the duties of a parent to such person Such petition shall also set forth the name color age date and place of birth and religious affiliation of the person proposed to be adopted the name residence marital status color age occupation and religious affiliation of the adopting parent or parents the name color age and place of residence of each of the natural parents or of the surviving parent or of any other person whose consent to the proposed adoption is necessary as hereinafter provided and in those cases where abandonment is alleged a statement that said abandonment has continued for a period of at least [six] three months In addition such petition shall embody or have attached thereto the consents in writing of the person or persons whose consent to the proposed adoption is necessary as hereinafter provided

Section 2 Consents Necessary to Adoption Consents to the adoption is necessary as follows

(a) Of the person proposed to be adopted if over twelve years of age and of said person's husband or wife if any

(b) Of the adopting parent's husband or wife unless they jointly adopt such person

(c) Of the parents or surviving parent of the person proposed to be adopted if such person shall not have reached the age of eighteen years if any such parent or surviving parent shall be a minor but shall have reached the age of eighteen years or over his consent shall be sufficient without the consent of his parent or guardian and such consent shall have the same force and validity as though he were an adult In the case of an illegitimate child the consent of the mother only shall be necessary The consent of a parent who has been adjudged an incompetent or a person of unsound mind of whose incompetency or unsoundness of mind competent medical testimony presents a prognosis of incurability or habitual drunkard or who has abandoned the child for a period of at least [six] three months shall be unnecessary Provided such fact is proven to the satisfaction of the court or judge hearing the petition in which case such court or judge shall so find as a fact

(d) If the person proposed to be adopted has no father or mother living or whose consent is necessary hereunder then of the legal guardian if any there be and of the person or persons having the legal custody of such child if any such person can be found [but if] except that such consent may be dispensed with by the court if after hearing it finds that it is for the best interests of the child to do so if such child has no father or mother living or whose consent is necessary hereunder and no legal guardian and no person can be found who has the legal custody of such child whose consent is necessary and the same be proven to the satisfaction of the court or judge hearing the petition the said court or judge shall so find as a fact

(e) If the person proposed to be adopted has theretofore been adopted then of such adopting parents or surviving adopting parent subject to the same exception provided in clause (c) of this section in the case of natural parents

(f) A consent to a specific proposed adoption which meets all the requirements of this act which does not name or otherwise identify the adopting parent or parents shall be valid provided that such consent shall contain a statement by the person whose consent it is to the effect that such person voluntarily executed the consent without disclosure of the name or other identification of the adopting parent or parents

Section 3 Hearings Upon presentation of any such petition as aforesaid a time for hearing thereon shall be fixed not less than ten days from said presentation which said hearing may be before the said court or any law judge thereof at chambers and may be adjourned from time to time if the nature of the case should so require At said hearing the adopting parents or parent the person proposed to be adopted if in the opinion of the court such persons' presence is deemed necessary and all the persons whose consent is necessary hereunder must appear in person and be examined under oath by such court or judge but the personal appearance of the natural parents or other persons whose consent is necessary hereunder may be dispensed with in the discretion of the court or judge hearing the petition if such persons reside without the jurisdiction of the court or if for any other reason the said court or judge deem it unnecessary provided the duly executed consents of such persons in writing have been filed with the petition and the said court or judge may in his discretion require the personal appearance of the natural parents of the child at a different time and separate and apart from that of the other parties in interest The said court or judge shall also hear any other testimony as to the facts set forth in the petition or necessary to inform the court as to the desirability of the proposed adoption [and may also make or cause to be made an investigation by some person or agency specifically designated by said court or judge to verify the statements of the petition and such other facts as will give the court full knowledge as to the desirability of the proposed adoption]

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 3 a new section to read as follows

Section 3.1 Investigations Court May Create Investigative Staff For the purpose of conducting investigations concerning the desirability of proposed adoptions either before or after hearing on an adoption petition the several orphans' courts and in counties of the first class the municipal court are hereby authorized and empowered to establish an investigative staff of such number of qualified investigators as the court shall deem necessary to handle the work whose salaries shall be fixed as now provided by law Where such an investigative staff is not established by the court such investigations may be made by some person or agency specifically designated by said court or judge thereof and the compensation and expense if any of such person or agency shall be fixed by the county salary board and paid from county funds

Such investigative staffs shall also have authority to make investigations into such matters as the court may direct in connection with custody proceedings over which such courts have jurisdiction as hereinafter provided

Section 3 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 4 seven new sections to read as follows

Section 4 Effective date This act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, unfortunately I do not have a copy of the latest printer's number of Senate Bill No. 616. I heard the amendments read last night, and I thought there were only two, and I find out there were three amendments offered, and I find that the section that had been agreed to in the Democratic Caucus by all of us, namely, Section 4.8 has been excluded from the bill.

Mr. President, I know there is no way I can get my name removed from the bill, but I would ask my colleagues on this side to vote against the bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, this bill has been on the Calendar for perhaps three or four months, and it now appears to be amended in such condition that it is useless. It seems to me that the group behind this bill does not know really what they are doing, so they have amended the bill to be useless. There is a certain group of lawyers that want this bill passed. It looks to me that it is some kind of a racket so that a lawyer will get a fee for defending or destroying those foster homes that we have in Philadelphia today.

Mr. President, in Philadelphia today we have the best system we ever had for taking care of little children. All our foster homes are in good condition, and we have no complaints. Therefore, I say, Mr. President, that this bill should be dropped from the Calendar, because the men who are back of the bill do not themselves know what they want.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am somehow embarrassed in connection with this bill. Senator Kephart has been eminently fair and patient with me because I offered many amendments to this bill, and he was most cooperative, but the elimination from the bill of the passage dealing with religious institutions constrains me to cast my vote against it, because I have observed in my district several religious institutions doing a magnificent piece of work for abandoned children, and to break up the system, in my opinion, would be most dangerous to society.

Mr. President, for that reason, with great deference to Senator Kephart in his fairness, I am constrained to cast my vote against it.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to make a few remarks on this bill. At the last Session of the General Assembly, the Joint State Government Commission was directed to make a study of adoption and child placement in Pennsylvania. I had the honor of serving as the Chairman of the subcommittee which made intensive studies and investigations into the field. We presented to the Senate of Pennsylvania a series of three bills, Senate Bill No. 73, 74 and 75 that were jointly sponsored by Senator Dent, Senator Mahany and myself. We thought that these bills would meet a crying need in Pennsylvania to correct a very grave and dangerous situation which had arisen regarding homeless children and placing them in homes where they could be raised as other children.

Mr. President, the Senate Judiciary Committee after studying the bills refused to report them out. In their judgment, in their considered judgment, they thought they were not what they should be, but Senator Kephart did do another study into the matter and produced Senate Bill No. 616. Now, I would like to state on behalf of Senator Mahany and myself that while we do not feel that Senate Bill No. 616 accomplishes that which would have been accomplished had Senate Bills No. 73, 74 and 75 been offered to the General Assembly and passed, we do feel that this bill is definitely a step in the right direction and, therefore, are supporting it with the hope that possibly some future Legislature will see fit to embody the other features that we had in the bills that we had presented.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, because of the work and the tireless effort that Senator Kephart has put forth in this bill, I just want to tell him that I find myself in an unfortunate position about the elimination of Section 4.8 and I cannot vote for the bill.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I, too, think the bill is a good bill, but I had expected my colleague, Senator Barr, to introduce an amendment to strike out the amendment designated as Section 4.8. Now, I think that the religious organizations that are looking after the dependent children, so far as I have been able to learn, have been doing an outstanding job, and in all probability better than the State itself would do. By reason of that fact, I intend to vote against the bill.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, there seems to be a spirit afoot in this Country of ours in recent years that every change is automatically good. That is not necessarily so, as we all know. I think it is time we began to take a little time and study some of the proposed changes that are being introduced here time after time in this hall of legislation.

Mr. President, as I understand it from talking to the Judges of three counties in this Commonwealth in the northern part of the State, they are well satisfied with the law as it is now in regard to adoption. I have not yet heard anybody give any good reason why the law should be changed as is proposed in this bill. I think gradually what we are doing in this Country is legislating ourselves into a straight jacket, and bringing one type of legislation after another unto the people of the Commonwealth and the Nation, and I think we can make a step toward stopping it by voting against this bill today.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. McCRESSH. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made to have the roll verified. The Clerk will call the name of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 731, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Labor and Industry for the payment of certain moral claims providing for the hearing adjustment and payment of moral claims to members of the Workmen's Compensation Board and referees suffered as a result of delay in confirmation of appointments made by Governor to such offices

Section 1 The sum of eight thousand seven hundred twenty dollars ($8,720) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the payment of moral claims against the Commonwealth and that Department arising out of the loss of salaries suffered by certain members of the Workmen's Compensation Board and referees as a result of delay in the confirmation of appointments made by the Governor to such offices during the present session

Section 2 All persons heretofore or hereafter suffering such losses as provided in section one of this act may present a claim for compensation to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of hearing and adjusting such claims The Secretary of Labor and Industry shall become a member of said board with full power of a member in any such claim

Section 3 The Board of Finance and Revenue shall hear and determine such claims and if the board determines that a moral claim exists against the Commonwealth and the Department of Labor and Industry in such cases and that such claim or claims are not adjustable or recoverable against the Commonwealth under existing law it shall make a finding to that effect and shall fix the sum which in its opinion will compensate the claimant for the loss suffered

Any amount so fixed by the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be payable from the appropriation hereinbefore made by requisition of the Secretary of Labor and Industry in the manner provided by law and to each such requisition shall be attached the findings of the board

Section 4 The action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in allowing or disapproving a claim in full or in part shall be final and there shall be no appeal therefrom but the board in its discretion may grant rehearing on any claim and make new findings as hereinbefore provided

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Referred to the Committee on Education.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TOMPKINS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 65.

In the House of Representatives, July 9, 1951.

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania organized for its regular biennial Session on January 2, 1951, and has been in continual session since that time; and

Whereas, Article IV, Section II of the Constitution provides "He (the Governor) shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he may judge expedient;" and

Whereas, Article VI of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L.

177 requires the Governor to submit to the General Assembly a recommended biennial budget for the operation of the Government of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, On March 19, 1951, the Governor submitted his information on the state of the Commonwealth together with recommendations for the biennial budget to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, The General Assembly has already enacted all revenue measures recommended by the Governor for the current biennium beginning June 1, 1951, with the exception of the recommended Income Tax Measure; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives in reliance upon commitments made by the Senate Leadership passed the recommended Income Tax Measure; and

Whereas, The Senate has not enacted said Income Tax Measure and still refuses to do so because of: (1) The sincere conviction of certain Senate members against such a form of taxation; (2) The doubt or advisability as to certain recommended expenditures; (3) The accusation that receipts for the biennium beginning June 1, 1951, are underestimated; and (4) For other unknown or unexpressed reasons; and

Whereas, The disagreement between the two Houses has (1) Retarded and threatens final enactment of much legislation deemed essential for the safety, progress and well being of the Commonwealth and its citizens; (2) Made it impossible for numerous political subdivisions of the Commonwealth to properly prepare or budget their future needs and requirements with that degree of certainty and stability to which they are of right entitled, nor with that degree of efficiency which it ought to be our duty to foster and encourage; (3) Renders it impossible to fix a date with respect to the time of adjournment of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, Numerous rumors are being circulated and suggestions being made by certain members of the Senate with respect to possible sources of revenue to meet the alleged budget deficiencies without regard to Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution which requires "All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives"; and

Whereas, The separate powers and duties of the two Houses of the General Assembly and of the Governor are ineffective and without avail unless coordinated and given expression by cooperative effort; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur, and the Governor grant his approval), That

1. A Committee of thirteen be immediately appointed to consist of five members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker; five members of the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; and three persons (one of whom shall be the Budget Secretary) be appointed by the Governor; to consult, confer and attempt to resolve the differences and disagreements now existing on budgetary and fiscal matters and to report their findings and recommendations to the General Assembly and the Governor, in order that a good and orderly government of the Commonwealth shall not be impeded or harrassed.

2. In the event that said Committee cannot resolve the differences within the period of fifteen (15) calendar days from the date of its appointment, that (a) the General Assembly enact the necessary and required appropriations for the operation of the Government for the balance of the current biennium; (b) that the House of Representatives fix a date for adjournment and if the Senate does not concur that (c) the Governor in accordance with the powers vested in him by Article IV, Section 12 of the Constitution, adjourn the General Assembly to such time as he shall think proper, not exceeding four months; and (d) in the event that the Governor adjourn the General Assembly that the Committee of thirteen (13) herein provided shall continue to function in an effort to resolve the differences herein set forth.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. SMITH.

RESOLUTION No. 66.

In the House of Representatives, June 9, 1951.

Whereas, There are many statutes and amendments thereto governing licensure and fixing the fees for issuance of licenses by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The fees fixed for the issuance of the various licenses have frequently not been set with a view towards conforming to any equitable principle based upon fairness to the licensee and providing a proper revenue to the State government; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby directs the Joint State Government Commission to study all existing State license fees with the exception of those fixed by the Vehicle Code with a view to correcting possible inequities to the licensees, standards to be set in fixing uniform fees for similar types of licenses, and unification of license collection agencies for the purpose of cutting down administrative expense and overlapping and duplication of effort; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly together with such proposed legislation as may be necessary to carry out the same.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 160 Printer's No. 603 together with communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGES

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 721

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 30, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 721, Printer's No. 192, entitled "An Act to further amend clause (c) of Section 285 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled 'An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth' by authorizing the Board of Fish Commissioners to make certain expenditures with or without bids."

This bill proposes to amend Section 285 of the Fish Law by authorizing the Fish Commission to purchase items costing up to twenty-five dollars ($25.00) without obtaining competitive bids, and the items costing between twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and one hundred dollars ($100.00) upon obtaining at least two competitive bids.

Section 12 of Article III of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that all stationery, printing, paper and fuel used by the State must be purchased under contract to be given to the lowest responsible bidder. Therefore, this bill is unconstitutional or ineffective so far as the items mentioned in the Constitution are concerned.

As to other articles to be purchased, it has always been a fundamental requisite with respect to award of contracts by the government that they be given to the lowest responsible bidder. As was said recently by the Dauphin County Court, in an opinion with regard to public bidding, "It is the surest criterion to insure honesty and fairness in such public contracts." I see no reason for departing from a course of long standing, even to the limited extent attempted by this bill.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto message from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 245, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section 2 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 408) entitled as amended "A supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine' approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine amending the twenty-fourth section by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign fire insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and boroughs within this Commonwealth" by providing for the return of funds if not paid over within a certain time by the political subdivisions for auditing the fund and accounts receiving disbursements by the auditors of the political subdivisions and restricting payments to firemen and their dependents

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 2 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 408) entitled as amended "A supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine' approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine amending the twenty-fourth section by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign fire insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and boroughs within this Commonwealth" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1825) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 (a) On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and annually thereafter there shall be paid by the State Treasurer to the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and boroughs within the Commonwealth the entire net amount received from the two per centum tax paid upon premiums by foreign fire insurance companies. The amount to be paid to each of the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and borough shall be based upon the return of said two per centum tax upon premiums received from foreign fire insurance companies doing business within the said cities towns townships and boroughs and shall be proportionate to the premiums received by such companies on account of insurance written upon property located in such city borough town or township as shown by the report made to the Department of Revenue. Each city borough town or township receiving any payment from the State Treasurer hereunder shall forthwith pay the amount received to the relief fund association of or the pension fund covering the employees of the fire department or of such fire company or fire companies paid or volunteer now existing or hereafter organized in such city borough town or township as is or are engaged in the service of such city borough town or township and duly recognized as such by the council or commissioners or supervisors as the case may be of such city borough town or township. Such amount paid under the terms hereof shall be used to provide pension retirement disability or death benefits by saving and investing such amount or to purchase policies of insurance to procure said benefits to volunteer or paid firemen or to the dependents of such volunteer or paid firemen [In any] The auditors of the several cities towns townships and boroughs shall audit annually the funds and accounts in such political subdivisions receiving disbursement from the said entire net amount received from the two per centum tax and within thirty days of such audit shall make a complete report thereof to the Department of the Auditor General accompanied by an affidavit stating that such report is a true and correct statement of the funds and accounts audited in any borough town or township in which there is no fire department or fire company or companies the amount received by the treasurer of the borough town or township from said tax shall be forthwith paid to the relief fund association or pension fund of the fire department or fire company or companies of any near or adjacent city borough town or township the fire department or fire companies of which afford fire protection to the inhabitants of such borough town or township. Before payment of said tax to the treasurer of any such borough town or township the burgess in boroughs and the secretary of the board of supervisors in town or townships shall first certify to the Auditor General that the fire department or fire company or companies of such near or adjacent city borough town or township afford fire protection to the inhabitants of such borough town or township. Provided That if the fire department consists of paid and volunteer firemen and the paid firemen shall be covered by a pension fund then the two per centum tax aforesaid shall be divided equally between the relief fund association of the volunteer firemen and the pension fund for the paid firemen. Warrants for the above purposes shall be drawn by the Auditor General payable to the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and boroughs in accordance with this act whenever there are sufficient funds in the State Treasury to pay the same. All such fire insurance companies shall instruct their agents to place upon the said policies the exact city borough town or township wherein the insured property is located.

All monies distributed under the terms hereof that are not paid over for the purposes set forth herein within one year after receipt thereof by the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships shall be returned to the Department of the Auditor General and shall be forthwith applied to surplus in the foreign fire insurance tax fund by the Auditor General Provided however that this provision shall not apply to taxes levied under the terms hereof for the years 1945 1946 and 1947.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STIMMEL.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 244, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" by redefining pension annuity contract vesting certain [equities benefits dividends or] rights under pension annuity contracts in the municipality or in the policemen [or their dependents] providing for deductions to defray expenses for auditing providing for return of funds if not used within a certain time by the various political subdivisions

Section 1 The definition of "Pension Annuity Contract" in Section 1 of the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" as added by the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred fort-five (P. L. 160) is hereby amended to read as follows

"Pension Annuity Contract" means any contract made by a municipality or any Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund or Police Pension Fund of a municipality with an insurance or other authorized company to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or death benefits to the [dependents of] beneficiaries designated by such policemen. The municipality shall be the owner of all rights under the contract except the rights to designate the beneficiary to change the beneficiary and to receive the death pension and retirement benefits thereunder when the employment of any policeman is terminated other than by death or retirement the municipality shall apply the value of such contract to provide for the policeman death pension retirement or disability benefits in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract

Number of policemen whether of a participating municipality or of the Pennsylvania State Police means the average number of policemen employed by any such municipality or in the Pennsylvania State Police as the case may be during the year preceding the receipt of the tax by the Commonwealth

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. MADIGAN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1288, as follows:

An Act to further amend clause fifth of subsection (a) of Section 3 of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 520) entitled "An act relating to food defining food providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the manufacture or sale the offering for sale or exposing for sale or the having in possession with intent to sell of adulterated misbranded or deleterious foods prescribing certain duties of the Dairy and Food Commissioner in reference thereto and providing penalties for the violation thereof" by changing the amount of sulphur dioxide which may be used in the preparation of certain foods

Section 1 Clause fifth of subsection (a) of Section 3 of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (P. On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, for the past several weeks we have heard a great deal of complaint about the harm that this particular bill would do. I am wondering if we could not have a statement from Mr. Madigan as to the good that might be accomplished with this proposal. I think we have a right to know definitely just what this bill is going to do.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, before the sponsor of the bill replies to the gentleman from Cambria I would like to supplement what the gentleman from Cambria said.

I ask that the sponsor of this bill inform this House as to where the bill originated, why it originated, who wants it passed and why.

Mr. MADIGAN. Mr. Speaker, I sponsored this bill by request. It is a departmental bill. The demand for this legislation came from processors of fruits and vegetables as a preservative. The technical details of the bill—I am not familiar with them, Mr. Speaker, and at this time I would like to yield to the gentleman from York County, Mr. Goodling.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman on the other side of the House, I would like to say that I personally voted against this bill two or three weeks ago because I was not familiar with the provisions of it. Since that time I have tried to get more information and I have now concluded that it is a desirable piece of legislation.

To give a direct answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, I would like to read just one paragraph of a letter I received from the man who would be responsible for the enforcement of this particular piece of legislation were it to be enacted into law. I went to him and asked for this information and this is the paragraph that I think will answer the gentleman's question:

The specific wording of amounts permitted in House Bill No. 1288 are sufficient in our opinion to safeguard Pennsylvania consumers from the standpoint of public health as well as from fraud and deception. This small tolerance of sulphur dioxide in the products enumerated will make possible, as well as legally control a new type of business undertaking which is spreading rapidly and will continue to spread in the use of Pennsylvania potatoes and apples. Processors in adjoining States, as well as our own processors, have not had a yardstick as to a permissible amount of sulphur dioxide. This amendment would be specific in the maximum that could be used in these products.

I would like to add further, Mr. Speaker, that at the present time our Federal laws do allow the use of sulphur dioxide. I believe I am correct in stating that there are 46 other States that also allow its use.

As stated in this particular paragraph that I just read, the pared apple and the pared potato business is becoming a growing and large industry in Pennsylvania. The use of this sulphur dioxide in these two particular products with which I am more familiar is used strictly to prevent discoloration. It does not change the flavor or the food value in the fruits or the potatoes as used here. If there were any harmful effects to this CO₂ (SO₂), I personally do not believe that the Federal government would allow its use.

Just recently the United States Army put out a ruling stating that all processed potatoes of any kind, before being delivered to the army must be treated with CO₂ (SO₂). So far as I know no research has ever been made that would show that the use of CO₂ (SO₂) in the amount specified in this bill would be harmful to the human being.

As I stated previously, we are definitely trying to protect the Pennsylvania industry here, and for that reason I think the bill should pass.

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House before I did vote for the bill. At that time it was stated on the floor that our canners in Adams County did not use sulphur dioxide in the freezing of their cherries and apples.

I yesterday morning contacted the canners in my county, and they are very much interested in this bill. After all, this is a Department of Agriculture bill, and it does open the road for a new market for apples and potatoes. Therefore, I would ask the Members of the House to vote favorably on this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I am genuinely concerned with the health of the people of Pennsylvania, and particularly the children of Pennsylvania.

There is one phase of this processing which disturbs my mind; whether or not it is applicable, I do not know. For some years pickle processors have been packing pickles in a plioilm bag. You open up the bag and dispose of the water and take out the pickle and eat it. Now then, it is proposed under this bill to permit fresh apples, fresh peaches and fresh pears to be placed in a bag surrounded with this particular sulphur dioxide. You go into a store and buy a bagful of these apples and take them home, and perhaps your child will eat the whole bagful before the day is over.

I am wondering and would like to know before I can intelligently vote on this bill, whether or not if a child ate a bagful of apples which were preserved with sulphur dioxide, it would injure its health, especially if that particular course were to be pursued over a period of several weeks.

You bring home these fresh peeled apples, fresh peeled peaches and the kid opens a bag of them and eats them. Now if that is going to injure its health, I certainly want to vote against this bill. If that is not the case; if these fresh frozen products are not going to be sold so that children can consume them immediately, I would have no objection.

In potatoes it does not make much difference. Potatoes are generally treated, cooked or in some way the sulphur dioxide disappears. However, when it comes to fresh fruits, if they are going to be eaten immediately, then of course, some harm might come.

If there is anyone in the House who is prepared to answer that question to my satisfaction I might vote for the bill; otherwise I must vote against it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, several weeks ago the Minority Leader wished the title of "Doctor" upon me, and I certainly do not want to let him down at this time.

Maybe I can answer the gentleman's question in this way—I understand today that in dried fruits we are allowed in Pennsylvania up to 2500 parts to a million. The way I can say it—this bill goes up to 200 parts on frozen or dehydrated vegetables. All I can say is I can remember, and I think probably everyone in this House can remember, when they were kids it would be nothing for us to go into a corner grocery store and buy a box of raisins. When we were buying that box of raisins and eating those raisins without soaking them, without washing them, we were eating up to 2500 parts per million. I am a very healthy individual—about the only thing it did to me was make me lose my hair. I do not know what else it would do to children but I do not suppose that is too great a liability—so as far as I can answer the question, I know that I have eaten dried fruits so therefore, I have eaten 2500 parts per million.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, know for sure that sulphur dioxide is used in raisins? I know that it is used in dried peaches, dried apricots and other dried fruits but whether or not it is used in raisins, I do not know. I have some doubts on that.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that specifically except by saying that I have been told, I mentioned raisins, and the gentleman with whom I talked agreed that it was in raisins.

Something I would also like to bring out that has not been brought out is that there are 46 states in this nation today that work on the formula we are offering in this bill. There are only two states that do not have it on frozen foods.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, on the frozen foods I find no objection; but unfortunately this bill goes further than frozen and dried foods.

As I pointed out a while ago, on the frozen and on the dried I do not object, because generally there is some additional processing necessary. But when you go to "fresh peeled and frozen"—the bill also includes fresh peeled—those are the particular items to which I object: the fresh peeled apples, peaches and pears, and until such time as we can have assurance that eating them without further processing, without washing them would do no harm, I cannot see how we are safe in voting for this bill.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, it has been thirty years since I have studied any chemistry at all and I was just subjected to it in a very minor way. I never learned too much about it but I did make a very serious mistake and I want to clear the record on that particular thing. Instead of saying SO₂ I believe I said CO₂. We certainly do not want to add carbon dioxide to any of our dried fruits.

In answer to the question of the gentleman, Mr. Lopresti, I want to repeat what I said, and I think he has probably heard this, if this were harmful in any way, shape or form, I cannot conceive of the United States Army insisting that it be added to potatoes which they purchase; processed potatoes, that is. The type of potatoes they use are not washed before they are used, as I remember.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I happened to be an Army Cook in the last World War and I know a little bit about Army potatoes. I know a little bit about dehydrated potatoes because we had a special course on them. All the Army potatoes that are peeled and dried must be soaked, under Army orders, before they are used. We do not feed the soldiers raw potatoes; we generally cook them.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that I am personally acquainted with Dr. Haeger. He has a staff of very fine experts in the food line, and I know that anything he would recommend we are safe in voting for.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe we should have a statement from our friend here who is a member of the medical profession, Dr. Sarraf, on this question so we will thoroughly understand it, whether this is injurious to the health of people or not.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I have been sitting back on this debate and listening, trying to get an intelligent viewpoint on the thing myself.

I am not a biological chemist; I am a doctor. One thing I can say is this: this bill was brought before the House, debated, and defeated, brought back and now we are ready to vote on it a second time.

I have never received a note from the medical profession, any hospital association, any food house, any chemical house that was opposed to this legislation. So that is all the knowledge I have of this type of legislation; I wish I had more. If you want my personal viewpoint, I do not think that this will injure anybody.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 223, as follows:

An Act designating October fifteenth of each year "Poetry Day" and providing for the observance thereof

Poetry belongs to no age or language Among the arts it is second to none It presents a picture as real as any artist's canvas or sculptor's masterpiece It gives expression and meaning to countless inarticulate emotions It has rhythm and motion and music

A knowledge and appreciation of poetry is not only an essential element of a normal education but as well an invaluable source of inspiration benefit and enjoyment throughout life There never was a time when poetry and what it stands for was more important

In recognition of this and to do honor to both authors and their poetic works most of the states of the Union observe the fifteenth day of October of each year or another appropriate day as Poetry Day therefore

Section 1 The Governor shall annually issue his Proclamation designating and setting apart October fifteenth as Poetry Day and calling on the people of the Commonwealth the public schools and other educational institutions to observe the day with appropriate exercises and otherwise to the end that a firmer knowledge and deeper appreciation of the value of poetic expression may be engendered

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 984, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further providing for exceptions to compulsory attendance

Section 1 Clauses (3) and (4) of Section 1330 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1330 Exceptions to Compulsory Attendance The provisions of this act requiring regular attendance shall not apply to any child who

(3) Has attained the age of fifteen (15) years and is engaged in farm work on a farm owned or operated by his parents or persons in loco parentis or domestic service in [a private] the home of his parents or persons in loco parentis on a permit issued by the school board or the designated school official of the school district of the child's residence [in accordance with regulations which the Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized to prescribe]

(4) Has attained the age of fourteen (14) years and is engaged in farm work on a farm owned or operated by his parents or persons in loco parentis or domestic service in [a private] the home [on a permit issued as provided in clause (3) of this section] of his parents or persons in loco parentis and who has satisfactorily completed either in public or private schools the equivalent of the highest grade of the elementary school organization prevailing in the public schools of the district in which he resides [if the issuance of such a permit has first been recommended by the county or district superintendent of schools having supervision of the schools of the district where such child resides or by the principal of the private school where such child is enrolled and the reason therefor has been approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction]

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would prefer that the House be not in such a hurry, that we approach this bill with a greater degree of deliberation.

The bill before us presents a basic and fundamental issue. That issue is the right of individual conscience to secure exemption from the operation of the general law.

Over a period of a great many years, and as a result of an unending struggle there was first written into the law of Great Britain the principle that anything that one person could do, a group of people could do. If that is true, if that is the correct legal principle then it should be equally true that what a group, be that group large or small, may legally do because of conscience, an individual should be able to do.

In the realm of conscience there are no privileged classes. Your conscience is as dear to you as the conscience of any religious group may be. If because of conscientious objections we modify our general law in the case of a group of ten, in the case of a group of a thousand, in the case of a group of ten thousand we are equally bound to recognize the reign of conscience in the case of the individual.

It has been deemed fit by the people of this Commonwealth to write certain rules, regulations, stipulations into the law concerning the education of our youth.

Now, if any group anywhere in the Commonwealth can say "I do not like those rules and regulations; I want an exemption," then I say to you that any individual anywhere in the Commonwealth has the same right to say that for and on behalf of his children he wants an exemption. In order to secure a special privilege in matter of education must I necessarily be a member of a particular religious group?

The issue presented, as I say, is basic and fundamental. Either we have a general law regarding the education of our youth or we do not have. And if we are going to grant exemptions to any group, large or small, then I say that under any reasonable interpretation of legalistic procedure we should grant the same exemption to any individual. If we do that, if we give to the individual the right because of conscience to exclude himself from the practices of the Commonwealth regarding education we have no compulsory educational law at all. And so, on the basis of principle, I am opposed to this measure.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been requested to announce by the Director of the Pennsylvania State Council of Civil Defense, Mr. Richard Gerstell, that there will be an Air Raid Warning Signal today, July 10, 1951, at 3:00 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time.

On the first signal the Members, Officers, Employees of the House and Members of the Press are requested to proceed from the Hall of the House thence down the stairway at House elevator to the basement corridors along the Capitol Cafeteria and remain there until the all clear signal sounds.

Visitors present in the House will follow the directions of the Air Raid Wardens.

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, Jr. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price, yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mr. Filo?

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, Jr. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, relative to the statement that you made. To me the statement appears to be a publicity stunt just to get their hands on $20 million for Civilian Defense—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. The only question before the House is, Shall House Bill 984 pass finally?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, may I make a brief statement after the bill has been passed?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be recognized at a later time.

On the question recurring,

Shall House Bill 984 pass finally?

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, Jr. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews certainly has the wrong interpretation of this bill.

This bill does not involve any class distinction, it does not involve any special privileges for any group of people. All this bill does is to permit the local authorities on the school boards to grant work certificates. That is all the bill does. Under the present set-up work certificates are approved by the local school boards and then further approved by the Department in Harrisburg.

This bill eliminates the process of going to Harrisburg for final approval and leaves it up entirely to the local school boards, or at the local level. In short it is a form of home rule, giving the authority to the local boards who in many cases are familiar with the problems involved.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(The roll was called to and including the name of Mr. Swope when the Air Raid Warning Signal was sounded and the Members of the House and visitors proceeded, as directed, to the basement of the Capitol Building.

Following the All-Clear signal the Members returned to the House)

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the taking up of other business before the completion of the calling of the roll that was in progress when the Air Raid Warning Signal sounded? Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted.

SENATE MESSAGES

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 238

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 238, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 256 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P L 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundry rivers of the Commonwealth" by authorizing fish wardens to make certain arrests with warrants under certain circumstances

And has appointed Messrs. Wolfe, Mahany and Neff a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives already appointed on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 730

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 730, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 501 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by regulating the issuance of resident and non-resident hunters' licenses and tags for antlerless deer for the hunting of antlerless deer and eliminating the provisions for special permits for antlerless deer and for abrogation of open season on antlerless deer

And has appointed Messrs. Berger, Hare and McMennamin a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives already appointed on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 10, 1951

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), that when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 16, 1951, at two o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 16, 1951, at three thirty o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate? It was concurred in.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement regarding the proceedings here in the last—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, asks unanimous consent to address the House. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. A roll call is not necessary. Unanimous consent is required to address the House.

Mr. FILO. I ask for a division.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman it will be necessary to suspend Rule 14 for the purpose of securing permission to address the House without unanimous consent.

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1209, as follows:

An Act relating to marriage and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto

Section 1 License Necessary to Marry No person shall be joined in marriage in this Commonwealth until a marriage license shall have been obtained from the clerk of the orphans' court of any county A license so issued shall authorize a marriage ceremony to be performed in the county where the license is issued or in any other county of this Commonwealth Prior to issuance of said license the clerk of the orphans' court shall be satisfied as to the identity of one or both of the applicants

Section 2 Application for License to Marry No license to marry shall be issued by any clerk of the orphans' court except upon written and verified application made by both of the parties intending to marry Such application shall contain a statement of the full Christian name and surname of the male and female applicant color occupation birth place residence and ages of the parties whether the marriage contemplated is the first second or other marriage and that neither of the contracting parties is afflicted with transmissible disease together with the full Christian name and surname residence color occupation and birth place of their parents including the maiden name of the mother together with such other facts as may be necessary to determine whether any legal impediment to the proposed marriage exists

Section 3 Waiting Period After Application for License
No license to marry shall be issued until after three days from the day of making application therefor except in case of emergency or extraordinary circumstances when a judge of the orphans' court or a master duly appointed by said court may authorize a license to be issued at any time before the expiration of said three days

Section 4 Restrictions on The Issue of Marriage License
No license to marry shall be issued by any clerk of the orphans' court

(a) Until there shall be in the possession of the clerk of the orphans' court a statement or statements signed by a duly licensed physician of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any commissioned medical officer in the United States Army or Navy or any physician of the Public Health Service of the Federal Government that each applicant within thirty days of the application for the marriage license has submitted to an examination to determine the existence or non-existence of syphilis which examination has included a standard serological test or tests for syphilis and that in the opinion of the examining physician the applicant is not infected with syphilis or if so infected is not in a stage of that disease which is likely to become communicable The physician's statement shall be accompanied by a statement from the person in charge of the laboratory making the test or from some other person authorized to make such statement setting forth the name of the test the date it was made the name and address of the physician to whom a report was sent and the exact name and address of the physician to whom a report was sent and the exact name and address of the person whose blood was tested but not setting forth the result of the test and such other facts as the Department of Health may deem necessary to determine whether the applicant is infected with syphilis in a stage of that disease likely to become communicable

(b) If either of the applicants for a license is under the age of sixteen years except in special cases where a judge of the orphans' court shall have discretion to authorize a license to be issued by the clerk of the orphans' court where one or both applicants are under the age of sixteen years

(c) If either of the applicants is under the age of twenty-one years unless the consent of a parent or guardian shall be personally given before the clerk or be certified under the hand of a parent or guardian attested by two adult witnesses and in the latter case the signature of the parent or guardian shall be acknowledged before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments When any such minor has no guardian and a judge of the orphans' court is absent or not accessible for any reason the clerk of the orphans' court or a duly appointed assistant clerk of said court may appoint for such minor a guardian pro hoc vice

(b) Any applicant for a marriage license having been denied a physician's statement as required by this act shall have the right of appeal to the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for a review of the case and the said department shall after appropriate investigation issue or refuse to issue a statement in lieu of the physician's statement required by section one of this act

(c) The statements of the physician who examined the applicant and the laboratory which made the serological test shall be uniform throughout the State and shall be upon forms provided therefor by the State Department of Health These forms shall be filed by the clerk of the orphans' court separately from the applications for marriage licenses and shall be regarded as absolutely confidential by any and every person whose duty it may be to obtain make transmit or receive such information or report

Section 6 Examination of Applicants Each of the applicants for a marriage license shall appear in person before the clerk of the orphans' court of the county in which the license is to be issued or before an alderman magistrate or justice of the peace of that county or in any county of this Commonwealth At the time of such appearance the applicant or both of them if they appear together shall be examined under oath or affirmation as to

(a) The legality of the contemplated marriage

(b) Any prior marriage or marriages and its or their dissolution

(c) All the information required to be furnished on the application for license as prepared and approved by the Department of Health and

(d) The restrictions set forth in section four of this act
The application or applications shall thereupon be completed in accordance with such examination and duly sworn or subscribed to by the applicant or applicants.

Upon the completion of any application or applications taken before an alderman magistrate or justice of the peace such application or applications shall be promptly transmitted to the clerk of the orphans' court of the county in which the license is to be issued.

The clerk of the orphans' court wherein the license is sought when properly completed applications on behalf of each of the parties to the proposed marriage have been taken before him or duly forwarded to him by an alderman magistrate or justice of the peace shall if there is no legal objection to the marriage grant a license. Such license shall not be granted until after three days from the date of the most recent of the two applications therefor.

The clerk of the orphans' court shall provide application blanks upon request to aldermen magistrates and justices of the peace.

Section 7 Orphans' Court to Pass Upon Refusal of Clerk to Issue License

In those cases where the right to a license is not made to appear the clerk of the orphans' court shall refuse to issue the same. At once upon such refusal he shall certify the proceedings to the orphans' court of the county without formality or expense to the applicants for license who shall be notified by the clerk of such action.

Such application for a license to marry shall thereupon at the earliest possible time be heard by a judge of said court without a jury in court or in chambers during the term or in vacation as the case may be. The finding of the court that a license ought to issue or ought not to issue shall be final and the clerk of the orphans' court shall act in accordance therewith.

The true intent of this section is to secure for applicants a hearing before the orphans' court without affirmative action by said applicants and to give notice to them of such hearing its time and place without delay or expense.

Section 8 Recording Application and Consent Certificate. The applications for license and all consent certificates shall be immediately recorded by the clerk of the orphans' court in a book provided for that purpose at the cost of the county which shall be called the marriage docket and shall be a public record open to inspection or examination by the public at all times during business hours. Any person may make a copy or abstract of the entries contained in the said marriage license docket for the purpose of publication in any regularly published daily or weekly newspaper and it shall be lawful to publish said copy or abstract in any regularly published daily or weekly newspaper printed within the Commonwealth.

Section 9 Form of Marriage Licenses. Marriage Certificates (a) The marriage license as issued by the clerk of the orphans' court shall not be valid for a longer period than sixty days from the date of issue and shall be in form substantially as follows to wit:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1380, as follows:

An Act to further amend the title and section four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June on ethousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 2045) entitled as amended "An act relating to the support of indigent persons providing for the support of such persons by certain relatives and for the recovery of public moneys expended for care and assistance from the property and estates of such persons providing for guardians of the person and property of such persons providing for the arrest and seizure and sale of the property of deserters and providing procedure" by further defining the liability of property for expenses incurred for support maintenance assistance and burial

Section 1 The title of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 2045) entitled as amended "An act relating to the support of indigent persons providing for the support of such persons by certain relatives and for the recovery of public moneys expended for care and assistance from the property and estates of such persons providing for guardians of the person and property of such persons providing for the arrest and seizure and sale of the property of deserters and providing procedure" is hereby further amended to read as follows

An Act

Relating to the support of indigent persons providing for the support of such persons by certain relatives and for the recovery of public moneys expended for care and assistance from the property and estates of [such] certain persons providing for guardians of the person and property of such persons providing for the arrest and seizure and sale of the property of deserters and providing procedure

Section 2 Section four of said act clause (a) of which was amended by the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P L 310) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Property of [Indigent] Persons Liable for Expenses Incurred for Support and Assistance (a) The real and personal property of any [indigent] person shall be liable for the expenses of his support maintenance assistance and burial and for the expenses of the support maintenance assistance and burial of the spouse and minor children of such property owner incurred by any public body or public agency if such property was owned during the time such expenses were incurred or if [the right to ownership of such property existed or was acquired during the time such expenses were incurred] a right or cause of action existed during the time such expenses were incurred from which the ownership of such property resulted Any public body or public agency may sue the owner of such property for moneys so expended and any judgment obtained shall be a lien upon the said real estate of such [indigent] person and be collected as other judgments except as to the real and personal property comprising the home and furnishings of such [indigent] person which home shall be subject to the lien of such judgment but shall not be subject to execution on such judgment during the lifetime of the [indigent] person surviving spouse or dependent children

(b) An claim for the expenses of support maintenance assistance and burial of [an indigent] a person and for the support maintenance assistance and burial of his spouse and minor children held by any public body or public agency shall have the same force and effect against the real and personal estate of a deceased [indigent] person as other debts of a decedent and shall be ascertained and recovered in the same manner

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of the bill a few questions in explanation of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have an explanation of the purpose of the bill and what is sought to be accomplished by it.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, I wish to state that the purpose of this bill is to expedite in many cases the collection or the repayment of funds which have been expended for the care of people on the part of the Commonwealth.

If you take the bill itself you will find that the word "indigent" on page 3—Do you have a copy of the bill?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I have not.

Mr. McMILLEN. You will find they are taking out the word "such" and putting in the word "certain" which eliminates the reference back in the title to the words "indigent persons."

We have found in the process of collecting money for the Commonwealth that some of the courts have held that it is improper to consider an indigent person a person with property and as such when the department has attempted to collect on real estate owned by a person who received public assistance, the courts have thrown the case out. In many cases it has cost the taxpayers a considerable amount of money.

Also you will find that by putting in the words "certain persons" which means anyone who should draw public assistance and who owns property and who has given one of the bonds that is required, it makes it a much simpler reference. It does not need to recite past cases as I am told.

It is a matter of expediting and clarification of the present law.

Mr. LOPRESTI. As I understand the bill the purpose is to collect from husbands for support given to a wife or minor children. As I understand the present law a husband or a spouse is always responsible for the support, under our laws that now exist, of the wife and of the minor children. I am just trying to figure out the necessity for this bill.

I do not know of any reason why the Department could not sue the spouse and I do not know why it will be eliminated under this particular bill or how it will be eliminated.

Mr. McMILLEN. Well it is true that they may sue but there have been cases and there have been court tests of this particular part of the law, which have resulted in the courts throwing out the cases entirely; saying that the Commonwealth can not come back and sue a supposedly indigent person, because on the face of the facts an indigent person should be one who has no assets.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I still do not get the point. We are now attempting to collect from people who are not indigent and we can collect from them under the law by filing a suit. After this bill is passed we will still have to file that suit, will we not?

Mr. McMILLEN. Not necessarily.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is this going to give the Commonwealth the right to go and attach the man's property without filing a suit?

Mr. McMILLEN. We have already that power if he has signed the bond.

The question comes up here as to whether the indigent person, when you leave the word "indigent" in here—the question is how can you sue or collect from an indigent person, because they are supposed to be those people without any assets. As a result of that type of reasoning, which I think is false, cases have been lost. This is only to make a clarification and make it more certain that that particular type of thought and thinking cannot prevail.

I agree with you that it seems sort of foolish to even have this bill here. But nevertheless the facts are that some courts have rules on this particular phase and the Commonwealth has lost.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is the gentleman prepared to give us the cases in which the courts have ruled that way.

Mr. McMILLEN. I am sorry I cannot quote you the cases. I regret that I cannot do that.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I want to get back to this question again. Is it the opinion of the gentleman that a claim can be filed without suit being brought against a spouse?

Mr. McMILLEN. If you have this bond you automatically have a lien on the property. Of course collection cannot be enforced on any real estate pledge under this bond or that might be owned by the individuals who signed the bond or during the lifetime of the spouse or any minor children, there cannot be any collection on this bond. The law specifically states that. But by the same token when the bond is on the record that individual who received assistance cannot pass his property on to someone else and short-change the Commonwealth who acted as his banker at that particular time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, that is true regardless of whether we pass this bill or not. If a person signs a bond you enter the judgment regardless of whether this particular act is passed. Is that correct?

Mr. McMILLEN. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. So this act will not help us in any case where there is a bond signed?

Mr. McMILLEN. Except to clarify the thinking that has existed among some judges who have ruled on this case.

I am reliably informed by the Department of Public Assistance that this will simplify the matter; this will take away chance for this particular type of thinking to exist or decisions to be rendered.

The SPEAKER. The Members are reminded to address their remarks to the Chair.

Mr. LOPRESTI. One other question, Mr. Speaker. The bill mentions spouse or minor children. Does the gentleman think it can be construed to make a man responsible for support given to a wife who has left him perhaps for several months or years before and living with someone else, would this bill automatically make him responsible and liable for it?

Mr. McMILLEN. I would think under the present law he is liable. If he is not legally divorced from the woman, whether she is living with him or not, whether there are minor children and wherever there are minor children the man is still liable for their support.

I would say that is true under the present law, so that is not changed here. What is the difference whether a man is living with his children or away from them? He is morally responsible for their care and support as long as they are minor children. He is legally responsible.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I was careful to avoid mentioning the children. I am talking about the wife who goes away.

In a great many cases when she attempts to recover the court will not permit her to recover for support. Perhaps if the Commonwealth were to go in, they likewise would refuse to grant the support order for a judgment.

Under this act, is it possible that courts could say in all cases the husband would be liable even though she had gone and left for a year, or two years or five years before that?

Mr. McMILLEN. I would say yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, under this bill he would be always liable?

Mr. McMILLEN. Well I think the gentleman is right now. I do not think there is any question about that. In fact I cannot see any reason why he should not be.

Why should a man and a wife be allowed to separate and become a charge on the Commonwealth and the man go free. That is unthinkable to leave a situation exist that way.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, of course there are a lot of circumstances where a wife has no claim on a husband. Some situations might arise where the wife perhaps is more wealthy in her own rights than the husband and it might be he that deserves the support rather than she.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, of course if he were to die or something, the property would go to her and he still continues to be liable for the support and the care of the minor children in the family as long as any of them live and use that as their home.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in other words this bill is merely to clarify and to eliminate certain court decisions which are contrary to what the law should be but we do not know what those decisions are or where or when they came about?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I regret that I do not have them titled so that I could give the gentleman the page and number to refer to, but that in the information that was given to me.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, so I may get away from this microphone while there is just one patch still on my face, that is all that is necessary.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, listening to the debate, it sounded somewhat to me as though there were cases where the court possibly feels that a person receiving old age assistance and owning a home is not entitled to receive assistance.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, no, I cannot agree with that.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, on what grounds then is it that the State cannot collect? Why does the court throw out certain cases and rule that the Commonwealth is not entitled to collect?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, they rule on the basis of the argument that anyone who is indigent to begin with is one who does not possess any assets and therefore, from a technical point of view, you cannot reap a return from someone who has nothing to begin with.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in other words, anyone who has anything is not entitled to assistance.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would not make that statement because you may own a home and it could happen to you or me or anyone else through the years of our lives at sometime where we could own our own little home, but because of lack of work or any number of things, we would find it necessary to appeal to someone to help us financially for a short time.

We were certainly entitled to help and assistance but we were also just as morally obligated to repay those people who helped us when we again got ourselves financially in shape to do it.

The thing is that this property which you are assigning in the bond becomes actually your bank account and the State becomes the banker and keeps handing you money. It does not matter. In the acceptance of relief, when you are getting relief, the State does not put any limit on you.

You may draw $5,000 worth of assistance and yet your property may be worth only $2000 or your property may be worth $4000; on the other hand you may draw only $150, $200 or $300. They put no limit on you. They become your banker in effect; but in return you are asked to return the assistance which you received. I believe in that principle.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, possibly the gentleman and I agree on certain principles here, but the question resolves itself into the position where you have certain cases where people have received assistance who do have property and the court ruled that you cannot now collect from that property. Is that correct?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, that appears to be the situation that has arisen.

Mr. LOVETT. Then Mr. Speaker, unless the gentleman gives to us the particular ruling of the court as to why they make such a ruling, I say we revert back to the very point where certain courts may say that just because people own a home—

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is getting back to another point, he is not getting to the point that they did receive assistance and the Commonwealth made no distinction.

That was purely a technical argument on the part of the court. The court did not say that they were not entitled to it, or they should not get it. The fact is they did get it, and the State is trying to receive its money back, and because of this technical ruling, they are stopped and cannot go on and collect.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, and what is this technical ruling that the court makes?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have told the gentleman that it is purely a technicality, an interpretation of what the word "indigent" means. That is all there is to it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in other words, we have certain cases in the state of Pennsylvania in which people who own property have received assistance. After their death, the children become of age, the Commonwealth moves in and collects back what they paid providing there is enough revenue there to be paid back, to fill that debt?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, then we also have other cases in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania where the same condition exists but through some technicality of the court, they do not do it.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is right. It is purely a technical interpretation and not all judges, not all courts make the same interpretation. So we take out the word "indigent" and we put in the words "certain persons" which means any and all who draw public assistance. We not only do that but we go on in the bill and we state that this property is liable for maintenance, assistance and burial and for the expenses of the support, maintenance, assistance and burial of the spouse and minor children of such property owner. It leaves no question. No court can take any other interpretation from the act.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman, Mr. McMillen, that maybe he and I do not agree 100 percent on certain principles.

I personally have always felt that the home of an individual is something sacred to themselves and that there should not be any attachment on that home. Our courts ruling in some of these cases have felt possibly the same way.

If this particular bill is closing up or putting teeth into the law for something that I do not believe in in the first place, I certainly do not feel that I should support the legislation.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman believes in helping people. I know his kind nature. Over the years in my experience with him here I know that is his inclination. But I dare say, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Westmoreland does not feel that he should continually pay out to his neighbors, or anyone, money which he does not feel he will be repaid. They may be in difficulty, but there is a limit to his resources. The same thing is true with the Commonwealth.

I believe very thoroughly, very firmly in the principle of having committed the home, real estate, property or whatever it is, of an individual to repay the debt that they owe to the Commonwealth.

It is interesting to note that over the years this thing has meant a lot to Pennsylvania.

I would like to read into the record, so that we might have some knowledge of this, what the reimbursement program really means to Pennsylvania. Here is a digest of 3,970 claims; 3,530 cases where the agreement method had been used. The legal costs incurred came to $5,751 or $1.63 per claim for collection.

In 440 cases in which court action was taken, where you had to go in and make a legal entry, the legal costs amounted to $24,082, or the claim by legal action jumped from $1.63 per case to $54.73 per case. There alone is a savings for the Commonwealth.

The total collections over the period of years has amounted to $23,069,978.08. At the present time there are 64,247 agreement cases on record. If we were to use the average amount of each claim of $545 each, we would find that there is a potential return to the Commonwealth of $35,000,000. That is not any mean figure, especially at a time like this when we are trying to find money to pay for the absolute necessities of government.

Taking care of people is one of the absolute necessities; but on the other hand, if you turn this thing loose and you do not have any restrictions, you will find that you will need more money than you need right now.

Many of the states took out this requirement and it is interesting to note today that 30 states in the United States require his reimbursement. We find in going over this that the states of Indiana, Utah, Nevada, Nebraska show a direct effect of the lien provisions. In those states the Legislature reenacted lien laws after previously repealing the law.

In Indiana, for example, it was felt that the absence of the lien provision encouraged many adult children to fail to support their parents, and as a consequence the assistance load was extremely heavy. The belief seems to be borne out by the fact that when the new lien law became effective the public assistance case load dropped 10 percent within a very short time.

There are two things involved here. One is to make people conscious of their moral obligations and to make them know or to help them understand that the Legislature in general is willing to help, but in return they have an obligation to repay. There are many more facts and figures which could be presented to the case but I think it has gone far enough now.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, on this question that we are debating here, there are two problems in my mind.

One is a case of receiving public assistance, and it is a case of receiving old-age assistance. I know that the membership of this house possibly, if we had an opportunity to vote to make an out-right pension for old people in Pennsylvania, would support such legislation without any strings tied to it at all.

This particular problem here deals with both the issues. We find no fault in the case of public assistance where there is property and where there has been a bond signed that the State possibly should be reimbursed for the money that they spent in those cases, but in cases of old people who are past the age of 65 or whatever the age limit is in which you received old-age assistance, that is difficult. I know that we receive all kinds of mail in the interests of the old people of Pennsylvania to enact an old-age pension not an old-age assistance. The only pension that you have in Pennsylvania is the blind pension, but we should have in Pennsylvania an old-age pension with no strings attached. The point that I am raising here is that this particular piece of legislation deals with both those questions and you cannot separate them. Therefore, I am opposed to this piece of legislation for that reason and that reason alone.

I believe in helping the old, the aged, I believe in helping people when they are out of work and cannot find employment to help themselves. I believe that if they are young and there is a means or paying back I find no fault with that. But in case of the old people I say honestly and truthfully to you that we as Members of the legislature should at some time pass an out-right old-age pension in Pennsylvania.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise in opposition to the bill, but I do wish to make a statement that I feel may throw some light on the subject.

We find dentists, physicians, undertakers and so forth who have to care for these people who cannot care for themselves, have to do it through the welfare organization or through pensions or through institutions of that type in taking care of the indigent or the aged.

I find that the people are not informed as to what they are entitled to. I feel that it is the problem of the Welfare Department and their visitors. The reason is that they do not know just what they are entitled to and just what, under the circumstances, the people of Pennsylvania are trying to do for them.

I believe the educational side has been neglected. For an instance we could offer hundreds of specific cases where people come and say that you are entitled to give them this and that. Under the public assistance, the aged and the Welfare Department program they do not pay for it neither do they provide for it.

For instance if we are going to make a plate, they demand gold and under what imagination do they permit their constituents to go to a dentist demanding that they must have gold. We feel it is ornamental when it comes to a plate. We feel it is ornamental unless it is otherwise conservation of human structure.

Therefore, I feel a lot of our problems have been within the Department, that their visitors do not explain to their constituents what they are entitled to, and what the people of Pennsylvania through the Welfare organization are trying to do. It is a minimum and not a maximum. It is just trying to keep the fellow out of his pains and his misery and to tide him over so he might be able to do better for himself. I think if these things were carried home to our Welfare organizations, a lot of people would stop giving a lot of other people headaches.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 533, as follows:

An Act concerning contributions among joint tortfeasors release of tortfeasors defining the rights and duties of contribution in such cases making uniform the law with reference thereto and repealing inconsistent legislation The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 For the purpose of this act the term "joint tortfeasors" means two or more persons jointly or severally liable in tort for the same injury to persons or property whether or not judgment has been recovered against all or some of them

Section 2 (1) The right of contribution exists among joint tortfeasors (2) A joint tortfeasor is not entitled to a money judgment for contribution until he has by payment discharged the common liability or has paid more than his pro rata share thereof (3) A joint tortfeasor who enters into a settlement with the injured person is not entitled to recover contribution from another joint tortfeasor whose liability to the injured person is not extinguished by the settlement

Section 3 The recovery of a judgment by the injured person against one joint tortfeasor does not discharge the other joint tortfeasors

Section 4 A release by the injured person of one joint tortfeasor whether before or after judgment does not discharge the other tortfeasors unless the release so provides but reduces the claim against the other tortfeasor in the amount of the consideration paid for the release or in any amount of the consideration paid for the release or in any amount or proportion by which the release provides that the total claim shall be reduced if greater than the consideration paid

Section 5 A release by the injured person of one joint tortfeasor does not relieve him from liability to make contribution to another tortfeasor unless the release is given before the right of the other tortfeasor to secure a money judgment for contribution has accrued and provides for a reduction to the extent of the pro rata share of the released tortfeasor of the injured person's damages recoverable against all the other tortfeasors

Section 6 This act does not impair any right of indemnity under existing law

Section 7 This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states that enact it

Section 8 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Contribution Among Tortfeasors Act"

Section 9 The act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1075) entitled "An act to provide for contribution among tortfeasors" is hereby repealed

All other acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 10 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. DALRYMPLE, BLAIR, WATERHOUSE, KOLANKIEWICZ, TAYLOR, BYRNE and BEAVER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1951.

It is with deep sorrow that we learn of the passing of Mrs. Mary Polaski, widow of Michael Polaski and mother of our fellow member, Julian Polaski, who died at her home in Erie, Pennsylvania on Thursday morning, the 28th day of June, after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Polaski is survived by three sons, Leo, Frank and Julian, four daughters, Irene, Dorothy, Theresa and Anna, and three grandchildren.

In addition three brothers, the Rev. Stanley Orlemanski of Springfield, Massachusetts, the Rev. Charles Orlemanski of New Kensington, Pennsylvania, and the Rev. Anthony Orlemanski of Cleveland, Ohio, and three sisters, Hattie and Louise Orlemanski of Springfield, Massachusetts, and Mrs. Anna Kryzan of Youngstown, Ohio, survive her.

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family of Mrs. Mary Polaski upon the death of their mother and sister; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the family of Mrs. Polaski.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HELM asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Labor Relations to meet during the session of the House.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. EWING, COOPER, HAUDENSHIELD and RONALD L. THOMPSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1951.

Our young and personable reading clerk, John F. Mathias, like hosts of men before him has let down his guard, has unstopped his ear—and the arrow of romantic love has winged its singing way deep into his heart to the accompaniment of the siren appeal of rapturous happiness.

Clara Jean Hayes, the lovely recipient of Jack's ardor and devotion, has sought sanctuary with him in a castle of thralldom, impregnable to the raucous voices of the world and abounding with the sweet whispers of ecstasy.

Clara and Jack have been aware of their mutual love for five years and on June 23rd, in the Rectory of St. Lukes R. C. Church, Carnegie, Pennsylvania, the Reverend Father Heyl made submission complete. Thus, two of the nicest people in the world became one of the grandest.

Jack and Clara both attended and were graduated at the Carnegie High School. Jack separately found his way to Kiski and then spent two years at Dickinson, before joining our group at Harrisburg. Clara is employed by the Hagen Corporation in Pittsburgh.

Without a doubt, Clara and Jack were the happiest people at their wedding, although it is a certain conjecture that the proudest were the parents of Clara and Jack; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate Jack on his successful quest of Carnegie's fairest and express to Clara our commendation of her intuitive appreciation of a man of parts and quality; and be it further

Resolved, That in view of our certainty that their life together will be happy and blissful, we of the House hereby pledge ourselves to draft another resolution at the proper time embodying our congratulations on their celebration of the golden wedding anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mathias.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Reading Clerk.

The READING CLERK. Mr. Speaker, I have been told by many of you gentlemen that it is a nice life; some of you say "You poor fellow," but I always say, everyone has to learn for himself, so that is what I am doing.

MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very pleased to welcome back to the House the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Flack, and to observe his wonderful recovery.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the negotiations between the warring factions that have temporarily interrupted the deliberations of this General Assembly have reached the point where the Members of this House can safely begin to plan their summer vacations?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, summer being almost over, I am afraid they had better plan an early fall vacation.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that as yet the administration and the negotiating committees have been unable to develop any terminal facilities for this Session?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I have to answer the gentleman by saying that the negotiating committee has met today for the first time. As the gentleman probably knows, a committee like that can and does take probably one or two meetings to function correctly, and anything can happen almost any time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does that mean that we are justified in crediting some of the reports that have been current, to the effect that we will probably meet next week and then there will be a recess after that?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the only reason that we would have a recess the week following next would be that that is Primary Election week, and I am quite sure that there are Members on both sides of the House that would find it difficult or be unable to be present in their seats.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will there be a recess during Primary Week?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there will be, yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will there be a recess for more than one week?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, as far as I know at this time we are not planning on having a recess more than Primary week.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one further question. Is there any reason to believe that this House, this General Assembly will be able to adjourn sine die before the middle of August?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would hope that we would be able to adjourn sine die by the middle of August, yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is that the best information that the Majority Leader can give the Members of this House and the public at this time, that he can only hope we will adjourn sine die by the middle of August?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can only give the gentleman my own personal opinion on that. It is pretty hard to predict anything in the future, but I would say that I personally hope we can adjourn by the middle of August.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his sad and discouraging news.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Wolfe and myself, I introduce the following bill.

Mr. President, by way of explanation, I want to say that this bill is designed to take care of an inequality in the soldiers' bonus legislation. In the present act passed by the Legislature, one section of the act gives to an heir of the deceased veteran the right to collect the bonus. Under another section, it enumerates those who are eligible to receive, and we have discovered through a very personal matter that there are hundreds of cases where the direct heir of the veteran has passed away since the application was made, and the bonus bureau now takes the position it cannot pay the bonus to the family of the heir. Therefore, Mr. President, this is to correct that inequality.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DENT and WOLE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 787, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of Section 6 of the act, approved the eleventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 565), entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States or of any of her allies during World War II; providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who, because of death or incapacity, cannot personally receive compensation; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation, and providing penalties," by including children of the father of deceased veterans as persons to whom compensation shall be paid.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HARE. I would like to ask unanimous consent, Mr. President, to introduce into the record an editorial from one of our leading Pittsburgh newspapers this morning.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Hearing no objection, the editorial will be spread upon the official record of the Senate.

"FINE'S CRITICS EAT CROW

"When Governor Fine's budget had been dissected to the Senate's satisfaction and the showdown was at hand, some of the Administration's severest fiscal critics had failed to find in the budget much of the fat of which they had long complained.

"The Governor appears to have finally established the need of new State taxes and the only question remaining for the General Assembly is the form the taxes should take. A special bipartisan Senate committee has examined the budget and agreed that the Governor needs everything he asked for plus $62,000,000 more.

"The $62,000,000, incidentally, represents just about the amount required to meet the cost of the veterans' bonus during the current biennium.

"The people of Pennsylvania voted for the bonus, without at the same time approving some form of tax to pay for it, and now the bill has fallen due. They must reconcile themselves to meeting this new expense along with others that have accrued as a result of inflation and a need for some expansion of State services.

"The Governor insists that the State needs $112,000,000 in new tax money to balance the budget for the next two years. He still thinks a flat personal income tax is the best and fairest means of raising the money. He will, however, accept any other reasonable tax program that the Assembly can agree upon.

"The Senate compromise committee is trying to find a new tax package that will be acceptable to the House, which approved the personal income tax, and to Governor Fine.

"Among its proposals is the reimposition of a tax on soft drinks, this time making it two cents rather than the one-cent tax that expired earlier this summer. We oppose this proposal because it is unjust to single out one product for what amounts to punitive and discriminatory tax treatment.

"A fairer proposal, it seems to us, is to add another one per cent increase to the corporate net income tax. The corporate tax rate was boosted from four to five per cent earlier in the session. One per cent will yield more than $50,000,000 in revenue at the current rate of production and earnings. Thus, if two points were added to the corporate rate of this session, instead of one, the tax would yield just about enough additional revenue to meet the State's needs.

"In any event, we are glad to see the Governor and the Assembly getting closer together on the budget and tax problem. An early decision on this matter is needed so that the Assembly can then enact other legislation dependent upon a tax program and get out of Harrisburg. It has long since worn out its welcome."

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 108 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up at this time from the desk Senate Resolution No. 108, introduced by the distinguished gentleman from Chester, Senator Scarlett. For the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, the resolution deals with a study for the establishment of a veterinarian school at State College. There are two resolutions; one is a House Resolution and the other one is Senate Resolution No. 108. I will call them both up for consideration. The House Resolution is a Concurrent Resolution, and we have amended it and will return it to the House for their concurrence.

The resolution was read as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SCHOOL OF VET- ERINARY MEDICINE AT PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

In the Senate, January 15, 1951.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College has an excellent agricultural curriculum but no school for the training of veterinarians; and

Whereas, Such a school of veterinary medicine would complement such existing outstanding curriculum and would prevent the youth of this Commonwealth who desire such higher education from being deprived of the opportunity to acquire the same; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study the feasibility of establishing a School of Veterinary Medicine at Pennsylvania State College; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall file a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at its next regular session by February one, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, together with drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry out the same.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 34 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the table House Resolution No. 34, which was passed by the House and was amended in the Senate, and ask that it be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 16, 1951.

Whereas, There are now on Pennsylvania farms dairy animals, poultry and general livestock worth in the aggregate more than $412,000,000, producing approximately 75 per cent of the total annual income of Pennsylvania agriculture or in monetary terms about $575,000,000, a year; and

Whereas, The greatest economic losses to the dairy, poultry and general livestock industry are occasioned by the inroads of animal diseases and parasites; and

Whereas, Existing facilities for training persons qualified for the practice of veterinary medicine within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are inadequate to meet the existing and still growing need for doctors of veterinary medicine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College by virtue of its scientific personnel; its resources for research; its close working relationship with dairy, poultry and general livestock raisers throughout the State and its physical location is the appropriate institution to develop the needed facilities; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General

Assembly hereby directs the Joint State Government Commission to present to the General Assembly at its next regular session specific and detailed information concerning the nature and estimated cost of requisite buildings and equipment and also an estimate of the annual expense involved in the operation and maintenance of a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College which would best meet the reasonable needs of the Commonwealth and its citizens for such veterinary medical service

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the House of Representatives with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (H. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

BILLS SIGNED

The President pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 265, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one thousand one hundred seventy-six of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further providing for military leaves for employes of school districts.

Whereupon,

The President pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, July 16, 1951, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:15 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, July 16, 1951, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, July 11, 1951

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

Lord God, Ruler of all the earth, receive our prayer, we beseech Thee for our State. We pray Thee that Thy power and mercy may rule those who guide, and order those who legislate. Let all seek the good of all people and not of self. Let them govern in the fear of God and not the fear of man or for personal advantage of their own. O Lord, bless us, cleanse us and defend us and revive Thy work in this Nation, that we may indeed be a people fearing Thee and doing righteousness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of. Tuesday, July 10, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 390, entitled:

An Act requiring all buildings under construction or alteration which are to be five stories or more in height to be equipped with an elevator for the use of building construction workmen imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry and providing penalties.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PENGLASE. I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Labor Relations Committee, Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PENGLASE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman give us the reason for recommitting this bill?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the bill has been amended and has been rather seriously changed. There is also an error in the title on the calendar, so we feel that the bill should go back to Committee for correction.

Mr. PENGLASE. Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Helm tell us whether the purpose of returning this bill to committee is for the purpose of killing the bill?

Mr. HELM. It certainly is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PENGLASE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

If the bill is not going back to Committee to be killed but to be adjusted with the Senate bill and so forth, I have no objection to that, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1292, as follows:

(c) No vehicle [except fire department equipment] shall exceed a total maximum length including any load thereon of four hundred twenty (420) inches except fire department equipment and except buses with toilet facilities which shall not exceed a length of four hundred eighty (480) inches and which when in excess of thirty-five (35) feet in over-all length shall not have less than three (3) axles and no combination of two (2) vehicles inclusive of load and bumpers coupled together shall exceed a total maximum length of six hundred (600) inches excepting that nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the transportation by a combination of vehicles of articles impossible of dismemberment which do not exceed seventy (70) feet.

1. No motor vehicle shall be operated upon a highway drawing or having attached thereto more than one other vehicle. Provided That a [tow] trailer not exceeding ten (10) feet in length may be attached to one motor vehicle for the purpose of towing another vehicle requiring service to which such [tow] trailer is also attached.

2. The distance between any two vehicles one of which is towing or drawing the other shall not exceed fifteen (15) feet from one vehicle to the other except when the load on the towed vehicle is coupled directly to and is not more than five (5) feet from the towing vehicle. Whenever the connection consists of a chain rope bar or cable there shall be displayed upon such connection a flag not less than twelve (12) inches in length and width. Every trailer while being drawn upon the highway shall be so attached to the vehicle drawing the same as to prevent the wheels of such trailer from deflecting more than six (6) inches from the path of the drawing vehicle's wheels.

Section 25 The penalty clause of Section 903 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 328) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 903 Weight of Vehicles and Loads

* * * * *

Penalty Any person operating any vehicle or combination of vehicles upon any highway with a gross weight or with weight on any one axle or wheel exceeding by more than five (5) per centum the maximum [gross] weight allowed in that particular case and not exceeding by more than ten (10) per centum the maximum [gross] weight allowed shall in each case upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five ($25) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days and any person operating any vehicle or combination of vehicles on any highway with a gross weight or with weight on any one axle or wheel exceeding by more than ten (10) per centum the maximum [gross] weight allowed in that particular case shall in each case upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty ($50) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

Section 26 Section 904 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2329) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 904 Officers May Weigh Vehicles and Require Removal of Excess Load Any peace officer who shall be in uniform and shall exhibit his badge or other sign of authority having reason to believe that the weight of a vehicle or combination of vehicles and load is unlawful is authorized to weigh the same either by means of portable or stationary scales or may require that such vehicle or combination of vehicles be driven to the nearest stationary scales in the event such scales are within a distance of two (2) miles. The peace officer may then require the operator to unload immediately such portion of the load as may be necessary to decrease the gross weight of such vehicle or combination of vehicles to the maximum gross weight specified in this act except as herein provided for special permits. And further provided That no arrests shall be made or information brought in cases where the maximum gross weights provided in this act are not exceeded by more than five (5) per centum thereof.

Penalty Any person refusing to unload excess weight when so ordered or violating any of the other provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of [ten ($10) dollars] fifty ($50) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days.

Section 27 Section 905 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 751) and in part by the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1718) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 905 Permits for Excessive Size and Weight (a) The Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may in their discretion upon application in writing accompanied by the fee provided in this act and good cause being shown therefor issue a special permit in writing authorizing the applicant to operate or move either a vehicle or combination of vehicles or a vehicle and load or a combination of vehicles and their load or loads of a size or weight exceeding the maximum specified in this act upon any highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which the authorities granting the permit are responsible. When a permit has been issued by the Secretary of Highways no other authorities shall require any further or additional permit for any portion of the route specified therein. Every such permit shall be issued for a single trip and shall designate the route to be traversed subject to such rules regulations restrictions or conditions as shall be deemed necessary by the authority granting such permit. Provided That upon request included in the application a combination permit may be issued for a single continuous round trip whether or not a load or loads may be transported for the entire trip but no substantial increase in the size or weight of vehicle or combination of vehicles or of load shall be made between intermediate points without supplemental permit. The Secretary of Highways may in his discretion issue a single permit for any fixed number of movements across the highway of vehicles or combinations thereof exceeding the maximum size or weight specified in this act at specified locations. Whenever any such permit shall have been issued for crossing the highway it shall be unlawful to move said vehicles along the highway. The movement of any vehicle or load requiring a permit shall impose the obligation on the permittee to restore or replace any section of highway or bridge damaged as a result of such movement whether or not such damage may be attributable to negligence on the part of the permittee. Every such permit shall be carried in the vehicle to which it refers and shall be open to inspection by any peace officer or employee of the Department of Highways of this Commonwealth or to any person having collision with or suffering injury from such vehicle.

(b) In the event of a catastrophe or accident affecting the public safety or convenience it shall be lawful to operate or move a vehicle of a size or weight in excess of that permitted by this act if a report thereof is immediately made in writing to the Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth or local authorities. In such cases a permit shall issue subsequent to the movement.

Penalty Any person operating or moving a vehicle or load of a size or weight exceeding the maximum specified in this act without first having obtained a permit or permits so to do and any person altering or forging a special permit for excessive size and weight or presenting or exhibiting an altered or forged special permit for excessive size and weight shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty ($50) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

Section 28 Clause (a) and the penalty clause of Section 1001 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2329) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1001 Reckless Driving Reckless driving is unlawful and for the purpose of this act is construed to include the following:

(a) Any person who drives any vehicle or street car or trackless trolley omnibus upon a highway carelessly [and wilfully or wantonly] disregarding the rights or safety of others or in a manner so as to endanger any person or property.

Penalty Any person charged with reckless driving shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than twenty-five ($25) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

Section 29 Section 1004 of said act as amended by the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 315) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1004 Drive on Right Side of Highway Upon all highways of sufficient width except upon one way streets the driver of a vehicle shall drive the same upon the right half of the highway and shall drive [a slow moving vehicle] as closely as possible to the right-hand edge or curb of such highway unless it is impracticable to travel on such side of the highway and except when overtaking and passing another vehicle subject to the limitations applicable in overtaking and passing set forth in this act. Provided however That the provisions of this section shall not apply to ridden animals of the National Guard or of the Regular Army of the United States of America when actually engaged in training or maneuvers.

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days.

Section 30 Subsections (b) and (d) of Section 1012 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1135) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1012 Signals on Starting Stopping or Turning

* * * * *

(b) The signal herein required shall be given by means of the hand and arm in the manner herein specified or by an approved mechanical or electrical signal device [when the secretary finds that a vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent the hand and arm signal from being visible to the front and rear the signal shall be given by a device] of a type which at the time of its use is approved by the secretary.

* * * * *

(d) The secretary is hereby authorized [and it shall be his duty] to make rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act for the efficient administration of this section [excepting that he shall make no finding under subsection (b) of this section relating to mechanical or electrical signal devices affecting commercial vehicles which measure less than thirteen (13) feet from the center of the top of the steering column to the rear end of such vehicle or when the body of such vehicle extends less than twenty (20) inches to the left of the center of the top of the steering column].

Section 31 Subsection (d) of Section 1016 of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 751) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1016 Vehicles Must Stop at Through Highways and Stop Intersections

* * * * *

(d) This section shall not apply to vehicles when operated with due regard for safety under the direction of the police in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or [to] persons charged with or suspected of any such violation nor to fire department or fire patrol vehicles responding to a fire alarm nor to ambulances when traveling in emergencies. The exemption however shall not protect the driver of any such vehicle from the reckless disregard of the safety of others.

Section 32 Subsection (a) and the penalty clause of Section 1019 of said act the former as amended by the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1718) the latter as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1135) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1019 Stopping on Highways

(a) No person shall park or leave standing any vehicle proved or main traveled portion of any highway outside whether attended or unattended upon the paved or unpaved of a business or residence district when it is practicable.

to park or leave such vehicle standing off the paved or improved or main traveled portion of such highway. Provided In no event shall any person park or leave standing any vehicle whether attended or unattended upon any highway unless a clear and unobstructed width of not less than fifteen (15) feet upon the main traveled portion of said highway opposite such standing vehicle shall be left for free passage of other vehicles thereon nor unless a clear view of such vehicle may be obtained from a distance of [three hundred (300)] five hundred (500) feet in each direction upon such highway. And further provided No person shall park or stand any vehicle whether attended or unattended in any no parking area where official "No Parking" signs have been erected in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand one hundred and thirteen (1113) of this act.

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than two ($2) dollars or more than ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days.

Section 33 Section 1020 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P L 751) and in part by the acts approved the sixteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P L 1056) the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 1718) and the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P L 1135) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1020 Parking prohibited in Specified Places No person shall park a vehicle or permit it to stand whether attended or unattended upon a highway in any of the following places:

- 1 Within an intersection
- 2 On a cross-walk
- 3 Between a safety zone and the adjacent curb or within thirty (30) feet of points on the curb immediately opposite the ends of a safety zone unless local officials shall indicate a different length by signs or markings
- 4 Within twenty-five (25) feet from the intersection of curb lines or if none then within fifteen (15) feet of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of highways
- 5 Within thirty (30) feet upon the approach to any official flashing signal stop sign or traffic signal located at the side of the roadway
- 6 Within fifteen (15) feet of the driveway entrance to any fire station
- 7 Within fifteen (15) feet of a fire hydrant
- 8 In front of a private driveway]
- 9 On a sidewalk
- 10 [Along-side] In front of a private driveway or along-side any street or highway excavation or obstruction nor opposite the same unless a clear and unobstructed width of not less than twenty (20) feet upon the main traveled portion of the said street or highway shall be left free for passage of other vehicles thereon
- 11 On the roadway side of any vehicle stopped or parked at the curb or edge of the highway
- 12 At any place where official signs have been erected prohibiting standing and parking
- 13 Within fifty (50) feet of the nearest rail of a steam or interurban railway crossing
- 14 Where such stopped or parked vehicle would prevent the free movement of a street car
- 15 Except when necessary in obedience to traffic regulations or traffic signs or signals or where angle parking is permitted the operator of a vehicle shall not stop stand or park such vehicle on the highway within a business or residence district other than parallel with the edge of the highway headed in the direction of traffic and with the curb side of the vehicle within six (6) inches of the edge of the highway or curb. Vehicles which because of type or construction cannot load or unload parallel to the curb shall be exempt while loading or unloading only from the requirements of standing parallel to the curb.

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than two ($2) dollars nor more than ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days.

Section 34 Section 1101 of said act as last amended by the acts approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 1718) and the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 2329) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1101 When Authorities May Restrict Right to Use Highways

(a) The Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth and local authorities may by ordinance or resolution or ruling prohibit the operation of vehicles upon any highway or impose restrictions as to the weight of vehicles and their loads for a total period not to exceed any highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which the Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth or local authorities are responsible whenever any said highway by reason of deterioration rain snow or other climatic conditions will be seriously damaged or destroyed unless the use of vehicles thereon is prohibited or the permissible weights thereof reduced. The Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth and local authorities enacting or making any such ordinance or resolution or rule shall erect or cause to be erected and maintained official signs designating the provisions of the ordinance or resolution or rule at each end of that portion of any highway affected thereby and at intersections thereof and the ordinance or resolution or rule shall not be effective until or unless such official signs are erected and maintained except that local authorities shall have no power or authority to prohibit the operation of vehicles upon a State highway without first obtaining the consent of the Secretary of Highways.

(b) Whenever necessary for the protection of any highway or the safety of traffic thereon the Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth or local authorities may also by ordinance or resolution or rule prohibit the operation of motor vehicles trailers or semi-trailers on designated highways as to the weights and loads thereon which prohibitions and limitations shall be designated by official signs placed on such highways and their intersections except that local authorities shall have no power or authority to prohibit the operation of vehicles upon a State highway without first obtaining the consent of the Secretary of Highways.

Penalty Any person refusing to unload excess weight when so ordered by a peace officer in uniform or violating any of the other provisions of this section or violating any ordinance resolution or ruling promulgated under the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty ($50) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days.

Section 35 Section 1102 of said act as amended by the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P L 1718) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1102 Regulating Weight of Vehicles on Bridges If any bridge causeway or viaduct owned or maintained whether owned in whole or on part by this Commonwealth or local authorities other than interstate bridges as now provided by law shall have official signs properly posted in conspicuous places at the entrances thereto stating the gross maximum weight permitted thereon it shall be unlawful for any person to drive or cause to be driven upon any such bridge causeway or viaduct any vehicle which together with its load shall be of greater gross maximum weight than is stated on such signs.

Penalty Any person refusing to unload excess weight when so ordered by a peace officer in uniform or violating any of the other provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars ($50) and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 445, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 11 of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1095) entitled "An act providing for the regulation of mining of anthracite coal by the open pit or strip mining method and for the conservation and improvement of lands affected directly or indirectly by such mining requiring operators to register pay a license fee and secure a permit to engage in strip mining and file a bond conditioned for compliance with this act requiring backfilling of stripping pits and leveling and planting lands affected to prevent erosion and the pollution of waters and to protect public health safety and welfare conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Mines and the Department of Forests and Waters providing for appeals and imposing penalties and making appropriations" by clarifying the requirement for backfilling adjacent to highways

Section 1 Section 11 of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1095) entitled "An act providing for the regulation of mining of anthracite coal by the open pit or strip mining method and for the conservation and improvement of lands affected directly or indirectly by such mining requiring operators to register pay a license fee and secure a permit to engage in strip mining and file a bond conditioned for compliance with this act requiring backfilling of stripping pits and leveling and planting lands affected to prevent erosion and the pollution of waters and to protect public health safety and welfare conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Mines and the Department of Forests and Waters providing for appeals and imposing penalties and making appropriations" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 11 The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a map showing the location of any public highway dwelling house or stream of water on or adjacent to the area of land affected The operator shall backfill the operation made by the strip mining operation to a distance of [seventy-five (75) feet from the center line of any such public highway] fifteen (15) feet beyond the boundary line of the right of way of any public highway and to a distance of two hundred (200) feet from any dwelling house public building school church commercial or institutional building [in any case where the legal right of way of the highway shall be less than one hundred twenty (120) feet in width the operator shall backfill for a distance of fifteen (15) feet beyond the boundary line of such right of way] The backfilling shall be done in such a manner as to insure lateral support of a public highway and to provide a slope having an angle not exceeding forty (40) degrees The permit issued shall specify the time within which it shall be completed in order to protect the public safety and may require such backfilling to be done in part before the completion of the strip mining operation

The permit shall also specify the distance to which the bottom of the spoil banks made by the strip mining operation may approach any stream of water having a well defined channel Such distances shall be fixed by the department at such number of feet as in the judgment of the department after consultation with the Water and Power Resources Board taking into consideration the character of the overburden is necessary to protect the channel of the stream

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the relocation of any public road in the manner provided by law or the change of the course or channel of any stream in the manner provided by law upon permit issued by the Water and Power Resources Board

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 6 Section 410 the first paragraph and clause (6) of subsection (a) and subsections (d) and (e) of section 410A as respectively amended and added by the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 334) are hereby amended or further amended to read as follows

Section 410 Uniform Policy Provisions No policy of life or endowment insurance except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener shall hereafter be [issued or] delivered [by any stock or mutual life insurance company] in this Commonwealth unless it contains in substance the following provisions or provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are more favorable to the policyholder

(a) A provision that all premiums shall be payable in advance [either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by one or more of the officers of the company who shall be named in the policy]

(b) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace either of thirty days or one month within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made subject at the option of the company to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before the payment of the premium during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year if any are paid the amount of such premiums with interest on any overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premiums [and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of the company] and that at the option of the company provisions relative to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted

(d) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(e) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages

(f) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the third policy-year the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled to elect such option shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash or applied [to the payment of premium or the purchase of paid up additions to the policy as the policyholder] in accordance with any one of such other dividend options as may be provided by the policy [may elect] If any such other dividend options are provided the policy shall further state which option shall be automatically effective if such party shall not have elected some other option

In lieu of the foregoing provisions the policy may contain a provision that the policy shall further state which option shall be automatically effective if such party shall not have elected some other option

In lieu of the foregoing provisions the policy may contain a provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the fifth policy-year the company will determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto shall have the right to have the current dividend arising from such participation paid in cash and that at periods of not more than five years thereafter such apportionment and payment at the option of [the policyholder] such party shall be had

Renewable terms policies of ten years or less may provide that the surplus accruing to such policies shall be determined and apportioned each year after the second policy-year and accumulated during each renewal period and that at the end of any renewal period or renewal of the policy by the insured the company shall apply the accumulated surplus as an annuity for the next succeeding renewal term in the reduction of premiums

(g) A provision specifying the options if any to which the policyholder is entitled in the event of default in a premium payment

(h) A provision for a loan value at any time [while the policy is in force] after three full years' premiums have been paid and while no premium is in default beyond the grace period for payment

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Nonforfeiture Law) it shall be provided that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto and that the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy-year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy-year which provision may further provide that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made A company may in lieu of the provision hereinabove permitted for the deduction from a loan on the policy of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that one-fifth of the entire reserve may be deducted in case of a loan under the policy or may provide therein that the deduction may be the said two and one-half per centum or the one-fifth of the said entire reserve at the option of the company

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) [it shall be provided] the loan provision shall provide that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto less than the cash surrender value at the end of the current policy year as required by section four hundred and ten A of this act and that the company [will] may deduct from such loan value (in addition to any indebtedness deducted in determining such value) any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year The company shall reserve the right to defer such loan except any made to pay premiums to the company for six months after application therefor is made This subsection (h) shall not apply to term insurance

(i) A provision for a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be provided in event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three years which shall secure to the owner of the policy a stipulated form of insurance the net value of which shall be at least equal to the reserve at the date of default on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto specifying the mortality table and rate of interest adopted for computing such reserves less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any existing dividend additions thereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy Such provision shall stipulate that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from date of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid and may stipulate that the company may defer payment for not more than six (6) months after the application therefor is made This provision shall not be required in term insurance of twenty years or less

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section

(j) A table showing in figures the loan value if any and the options if any available under the policy each year upon default in premium payments during at least the first twenty years of the policy and if the proceeds of the policy are payable in installments [or as an annuity] which are determinable prior to maturity of the policy a table showing the amount of the [installment or annuity payment] guaranteed installments

(k) A provision that the holder of a policy shall be entitled to have the policy reinstated upon written application therefor at any time within three years from the date of default in premium payments unless the policy has been duly surrendered or the extension period expired upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per centum per annum compounded annually

(l) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to single premium or non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein Provided however That the policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by laws of the state or government under which the company is organized and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth may when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in policies [issued] delivered therein A clause in any policy of life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause

Section 410A Standard Non-Forfeiture Law (a) In the case of policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined in subsection (g) no policy of life insurance except as stated in subsection (f) shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder

(6) A statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary [with] beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy a statement that the cash surrender value and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits available under the policy are not less than the minimum values and benefits required by or pursuant to any statute of the state in which the policy is delivered an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the company on the policy and if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may to the extent inapplicable be omitted from the policy

The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of six months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy

(d) The adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards that the present value at the date of issue of the policy of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy (ii) two per cent of the amount of insurance if the insurance be uniform in amount or of the equivalent uniform amount as herein-after defined if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy (iii) forty per cent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year (iv) twenty-five per cent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance whichever is less Provided however That in applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent (4%) of the amount of insurance or level amount equivalent thereto The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subsection shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy the equivalent [level] uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this subsection shall be deemed to be the level amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy containing the same endowment benefit or benefits if any issued at the same age and for the same term the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the [inception of the insurance] date of issue as the benefits under the policy Provided however That in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for ordinary insurance and the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table for industrial insurance and the rate of interest not exceeding three and one-half per centum (3½%) per annum specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits Provided however That in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment if any offered as a non-forfeiture benefit the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty per centum (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table Provided further That the insurance issued on a substandard basis the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the Insurance Commissioner

(e) Any cash surrender value and any paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond [the last preceding policy anniversary] the beginning of the policy year in which the default occurs All values referred to in subsections (b) (c) and (d) may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death The net value of any paid-up additions other than paid-up term additions shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) additional benefits payable (i) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means (ii) in the event of total and permanent disability (iii) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits (iv) as [decreasing] term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which if issued as a separate policy this section would not apply and (v) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits and premiums for all such additional benefits shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and non-forfeiture benefits required by this section and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up non-forfeiture benefits

Section 7 The first paragraph and the last four paragraphs of Section 410 B of said act as added by the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1116) are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 410 B Uniform Provisions for Contracts of Annuities and Pure Endowment Contracts [On and after January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six no] No annuity or pure endowment contract shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth [by any stock or mutual life insurance company] except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener [unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been filed with the Insurance Commissioner and formally approved by him Except] and except in the case of reversionary annuity otherwise called a survivorship annuity or an annuity contracted by an employer in behalf of his employees [no annuity or pure endowment contract shall be so issued or delivered in this Commonwealth] unless it contains in substance the following provisions

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable to nonparticipating contracts nor to contracts for which a single stipulated payment to the company is made shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and any such contract may be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the holder of the contract than hereinbefore required

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent a life insurance corporation which issues life insurance on a participating basis from issuing annuities reversionary annuities or pure endowments on a nonparticipating basis

Section 10 Section 420 of said act as amended by the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 149) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420 Exchange Alteration and Conversion of Policies Any life insurance company may at the request of a policyholder exchange alter or convert any policy of life or endowment insurance or annuity policy contract or any other policy benefits additional thereto issued by it for or into any policy [nforming (a)] which conforms with the laws in force [when the first mentioned policy was issued if the rewritten policy bears the date thereof or (b) with the laws in force when said exchange alteration or conversion is effected if the rewritten policy bears a then current date Provided however If such rewritten policy bears the date of said original policy] on the date of the original policy if the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective as of such date or which conforms with the laws in force on a subsequent date as of which the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective If the rewritten policy is made effective as of a date earlier than the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs (a) the rewritten policy if evidence of insurability is required in conjunction with an exchange alteration or conversion to a policy on a plan requiring a lower premium rate or to a policy to which benefits or features are added differing from those in the original policy may provide that the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs shall be used in determining the applicability of an incontestability clause in the rewritten policy to the right of the company to contest such exchange alteration or conversion or in determining the applicability of a clause in the rewritten policy limiting liability in the event of suicide of the insured and (b) the amount of insurance under said rewritten policy shall not exceed the amount of insurance under said original policy or the amount of insurance which the premium paid for the original policy would have purchased if the rewritten policy had been originally applied for whichever amount is the greater Nothing contained in section three hundred and forty-six or in clause (c) of section four hundred and eleven of this act shall be construed as prohibiting any such exchange alteration or conversion of policies as provided by this section

Section 11 Section 420 C of said act as amended by the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 334) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420C Uniform Industrial Policy Provisions [From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no] No policy of industrial insurance shall be [issued or] delivered [to take effect] in this Commonwealth [or be issued by life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth] unless the same shall contain in substance the following provisions

(a) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace of four (4) weeks within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made except that where premiums are payable monthly the insured shall be entitled to a grace of one month or 30 days During such period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during said grace period before the overdue premiums are paid the amount of overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(b) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the life-time of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premium [and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to naval or military service in time of war and except as to provisions and conditions] and that at the option of the company provisions relating to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and those granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted

(d) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages

(e) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that the company will annually determine the portion of any divisible surplus accruing on the policy and indicating the conditions under which the company shall apportion such dividends to the policyholder or the party entitled thereto

(f) A provision for a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act

(the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be available in event of default in premium payments after premiums have been paid for three full years and shall be a stipulated form of insurance effective from the due date of the defaulted premium the net value of which stipulated form of insurance shall not be less than the reserve on the policy (exclusive of reserves if any for any for provisions relating to benefits in the event of specific types of disability or provisions granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident and for provisions granting other benefits in addition to life insurance) at the end of the last completed quarter of the policy year for which premiums have been paid and on any dividend additions thereto if any (the policy to specify the mortality table and rate of interest and also the method of valuation if other than net level premium adopted for computing such reserve) less a specified maximum percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of dividend additions thereto if any and less any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy. Provided however That the said percentage or other rule of calculation so stated as to permit determination of the value shall be specified for each year for which required values are not included in the policy. And provided A company may in lieu of the provision herein permitted for the deduction from the reserve of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that a deduction of one-fifth of said reserve may be made or said two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured or one-fifth of said reserve at the option of the company. Provided further That after premiums have been paid for five full years the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within four weeks of the due date of the defaulted premium for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid. And provided further That the company may defer payment of such cash value for not more than six months after application therefor is made. In the event that such cash or other non-forfeiture value is not requested within the required period it shall be provided that a stipulated form of insurance shall automatically become effective.

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section.

(g) A table showing in figures the non forfeiture options available under the policy at the end of each year upon default in premium payments during the premium payment period but not to exceed the first twenty (20) years of the policy and providing that the company will furnish upon request an extension of such table beyond the years shown in the policy.

(h) A provision that the policy if not surrendered for its cash value or if the period of extended insurance has not expired may be reinstated upon written application therefor within one year from the date of default in payment of premiums upon payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy and at the option of the company interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum compounded annually and upon the presentation of evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured.

(i) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death.

(j) A form number and title on the face of the policy clearly and correctly describing its form.

Any such policy may be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the policyholder than hereinbefore required. The policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any other state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by the laws of the state government under which the company is organized not contrary to the provisions heretofore prescribed and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country may contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in the policies [issued] delivered therein.

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and the provisions of this section shall not apply to policies issued or granted pursuant to the non-forfeiture provisions prescribed in [subsection] clause (f) of this section 9 clause in any policy of industrial life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause.

The current market value of such securities at the time of any loan thereon shall be at least fifteen per centum (15%) more than the sum loaned thereon. No such insurance company shall invest any of its funds in any unincorporated business or enterprise nor in the stock or evidence of indebtedness of any corporation the owners or holders of which stock or evidence of indebtedness may in any event be or become liable on account thereof to any assessment except for taxes nor shall any of its funds be loaned on personal security. Not more than one-fifth (1/5) of its capital shall be invested in a single mortgage. No such company shall enter into any agreement to withhold from sale any of its property but the disposition of its property shall be at all times within the control of its board of directors or trustees. If any investment or loan is made in a manner not authorized by this act the officers and directors making or authorizing the same shall be personally liable for any loss occasioned thereby.

Any such stock casualty insurance company may invest in the capital stock and obligations of a corporation or corporations formed for the purpose of taking and holding title to real estate and erecting or maintaining thereon a building or buildings to be used in whole or in part for the accommodation and transaction of the business of such insurance company without being subject to the limitation hereinbefore prescribed as to investment in the stock of a [dividend paying] solvent corporation but no such insurance company shall invest more than fifty per centum (50%) of its capital and surplus in the stock and other obligations of any such corporation or corporations nor acquire and hold any of the stock or other obligations of any such corporation or corporations if the total amount of the capital and other obligations of such corporation or corporations exceeds in the aggregate fifty per centum (50%) of the capital and surplus of such insurance company without the written approval of the Insurance Commissioner.

Section 21 Section 409 of said act is hereby repealed.

Section 22 Section 610 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 989) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 610 Foreign Companies Associations and Exchanges to Do Business through Resident Agents Other than companies subject to the provisions of section five hundred and one of this act no insurance company association or exchange not incorporated or organized under the laws of this Commonwealth but authorized to transact business herein shall make write place or cause to be made written or placed any policy or contract of insurance in this Commonwealth except through an agent whether an individual copartnership or corporation who or which is a resident of this Commonwealth or maintains his her or its principal place of business in this Commonwealth and who or which shall receive a commission thereon when the premium is paid to the end that the State may receive the taxes required by law to be paid on the premiums collected for insurance written or placed in this State. Provided however That the Insurance Commissioner may under such regulations and restrictions as may be deemed necessary issue licenses to nonresident agents who are licensed in the State in which they reside but such agents shall not countersign any policy or contract of insurance but all such policies and contracts shall be signed only by resident agents who or which shall receive a commission thereon when the premium is paid. Provided further that countersignature shall not be required in the case of policies and contracts as defined in clause (1) of subdivision (a) of section two hundred two of this act issued by life insurance companies.

Section 23 Clause (b) of Section 629 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 678) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 629 Limitations

* * * * *

(b) Nothing in subdivision (b) of this article shall apply to nor in any way effect life insurance endowment or annuity contracts or contracts supplemental thereto which contain only such provisions relating to accident and health insurance as (a) Provided additional benefits in case of death by accidental means and (b) operate to safeguard such contracts against lapse or to give a special surrender value or special benefit or an annuity in the event that the insured or annuitant shall become totally and permanently disabled as defined by the contract or supplemental contract. The Insurance Commissioner shall have power to make reasonable rules and regulations concerning such provisions and contracts or supplemental contracts containing such provisions shall not be issued or delivered to any person in the Commonwealth unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been filed with the Insurance Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred nine of an act approved May seventeen one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682)].

Section 24 Clause (c) of Section 629 of said act which section was last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 678) is hereby repealed.

Section 25 Section 322 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 782) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new paragraph to read as follows:

Section 322 Amendment of Charter

* * * * *

A mutual insurance company other than life or title shall be permitted to amend its charter to include any or all of the kinds of insurance included in Section 202 subdivisions (b) and (c) of its assets less net liability for losses for expenses and for unearned premium reserve for those premiums received on nonassessable policies are not less than the minimum premiums specified in section 206 (e) for the incorporation of new companies without the necessity of obtaining or of holding any application or of issuing any policy as specified in section 206 (e) for the incorporation of new companies.

Section 26 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 545.

An Act to amend Subsection (f) of Section 302 of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by providing that employers' reserve accounts shall not be charged with compensation paid to certain employees

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 17, by striking out after the word "employers" the following "but no employer's reserve account shall be charged with any compensation paid to any employee who voluntarily left the service of such employer"; page 4, line 4, by striking out after the heavy bracket the following: "and providing further that no compensation shall be charged to the account of any base year employer under the provisions of this subsection unless such base year employer was also the last employer by whom the compensated employee was employed prior to the date on which he filed his valid application for benefits" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "if the Department finds that such individual subsequent to the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one was separated from his most recent work for such employer due to being discharged for willful misconduct connected with such work or due to his voluntarily leaving such work without good cause attributable to such employment thereafter no compensation paid to such individual with respect to any week of unemployment occurring subsequent to such separation which is based upon wages paid by such employer with respect to employment prior to such separation shall be charged to such employer's account under the provisions of this subsection (f) providing such employer within thirty (30) days after such separation or within thirty (30) days after the Department has notified such employer of the individual's application for benefits has filed a notice thereof with the Department in accordance with its rules and regulations and in any case of such voluntary separation such notice shall be signed by such individual or shall be accompanied by such other evidence of such separation as the Department may require the findings and determination of the Department under this subsection (F) shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in this act for appeals from determinations of compensation."

Amend the bill, page 6, line 3, by inserting a new section as follows: Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 545, together with the communication from the Senate be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 77.

An Act to further amend section two thousand one hundred three of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by further regulating the hours of service vacations and sick leaves of firemen

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 534 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. HELM offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1951.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That House Bill No. 534, Printer's No. 611, entitled "An act to further amend Section 1304 of the act approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled 'An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto,' by changing the provisions relating to admission of beginners," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire the privilege of explaining why I objected to having Senate Bill 721 called at this time.

I call attention to the principle construction used in this act. I object to the principle.

The bill in its major portions is concerned with matters of wide concern, matters that deserve the careful consideration of this House. But as a rider to matters of wide and general concern, the bill carries a salary increase for the members of the Turnpike Commission.

I submit to the Members of this House that it is improper procedure to couple a rider involving an increase in salaries to a bill of general concern.

I suggest to the Majority leadership that they separate this bill by presenting the matters of wide and general concern in one bill and the proposed salary increases in another bill.

We should not be required to pass upon the two proposals as a package.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. SCANLON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

Mrs. COYLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

Messrs. SCANLON, HAGERTY, DUFFY, PETA, Mrs. MONROE, Messrs. AMARANDO, PENGLASE, CONWAY, MULDOWNY, DOUGHERTY, GRANVILLE E. JONES, KOLANKIEWICZ, BYRNE, HOGGARD, LEDERER, Mrs. COYLE, Messrs. PFAFF, LIMPER, LEVEN, Mrs.

VARALLO, Messrs. TOLL, PETTIGREW, ROSEN, McGEE, ROSE, and GUARNIERI offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1951.

The Democratic forces of Philadelphia have sustained an irreparable loss. One of its fearless and forthright stalwarts—the Honorable Charles H. Hersch—has been suddenly called to leave the cares and the turmoil of life on earth to take his conspicuous part among the multitude who have gone to eternal glory.

Mr. Hersch was an active proponent of the Democratic political philosophy for over forty years. His influence on Democratic policy was far reaching and deep seated and the impact of his lucid thought and his forceful action will not soon be forgotten.

Starting humbly and industriously, he forged his way to prominence in party councils by twice achieving the office of Coroner of Philadelphia. More recently he was the tipstaff of Common Pleas Court No. 6. Throughout his long and active career in politics, his civic interests and public services have been a challenge to his younger colleagues and the inspiration to be read from his book of experience can well be a course of emulatory practice by them; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its poignant sorrow at the sudden death of the Honorable Charles H. Hersch and mourn the loss to the Democratic party and to the citizenry, of Philadelphia of a courteous, considerate and high principled leader and servant; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives tender to his surviving widow, Mrs. Charles H. Hersch, and his sons, Joseph Hersch and Charles H. Hersch, Jr. its condolences and prayers in their hour of bereavement and its conviction that they will remember proudly and affectionately their many years of happy association with him; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Charles H. Hersch, the surviving widow of the Honorable Charles H. Hersch.

Mrs. COYLE offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

CONDOLENCE

Mr. REESE offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1951.

The final summons came to John Peach of Charleroi on July 8, 1951. He has joined that ever-continuing caravan of travelers on earth to the ultimate destination for all of a timeless realm of serenity and rest.

John Peach was the stepfather of our distinguished member, the Hon. C. O. Williams. His long life was abundant with activity of many kinds. Always gregarious in attitude, he was intimately affiliated throughout many years with the Knights of Labor and the United Mine Workers of America and expressed an unusual zest in the welfare of the laboring man. Fraternally, he was associated with Lodge 1030 of I. O. O. F. of Charleroi for fifty years and for a long period with Lodge 299 of F. O. E. of the same city.

Death has written the last chapter to the good, rounded, and fruitful life of John Peach and leaves his wife, Mrs. Jennie Peach, and his children, John Peach, Jr., Mrs. Ruth Clegg, Mrs. Helen Potts, and C. O. Williams to revere the memory of a beloved husband and father, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express to C. O. Williams and the other survivors of John Peach its deep sympathy in their hour of sorrow and trial and its fervent prayer that time will replace their anguish with the tender memories of one who served them so devotedly in life, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Hon. C. O. Williams.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the Members who attended the celebration on July 4th in Philadelphia there is a second set of beautiful pictures, wigs and all, in my office. Some of the Members have not seen this second set and they are available. If they would like to take them home with them they can stop in and obtain them.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GOFFNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, July 16, 1951 at 3:30 p. m. E.S.T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:35 a. m. E.S.T.) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, July 16, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. B. WILLIAMS, Pastor of Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, our Father, we are grateful to Thee for the period of relaxation we enjoyed over the week end. We thank Thee that Thou hast permitted us to return to our task refreshed and ready to accept each challenge of the day, but first we seek Thy guidance that we may learn what Thou will have us to do and that we may gain strength and courage from Thee to do it. Help us now to rededicate ourselves to Thy will. Be in our eyes to direct our seeing, in our ears to govern our hearing, in our tongues to control our speaking, in our feet to guide our going and coming, in our hands to fashion our doing and in our hearts to mould our thinking.

Grant, O God, that at the day's end we may find peace in knowing that with all of our powers we have lived this day for Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. TAYLOR, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in going through my mail I received a letter that I do not care to read the full contents of to the Members of the Senate, but I think that in this day and age we ought to consider seriously the effects of the action or lack of action that takes place here in Harrisburg, and the reaction of the various citizens or groups of citizens relative to our many debates and discussions.

The other night I was fortunate enough to be given time in the interests of public service on a television station. Some of the reaction, of course, was bad, but I am glad to report that some of it was good.

What I am particularly interested in today, and I think every Member of the Senate ought to be interested also, is this letter that was sent to me by a school teacher. I want to say at the outset it is a good thing for Pennsylvania that teachers of this type are in very minor positions in our school system. In the main, I think the teachers of this Commonwealth are endeavoring to do a good job, but when I think of this type of a teacher and wonder about the children that are under this person's instruction I cannot conceive of how any pupils taught by this teacher can grow up to be the kind of citizens and the kind of men and women that this Country needs so badly. The language in the letter is the type of language you would expect from a person who is mentally deficient. I think you ought to hear some of the statements.

For instance, here she says, "Why don't you really do something good and clean the sore spots of government? You have the nerve to criticize Governor Fine in wanting more taxes, and all he wants to do is good with it. He wants to increase the salaries of the teachers to make this a better place. Surely some dumb people will fall for your line, but you are not talking to all ignorant people. The fact is that there are too many dumb men in government offices that have no right—a person indulging in alcoholic beverages has no right to run for office."

Well, you know, Mr. President, if that gets to be the criterion I think the Halls will empty quickly. I do not want to read the filth that is contained in this letter except to make this observation for the Members of the Senate. It seems to be a sad situation and one that is fanned by those who are out and trying to get into public office. When a person is in office and has been in office or in so-called political power over the years, he attaches to himself many friends, but by the same token he makes many severe critics and particularly political enemies, and he becomes the object and target of all the criticism that can be fomented against him, and it is sad, too, that men in public life have no recourse by law, for in a Supreme Court ruling, as I understand it, any person can say anything they want about anybody running for public office. That may be all right, but when I think of men who have given their lives to public service, it is a sad commentary that a man has to die to earn his reward, and that reward being public recognition for the public service that he has rendered.

Mr. President, I recently read with interest a newspaper sent to me, published by a group in Dauphin County. I do not know whether they are right or wrong, but I know that the criticism they are aiming at a Member of this Senate—and this is not in defense of Senator Taylor—the criticism they are aiming at him is the same type of criticism that is contained in every campaign that I have over indulged in. Those who are out to try to convince the people that if they get in they will do a better job. I heard a very blunt speaking man once say on the platform, "You know they tell you in the newspapers to vote against me because they say I am a crook. Then, they tell you to vote for my opponent, but what they fail to tell you is he is their crook and I am your crook."

Mr. President, I do not know anything about why people are tempted to write letters like this or why people are tempted to write the biting sarcastic propaganda that they put out against any Member of this Senate or any man in public life, but I can testify to one thing, and I think every Member here will testify to the same, and I have not always agreed with them. Anybody in Dauphin County can easily appreciate that Harve Taylor has worked darn hard for Dauphin County. He gets things we cannot get for our county, because he fights clean in Dauphin County. I would like to be in a position to do more for my county, too, but I detest anybody that writes the nasty, unfounded things they write about people in public life.

Mr. President, I am criticizing this letter because they say that the Democratic Minority is the stumbling block in Harrisburg, that it is keeping the teachers from having their increases, keeping the school systems from having the proper finances in order that the school system and educational system in this Commonwealth can progress.

Mr. President, let me say this to the Members of the Senate. The Governor announced, as I read in the paper, that he was willing to sit down with Democrats or the Democratic Minority to help work out the problem in Harrisburg. He has insinuated that his own party has failed to come to an agreement. Mr. President, the Democratic Minority, through its spokesman, have offered time and time again to sit down and discuss the problem with the leadership of the Senate or with the Governor himself. We are not interested in stalemating anything. We are not interested in destroying the confidence of the people in elected officials, whether it be the Governor, Senators, House Members or just ordinary councilmen or ward men back home, but we are interested in keeping intact a sound fundamental government, a sound economic government. I say to the Governor today, and I say it on behalf of the Democratic Caucus of twenty Democrats, we still believe, Mr. President, that if the budget is adhered to, as the message was given us by the Governor himself, we believe that in the present condition that the State finds itself there is sufficient money in revenue measures already passed to take care of those items contained within the budget. However, Mr. President, we agree with the Governor or with anybody else that if you are going to give moneys over and above those contained in the budget message, that some sixty to sixty-five million more dollars are needed. If you are going to double the increments to schoolteachers, and if you are going to increase the appropriations to the school districts back home, then you are going to have to have more money. If you are going to have to have more money, and I say at this moment that if that is the stalemate, that we on the Democratic side are willing to sit down, and I might say, too, to the Members of the Senate that we have a program, and we think that that kind of a program can be sold to the people of Pennsylvania without being burdensome. We think that that program will give the necessary funds and finances to give everything that has been dealt with to give to the teachers. I do not know of any secret agreements, I can only see by what is going on in the Senate Halls and in the Legislative Halls. There are bills in, Mr. President, that will increase the budget by 62 million at least, and perhaps 65 million dollars, and I can say to the Senate today that any time a committee, either from the other side or from the Governor's Office, wants to meet with a committee of the Democratic Senators to help work out this so-called stalemate, we stand ready. We will not recede, however, from our position in opposition to an income tax. If that is the basis of compromise, there can be no compromise, because the moneys that are to be raised by the income tax are more than can be used up in the legitimate functions of government. The moneys from the income tax can only mean one thing, extravagance and exorbitant spending, and an income tax is the type of tax that must never be discussed unless it is discussed in the same breath and at the same table where we are discussing the whole problem of taxation and the removal of certain other taxes from the shoulders of the citizens of the Commonwealth. If we discuss it on a whole plane, then no group of Senators can afford to be missing from that conference, but as the picture now stands, if the Governor is sincere in saying that he wants to sit down with anybody that will try to solve the problem, we stand ready to cooperate. We will cooperate to the extent that if we are told how much money is being given to the schoolteachers, we are willing to give it to them. If it means additional taxes to take care of the educational system, we are willing to go along on that, too, but we cannot go along with the budget as it is now contained and ask for 119 to 150 million dollars additional in income tax, because our position has not changed. We believe sufficient revenues have been passed to meet the budget as it is now written. For any additional funds that are needed we are willing to accept our responsibilities and go along with a group, go along with the Senate as a whole, and I am sure that we can come to some agreement with the House, in order that this stalemate can be resolved. This is not doing anybody any good. It is not doing the people any good, it is not doing the Legislature any good because, Mr. President, I think that any sane person can easily see that whether we stay here another ten weeks or another ten months, if the present attitude of the Chief Executive and the present attitude of the Senate is maintained, we cannot hope to reach any common ground. Somewhere along the line there is a common ground upon which we can get together. I am sure that if that is the case, we stand ready to cooperate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for obvious reasons, I am sure the gentlemen of the Senate will understand any remarks I make are directed only to a portion of those things said by the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland. I sympathize with him in his concern over the constant trend of abuse that creeps into public life.

Mr. President, some summers ago when we had a short business like Session and the General Assembly adjourned, I had the privilege of going up to Canada, and while I was there I was deeply interested in the election in the Province of Ontario, and the political parties there were campaigning not on any issues, but on a "stop-thief" program. Last year I was also privileged to be in Florida when a terrific fight was going on between a fellow by the name of Smathers and a fellow by the name of Pepper for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate. The Miami Herald would run a daily column that was divided into two parts, one devoted to Mr. Smathers and one devoted to Mr. Pepper, and they were operating and campaigning not on issues, not on platforms, not on policies, but on a "stop-thief" program. Things that they said about each other, if one sentence was true, Mr. President, neither one of them would be qualified for public office in the great republic.

Now, Mr. President, certainly none of us here, at least forty-nine of us here, have no desire to get involved in a discussion with the quiescent quintet of Dauphin County over a local political fight. I want to say this, that I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland that those of us who hold public office are open targets, and we appreciate the fact that any time they point the finger at a public official, they can say anything at all that comes to their minds readily and never worry about proving it, and I want to say, Mr. President, that is one of the ardent and adroit methods used by people that try to destroy government. It is not material, Mr. President, what individual occupies a public office. The fact is that it is a public office, and when you see people who devote years of their lives to public service and take the abuse that is the common reward or the common pay off for public service, you begin to wonder why it is that year after year, slowly but surely, it is more difficult to interest the average citizen in public life or public office. There is not one of us sitting here in this Senate that does not know how difficult it is to get the real folks back home interested in public office. If you try to get them to run for the schoolboard, or for borough councilmen, or township commissioner, or the Legislature or the State Senate, they are not interested, Mr. President, because they do not want to, first, devote the time, secondly, they cannot afford to devote it from their private affairs and, third and paramount, they refuse to take the abuse that a thoughtless group of people who are hallowed citizens heap upon them.

Mr. President, I have watched this local campaign and may I say that fools rush in where angels fear to tread. I have read with a great deal of interest a lot of the propaganda that has been spread by this quiescent quintet campaign against a very distinguished Member of this Senate. Mr. President, I want to say this. I read with a great deal of appreciation a speech made by the Honorable Robert Woodside, former Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, a former Member of the House of Representatives and at the present time the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I agree with Bob Woodside; I despise campaigns that are based upon hate, suspicion and propaganda. I think that one of the worst things we can do in this great Republic, where we have a representative form of government, is to attempt to coerce votes by pointing a finger at the other side and yelling "stop thief" because we do not advance our representative form of government one inch by that type of propaganda, and when they start to attack a gentleman who has devoted over fifty years, over a half a century of his life, in trying to do something for the people of Pennsylvania and for the citizens of this great Commonwealth, as well as the people of Dauphin County, and I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Harve Taylor's beneficence goes all over Pennsylvania, and when they deliberately attempt to win a campaign not upon the qualifications of their candidates but upon the strength of dastardly remarks that they print in the newspapers, and say over the radio and over platforms, that is no way to promote our representative form of government. I think that it is high time that somebody like Bob Woodside said the things that he has said.

Mr. President, we cannot vote; we should not be in this campaign, but we certainly have the right to say to the people of Pennsylvania that we are still happy and proud of the fact that people like Harve Taylor are still in public office and are willing to represent the people of Pennsylvania and take the abuse that has to be taken, and I think that one of the finest things that the citizens of Pennsylvania could do would be to pay no attention to hate campaigns, but turn around and take a look not on false words, not on false prophets, but on performance and deeds that have stretched over half a century. Those are the things that count, and I am glad to hear Senator Dent get up and say them, because we have both been thinking them for a long time, and I think it is about time somebody kept saying them in the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania. Our government, our type of government is on trial before the jury of the world, and here we are enjoying it and yet criticizing it by trying to pull the rug out from under the very people who make it possible to have a representative form of government.

Now, Mr. President, I do not want to shoot the shotgun. I do not want to complain about Members of this Senate, but last week a statement was delivered on the floor of this Senate belittling and criticizing a very distinguished Allegheny Countian because of her civic activities. Mr. President, we should welcome all civic activity, we should welcome people who are willing to do the things for the citizens of Pennsylvania that public officials do. My only regret, and I know that Senator Dent joins with me in saying this, is that we do not have more Harve Taylors, not only in the Senate but in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The only complaint the Chair has is that he is precluded from making a speech for "Pop Pop" also.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I would like to add my few words to the last remarks, because over the week end I took a good blasting from everybody from one end of my county to the other, and I do not know now—when I think what they say about this Confucius guy, I think I am very much confused.

Mr. President, I have gone down the line on these 600's, that I think the next time I get on the play-off some place, certainly six will get in it. 612 just blasted me all over the lot. 615 dragged me into the ditch, and then they started to drag me around with 629 and 630 and they were not satisfied with that. They feel that I should have been on this adoption case and seen to it that there would be more liberalization in adoption. Then we go next to that to divorces, and when we came to the point of divorces I started to think of a few others that came into the office and they are definitely attacking this 48, and on 48 they definitely told me, "Tilgh Freed, you cannot vote for that because our courts are shoved up too full now with the divorce cases. The more along the lines of 48 that you liberalize it, the more divorce cases you are going to get." Definitely I want to know just why that was. Then they get me confused a little bit more. In comes a bill from this fellow who is very much interested in 348. He says, "Will you please go for 348?" Then I definitely was confused because in digging up 348, I find myself in alcohol, because it is definitely an alcohol bill. So, by the time I get going around, and then I read our local newspaper, and I find the local newspaper turning around and telling me that over in the House one of the House Members from Lehigh turned around and proposed the idea of relief for somebody in the Welfare Department, that the Members of the House and Senate of the Legislature should definitely be contacted through their wives. Well, you possibly read the little story that they also met a few bachelors over there that had no wives, and they did not know who to go to. I will say that those people on 348 definitely contacted my wife, and even though I may change my opinion on 48, since it is supposed to be amended to the extent you people will see after this particular Session takes place, that anyone possibly can get along with it.

Mr. President, I am definitely not doing this on account of my wife. I love the women and I like them very very much or I do not think I would have tried it the second time. I got in that position but, nevertheless, I do hope this thing stops people from—the legislative engineers as they call themselves—contacting the wives and let the wives work on us for this work up here, because I do believe we can do a better job if we try to take things as they are and how they come and as our constituents would like us to be.

Thanks a lot, Mr. President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I would like to make a statement before I introduce this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, may proceed.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, some of the counties in Pennsylvania have been selected as samples for investigation of criminal activities with racketeers and local officeholders. I am sure that not one of those counties objects to being investigated, but they do object to being picked as samples and have their names blackened when, perhaps, similar conditions may exist in other counties.

Therefor, Mr. President, I am introducing a resolution to set up a crime investigating committee of the General Assembly for the entire State, to make a report two years hence. I do not ask to have this resolution acted upon at once for the reason that it should be studied, and if we are really sincere in helping to clean up in our State any possible connection between criminal racketeers and local officials, this will be a means of doing it.

On the strength of that, Mr. President, I am introducing this resolution and ask that it be sent to a proper committee, and given proper study and possible action at this Session.

RESOLUTIONS

URGING THAT A COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT ON CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE WITH CERTAIN LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, July 16, 1951.

The reports of the United States Senate Crime Investigating Committee indicate that organized crime flourishes in a large measure on the negligence, the active support or the participation of a relatively small number of local law enforcement officials and that these enforcement officials in collusion with an equally small segment of local political authorities are instrumental in largely nullifying the efforts of diligent officials and public spirited citizens in achieving a sound program of civic and political development.

Although it is apparent to anyone that the majority of the law enforcement officials in the various counties of Pennsylvania are faithfully and competently enforcing the laws of the Commonwealth, yet it should be the aim and the desire of every citizen of Pennsylvania that all of its laws be administered in a spirit of genuine justice and enforced with thoroughness in every county.

Under the existing law there are means and authority for correcting whatever abuses are perpetrated by a few venal officials. Misdemeanors, corruption, favoritism, extortion and other forms of gross misconduct on the part of public officials are punishable in a manner prescribed by the laws of the State as enacted by the General Assembly. Nevertheless, the latter would be derelict in its own duties and obligations if it continued to view apathetically an established disregard of a bona fide enforcement of the laws by certain local enforcement officials. Hence, the dramatic revelations of a thorough investigation are designed to make every legislator and citizen vitally aware of the intolerable conditions that exist in a few local areas and should be extirpated and remedied at the earliest opportunity, therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly authorize the appointment of a Special Committee to be known as the General Assembly Crime Investigation Committee for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the alleged association of criminal enterprise with certain local law enforcement officials. The number of members on the Committee, their method of appointment, powers and duties are to be as follows:

1. The said Committee shall consist of six members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker and of six members of the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore.

2. The Committee shall elect a Chairman and a Secretary from among its members and shall meet from time to time at such places and at such times as the Chairman of the Committee shall designate, or as may be voted by a majority of the members of the said Committee.

3. The said Committee shall investigate crime conditions and law enforcement conditions throughout the State and shall have the right and authority to summon witnesses to testify before it; to employ secretarial help, special investigators and other assistants to the extent of the finances placed at its disposition.

4. The said Special Committee shall make a report in writing to the General Assembly to be filed at the time of or before the next regular session of the Legislature and said Committee shall be discharged from its duties upon the convening of the next regular session of the Legislature, and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the Committee shall receive the same per diem and travel expenses as the members of the Legislature in regular session.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE CHARLES H. HERSCH

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 16, 1951.

The Democratic forces of Philadelphia have sustained an irreparable loss. One of its fearless and forthright stalwarts—the Honorable Charles H. Hersch—has been suddenly called to leave the cares and the turmoil of life on earth to take his conspicuous part among the multitude who have gone to eternal glory.

Mr. Hersch was an active proponent of the Democratic political philosophy for over forty years. His influence on Democratic policy was far reaching and deep seated and the impact of his lucid thought and his forceful action will not soon be forgotten.

Starting humbly and industriously, he forged his way to prominence in party councils by twice achieving the office of Coroner of Philadelphia. More recently he was the tipstaff of Common Pleas Court No. 6. Throughout his long and active career in politics, his civic interests and public services have been a challenge to his younger colleagues and the inspiration to be read from his book of experience can well be a source of emulatory practice by them; therefore be it and mourn the loss to the Democratic party and to the citizenry of Philadelphia of a courteous, considerate and high principled leader and servant; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate tender to his surviving widow, Mrs. Charles H. Hersch, and his sons, Joseph Hersch and Charles H. Hersch, Jr., its condolences and prayers in their hour of bereavement and its conviction that they will remember proudly and affectionately their many years of happy association with him; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Charles H. Hersch, the surviving widow of the Honorable Charles H. Hersch.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT and STEVENSON read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 792, entitled:

An Act authorizing the prothonotaries and clerks of the several courts registers of wills and recorders of deeds in the several counties of the Commonwealth to keep certain records in loose-leaf volumes under the conditions herein set forth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

CALENDAR

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 533, as follows:

An Act concerning contributions among joint tortfeasors and release of tortfeasors defining the rights and duties of contribution in such cases making uniform the law with reference thereto and repealing inconsistent legislation

Section 1 For the purpose of this act the term "joint tortfeasors" means two or more persons jointly or severally liable in tort for the same injury to persons or property whether or not judgment has been recovered against all or some of them

Section 2 (1) The right of contribution exists among joint tortfeasors (2) A joint tortfeasor is not entitled to a money judgment for contribution until he has by payment discharge the common liability or has paid more than his pro rata share thereof (3) A joint tortfeasor who enters into a settlement with the injured person is not entitled to recover contribution from another joint tortfeasor whose liability to the injured person is not extinguished by the settlement

Section 3 The recovery of a judgment by the injured person against one joint tortfeasor does not discharge the other tortfeasors

Section 4 A release by the injured person of one joint tortfeasor whether before or after judgment does not discharge the other tortfeasors unless the release so provides but reduces the claim against the other tortfeasors in the amount of the consideration paid for the release or in any amount or proportion by which the release provides that the total claim shall be reduced if greater than the consideration paid

Section 5 A release by the injured person of one joint tortfeasor does not relieve him from liability to make contribution to another tortfeasor unless the release is given before the right of the other tortfeasor to secure a money judgment for contribution has accrued and provides for a reduction to the extent of the pro rata share of the released tortfeasor of the injured person's damages recoverable against all the other tortfeasors

Section 7 This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states that enact it

Section 8 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Contribution Among Tortfeasors Act"

Section 9 The act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1075) entitled "An act to provide for contribution among tortfeasors" is hereby repealed

All other acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution.

By Mr. VARNER. Concurrent RESOLUTION No. 67.

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1951.

Whereas, Living costs in Pennsylvania have steadily and sharply increased particularly during the past year; and

Whereas, All industries and most states have made continual adjustments in salary rates to permit their employes to maintain their established standards of living; and

Whereas, No adjustments in salary schedules of Pennsylvania state employes earning over three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) annually have been made since 1948; and

Whereas, It is highly desirable that the hardships imposed on State employes by the rising costs of living be at least partially alleviated on a basis comparable to other workers; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should be the model employer by establishing equitable salary adjustments; and

Whereas, Sub-standard salaries will result in a serious exodus from State service of highly trained and efficient personnel, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor of Pennsylvania is requested to take all necessary measures to grant a cost of living increase in the salary rates of all State employes to the extent of ten per centum (10%), the annual amount of said increase to be not less than three hundred dollars ($300.00), nor more than six hundred dollars ($600.00).

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. COYLE, Mrs. VARALLO, Mrs. MUNLEY and Mrs. MONROE. RESOLUTION No. 68.

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1951.

Whereas, The welfare of the State and the Nation is indissolubly linked with the care, the discipline, the moral training, and the broad education accorded all children and particularly the dependent, neglected and delinquent children assigned to the state-aided institutions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives authorize an investigation of all state-aided institutions in which said children are enrolled.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. ZIEGLER. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. ZIEGLER.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 1060, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twelfth day of April, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 21), entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages, amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto, regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in, and use of alcoholic liquors, alcohol, and malt and brewed beverages, and the persons engaged or employed therein; defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores, for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant; prescribing penalties and forfeitures; providing for local option and repealing existing laws," by making the serving of food optional with certain licenses and changing certain requirements relating to the serving of food.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if the gentleman intends to amend this bill.

Mr. ZIEGLER. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. ZIEGLER.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 1085, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 21) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquor alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" by making the establishment and operation of Pennsylvania liquor stores and the granting of malt and brewed beverage distributors licenses subject to local option and providing where tie vote occurs on local option question the status quo obtains.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if the gentleman intends to amend this bill.

Mr. ZIEGLER. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PEROSKY offered the following amendment:

Amend Bill, Page 8, by inserting between lines 18 and 19, the following:

However, no local option vote shall be held to determine the will of the electors in respect to the granting of licenses to distributors of malt or brewed beverages or to the establishment, operation and maintenance of Pennsylvania Liquor Stores until two years after such municipality has voted against the granting of liquor licenses or malt and brewed beverage licenses.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the amendment that I have offered is one which in my opinion will clear up the proposal that is before us, due to the fact that within the present provisions of the proposal four questions of local option could be voted upon at one election.

I firmly believe that if you separate the voting on the four questions on local option the mind of the voter will not be confused as to what he would actually want to do in his own municipality.

I do not want to take the time of the House. I will be very brief and just read into the record a few remarks that I have to make relative to House Bill 1085 and what I feel can be done to better the legislation that is before by the amendment that was presented.

The program incorporated under this bill is intolerant in every respect.

The principle of local option is to give residents of a municipality the right to say whether they want tap-rooms in their areas. It is understandable that purely residential towns would not want taprooms, the hubbub and the noise that comes along with them. It is also very much understandable that residents may get tired of tap-rooms and the noise that goes along with them, taprooms which permit the congregation of undesirables, minors and drunks who annoy the residents of that particular type of town.

That does not mean that people are prohibitionists; they may be as liberal as anyone else, but they certainly have the right to object to unpleasant operations.

Now we find that several groups have gotten together on certain pieces of legislation here and have been endeavoring to call them a package. I for one would rather consider this legislation and to vote upon the bills and let them fall or stand upon the merits of each particular bill in question.

For any group, especially liquor dealers, to take such an intolerant position is amazingly inconsistent. To tell a good citizen, unless he is willing to tolerate a bad tavern operation he will not be permitted to conveniently buy beverages for home consumption is just as bad as for the dry forces to say that because they disapprove of beverages no one else should have that pleasure.

The trend in this country is against intolerance, and for Pennsylvania liquor dealers to support intolerant attitudes puts them in the same selfish class as the dry forces. There is no good reason for such legislation. No one believes for a minute that the dry forces will support liquor dealers in any effort to liberalize liquor laws. They are probably laughing at the innocence of any liquor dealer who expects such cooperation from them.

The amendments merely add to the proposal that you leave a stop-gap period of two years time in which the residents can live with the situation as concerns wholesale distributors in Pennsylvania State Stores, and then vote upon that issue without having the conflicting abuses of the privileges of the system as we have it here in Pennsylvania that were probably caused by undesirables who were coming into residential communities and creating a disturbance.

This merely gives you a two year period of time of waiting before you vote upon a local option question as to whether a distributor shall stay in that community or whether a liquor store shall stay in that community.

I ask the membership of both sides of this House to consider the amendments and the merits of the amendments, and may I say at this time that I did not make it a four period of time, for I was afraid that the opponents to the amendment would charge that I was endeavoring to carry out delaying tactics in holding off the question of local option.

I am presenting this for the consideration of the House. I would like to have you consider it and vote favorably upon these amendments.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1085 was drawn after long and careful deliberation. It presents in the bill four questions. We think it is not complicated and it was necessarily made very simple so there would not be any confusion.

Under House Bill 1085 when the required number of voters petition in a community, they may have one, two, three or four questions placed upon the ballot. Those four questions are:

Do you want to have a state liquor store in your community?

Do you want to have distributors' licenses in your community?

Do you want to have retail dispensers or beer licenses in your community?

Do you want to have liquor licenses in your community?

The people may petition, as I said, to vote on one, two, three or four questions; and if they vote on those questions and they are defeated, they may not be brought up again more often than once in every four years, and that is as the law is now. There is no change there.

As I said, the bill was drawn after a lot of careful study and I feel that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland is dilatory in nature, and I shall ask the Members not only this side of the House, but on the other, to vote down the proposed amendments.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" by changing residence requirements for stock ownership in corporations licensed as malt and brewed beverage manufacturers distributors and importing distributors

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 431), page 4, line 4, by inserting a bracket before the word "and".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 431), page 4, line 8, by inserting a bracket after the word "application".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 431), page 4, lines 8 to 12, by striking out "Provided" in line 8 and all of lines 9 to 12.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that the membership does not know what will happen under these amendments, I move that the bill and the amendments be recommitted to the Committee on Liquor Control.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, to explain the meaning of these amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, explain the purpose of the amendment?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I will, Mr. Speaker.

At the present time the Liquor Code, which was passed this year by the House provides that brewing companies are required to be Pennsylvania corporations, that their officers be residents of Pennsylvania, that their directors be residents of Pennsylvania, and that 51 per cent of the stockholders be residents of Pennsylvania. The purpose of these amendments is to delete the requirement of the stockholders.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of the amendments what particular brewery combination is interested in these amendments.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, there are three or four people in my country who own brewery stock, who are interested in these amendments. I have inquired about the situation. I have found that Pennsylvania breweries, despite the anomalous existence of the law in its present state, have nevertheless as independent breweries been going downhill. I believe in the Philadelphia area about three breweries have failed since the war. I understand quite fortuitously when I asked for a glass of beer the other evening at a brewery that a brewery here in Harrisburg has failed recently.

The situation with the Pennsylvania breweries if they get hard pressed for cash is that it is impossible for them, under the present state of the law, to merge or consolidate with out-of-state breweries because of this restriction on stock ownership.

The bill in its original form to which I have offered amendments, attempted to make a very limited exception to the law and it seemed to me after consultation frankly with the people in my home county that the thing to do was to repeal this 51 per cent stock ownership clause.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the effect of this amendment be to open the door to chain breweries, as far as Pennsylvania is concerned, with the result that we may find that somebody in Milwaukee has made a Pennsylvania brewery a part of its chain?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that it would. The law still requires that it be a Pennsylvania corporation, that the officers and directors be residents of Pennsylvania. This is true even with the amendments that I just offered.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further inquiry. It would be very easy wouldn't it, for majority ownership in Milwaukee to officer a corporation here in Pennsylvania—have the people that want it locally represented as to the ownership, but ownership and control of that brewery would, nevertheless, be outside of the state?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, to answer that question, I think it is very possible with the amendments that I have offered the ownership of local breweries could pass outside the state.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this change in the law is one to remedy that I said was an anomalous situation. It is only the brewing industry that is afflicted with this provision. The distillers are not so afflicted and as far as I know no other type of business corporation has this type of regulation. The brewers have run into a great deal of difficulty and it rather surprises me to hear the gentleman on the other side of the House arguing for the equivalent of high tariffs. The breweries in Pennsylvania today by and large are not in very good shape, if they can get an influx of foreign capital, perhaps we could keep some of the men who work in breweries going, which we cannot do if the breweries fail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 2, line 8 of title, by striking out the word "changing" and inserting in lieu thereof: "deleting."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. ZIEGLER.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 620, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of Section 207 of the act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 21) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and reepling existing laws" by further providing for the fixing of sale prices for Pennsylvania liquor stores

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, line 1, by adding after the figures "207" the following "and the second paragraph of Section 406."

Amend Sec. 1, page 6, line 3, by striking out the word "IS" and inserting in lieu thereof "are."

Amend Bill, page 8, by inserting after line 4, the following

Section 406 Sales by Liquor Licensees; Restrictions.—

* * * * *

Hotel, restaurant and public service liquor licensees, their servants, agents or employes may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages only after seven o'clock antemeridian of any week day and until two o'clock antemeridian of the following [week] day and shall not sell on Sunday after two o'clock antemeridian or after two o'clock antemeridian on any day on which a general, municipal, special or primary election is being held until one hour after the time fixed by law for closing the polls. No club licensee or its servants, agents or employes may sell liquor or malt or brewed beverages between the hours of three o'clock antemeridian and seven o'clock antemeridian on any day.

On the question,

Will the House agree on the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with the amendments be recommitted to the Committee on Liquor Control.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 620 to which I have just offered amendments, amends the liquor code which we passed earlier this session.

The particular bill to which these amendments have been offered relates to some administrative matter or price fixing on the part of the Liquor Control Board to unload certain brands which they find have not moved, and gives them a bit more power as far as discriminating between products and fixing the sale prices.

These amendments which I have offered however, amend another section of the liquor code, and really have no relation to the particular section in House Bill 620. These amendments would change the law of Pennsylvania if adopted, to allow restaurant licensees, hotels and so forth to remain open until two o'clock in the morning on Sunday mornings.

A bill was put in the House some time ago and has been in the Liquor Control Committee for several months which would have done the same thing. Not exactly the same but it would have extended the closing hour until either one or two o'clock on a Sunday morning. That bill I am very reliably informed is going to remain in the House Liquor Control Committee. Therefore I deemed this to be the only opportunity which I would have and which the other Members of the House would have to vote on the matter of whether we should allow these licensees to remain open on a Sunday morning.

One of the main reasons why I think we should do this and should vote for these amendments is because clubs, ever since 1933 when we first adopted some liquor and beer laws, have been allowed to remain open until three o'clock on a Sunday morning. If any of you live in a community such as I do where there are quite a few clubs, you will know that about eleven thirty or a quarter of twelve many people who may have started the evening rather late, did not get out until about ten or eleven o'clock, will leave the particular restaurant in which they happen to be and they will scurry to some club to finish the evening there, because they may stay later, and they may indulge in liquid refreshments up until three o'clock in the morning.

A lot of Members I know object to this particular thing on moral grounds. But for the life of me I cannot see much difference between drinking in a public place and eating there or going to a club and drinking there. Both places are under roof, under the regulations of the board, they have to be clean, they have to be orderly; they cannot be noisy and disorderly and if any infractions of the law occur in public places their licenses may be suspended the same as the clubs.

The only difference is that some organizations of people have formed themselves together for some purpose and sometime later have decided to get a liquor license. The people who drink in the public places are no different from those who drink in clubs—I dare say they are probably the same people in many respects. It seems to me that it is not a moral issue at all. The people of Pennsylvania will be no better or no worse if they are allowed to drink in public places until two o'clock on a Sunday morning than they are today.

I am certainly no prohibitionist, against drinking until three o'clock on a Sunday morning if people desire to do so. I would be the last one to want to interfere with any of the church services on Sundays or any of the church's activities on Sunday. But I need not tell you that these activities do not start between twelve midnight and two o'clock in the morning on a Sunday.

I will be very brief gentlemen; I know it is late, I am hungry and I am thirsty and I know you are too, and I do not expect to spend the rest of the evening talking about a liquor bill.

But it is the only chance you are going to have this session to vote on this question. Perhaps some of you are sorry that I have offered this amendment because you would prefer not to vote on it. But I think that it is something that should be done. I do not hold any brief for the liquor dealers of Pennsylvania,—I do not

It seems to me the important factor here is what do the people want? What should they be entitled to have? Is it going to be good for them or is it going to be detrimental to them? We will live if this amendment does not pass and you have to drink in a club and you must drink on a Sunday morning. It is not that important but it seems so sensible to say to people who are going to drink anyway that they may go on drinking where they happen to be and do not have to leave one place and go to a club because somebody might see you walking in and out of a public place. People walk in and out of clubs. I know some clubs in Berks County that have very big, very elaborate entrances, neon signs, beautiful lettering, all kinds of colors. They are a lot more colorful than the public places, and I suppose in many instances they have many more customers or club members than the public places. So why we are going to continue to say absolutely at midnight these public places are all going to close tight, but the clubs are going to run until three o'clock in the morning.

I ask your vote and your favor in supporting this amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I raise the point of order that the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Berks are not germane to the purposes of the bill as stated in its title and are therefore out of order and I ask the Speaker to rule.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, raises the point of order that the amendments are not germane to the bill.

The Chair will submit the question to the House under Rule 4 of the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that the amendments are not germane to the purposes of the bill as stated in its title?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to point out to the Membership of the House that you cannot mix up cauliflower and rabbits in the same bill, unless that it what you propose to do in the title of the bill.

This bill was designed to serve a particular purpose. The gentleman comes in with a proposal to amend the whole liquor code. I simply submit that it is bad parliamentary practice for the House in effect to tack a rider to the bill. Under our constitution riders to a bill are prohibited.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out to the House before it votes on this matter that we passed many codes in this legislative body. We passed one not so long ago relating to the Orphan's Court, and we passed bills relating to the Wills Act, the Intestate Act.

In those titles you usually see just a few words relating to decedent's estates and so forth. You will not find any of the details of the hundreds and hundreds of sections in that title.

This title of course relates to the Liquor Code of 1951. And the title now says to amend a certain section and so forth. It is my thought that this is not in the same nature as the old practice of adding riders to bills which had nothing to do with the original nature of the bill.

The amendment which 620 contains now without the amendments I am offering simply amends a certain section of the Liquor Code. I am not, Mr. Andrews has said, trying to amend the whole code; I am simply trying to amend one of the sections. And I do not think his point is well taken when he says that this is the very thing that was prohibited by the constitution of 1874 when it says there shall be one subject in a bill. This is one subject, liquor. It is a big subject I will admit, but it still is not in the nature of an amendment which is related to the vehicle code or some other particular subject of law. I think this amendment is within the scope of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a division.

Whereupon, division was had, one hundred ten Members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were declared not germane to the purposes of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. HELM.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 1298, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 286), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of minors; by forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, re-issuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," by increasing the working hours of minors between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1290, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (P. An Act to improve local health administration throughout the Commonwealth by providing for the creation, establishment and administration of single-county or joint-county departments of health in all counties except counties of the first class; abolishing local boards or departments of health and the offices of health officer in political subdivisions which become subject to the jurisdiction of single-county or joint-county departments of health; excepting cities of the first and second class from jurisdiction of single-county or joint-county departments of health; providing for State grants to counties which establish departments of health and to cities of the first and second class if they meet certain requirements; conferring powers and duties upon the State Department of Health in connection with the creation, establishment and administration of single-county or joint-county departments of health, the administration of the health laws in certain boroughs not subject to the jurisdiction of single-county or joint-county departments of health, the administration of State grants; and repealing acts which provide for cooperation between political subdivisions in health matters and which confer health powers upon counties of the first class.

The first and second sections were separately read and agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3, page 9, lines 3, 4 and 5, by striking out "or upon the certification of a favorable vote" in line 3 and both of lines 4 and 5.

Amend Sec. 3, page 9, lines 8 to 14, by striking out "or upon the certification of a favorable vote on the" in line 8 and all of lines 9 to 14, inclusive.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the gentleman whether he has submitted a copy of the amendments either to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, or myself. I find that I do not have a copy, and I do not know whether Mr. Readinger has a copy or not.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Minority Leader, I brought a copy of the amendments to him last week. He said: "give them to Mr. Readinger," which I did.

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of Mr. Scott, the sponsor of this bill, 1310, I have been asked to look after it on the floor of the House.

These amendments which have just been read raise a very vital and fundamental issue. The bill provides for setting up county units, and it provides two ways; either by resolution of the county commissioners, or by a referendum of the people of the county or multiple counties.

These amendments would take away the referendum right of the people to decide whether they want a county or multiple county health unit or not. Fundamentally and basically they are wrong. Anything that takes away the sovereign right of the people to decide what they want, takes the ballot away from them, in our democratic majority rule government is absolutely wrong and I think these amendments should be voted down.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1310 is the keystone of the health package in the House this session. It has been liberally amended in Committee, I think for the better, and these amendments were not offered for any purpose of sabotaging the bill. My purpose was simply to improve the bill, at least in my own opinion.

Of course, a referendum is a democratic procedure. No one can deny that. I understand in some foreign countries they have a referendum on all laws; but that is, nevertheless, not our system of government. The issue involved here is a change in administration, or rather the execution of our county health system or the system of public health in our counties.

Today, under this bill, the cities and the boroughs and the townships of the first class all have certain health powers; the balance is carried on by the state.

I regret that it is necessary to explain a little bit about the background of 1310 itself in order to understand the amendments. In 1310, if a local county health unit is established, it would mean that all your local boards of health are suspended. It places the duty upon the county to budget money for the new county health department. The bill as originally drawn provided that one-half the cost up to a maximum of 75 cents would be contributed to the county by the state for the maintenance of these new county health units.

Under amendments that have been offered to the bill it states that the state may contribute up to 75 cents, with the result that if you were a county commissioner, you would have no idea how much to budget for your next annual term. Similarly, the county commissioners have to appoint all the people on the Board of Health. The law provides now—it is a “may” bill—they can be voted in either by resolution of the county commissioners or if they do not do it, by referendum.

Now let us suppose for example, that the county commissioners feel that there are too many problems involved, dislocation of personnel, uncertain costs; they find other things in this new and untried law that they wish to scrutinize carefully. However, some health and welfare group may come along and put through a referendum. That means that the county health board is automatically established despite the will of the county commissioners. The county commissioners may still prove recalcitrant and not willing to go along, and there is no provision in this law for that situation. The only thing that could be done would be to take the county commissioners to court and in an action of mandamus, I believe it is called, they could possibly be compelled to appoint members of the board of health, but they could not be forced to do anything that would require the exercise of discretion. It would create a very messy situation indeed, were this county health board to be established by referendum.

Further, if a referendum is voted in the bill, all the actions of the county commissioners in establishing the board of health must be passed upon by the State Department of Health before the board of health can be fully established.

There is a distinction in the act, incidentally, between creating the board and establishing the unit to be set up in the county. Suppose your people in your county had voted in the county board of health and the commissioners are unwilling and they did not do a satisfactory job, and then the state turned them down. I think that would be very unsatisfactory to all concerned.

Lastly, I disapprove in principle of sticking a referendum in a bill of this kind. In my experience in Pennsylvania, we put referenda in bills that deal with constitutional questions and many of those have dealt with Philadelphia, and that is unavoidable. We have also put a local option provision, which is a species of referendum, in a great many bills. But in this sort of thing where you are certainly dealing with a county set-up, the use of the referendum surprised me when I first read the bill; I did not understand it. My first reaction was that it was a device inserted by the lawyers who drew the bill at the insistence of the health and welfare people to override recalcitrant county commissioners.

I inquired about this and was informed that the purpose was quite the reverse; that county commissioners might be unwilling to impose the additional taxes that would be required, and that this would take them off the hook, so to speak. However, further inquiry has revealed that in the laws of most other states and particularly the Southern states, the referendum provision is in the bill. And so I think it has been inserted in our bill strictly by analogy.

Further, I think it is a matter of common knowledge that in the South county government is much stronger than it is here. I do not think the same considerations that apply to the Southern states apply to Pennsylvania, and for those reasons, and as a matter of principle, I think the referendum is a bad idea.

Lastly, I wanted to call this to the attention of the House. I think it would be, so to speak, a cinch for any pressure group to come into your county or mine with referendum in the bills and put the thing across because there is a confusion in the popular mind between public health administration and the health of your wives and children. They do not mean the same thing, quite. The League of Women Voters of Pennsylvania, for example, stated that we are forty-second among the states in the quality of our public health services. This may be true, and for that reason, with the amendments I hope you will vote for the bill. But that does not mean that we in Pennsylvania are the forty-second healthiest people of all the citizens of all the states. In other words, public health is an emotional thing, and I think for that reason the average citizen who does not have the time and who elected you and me and the county commissioners to decide these issues, might tend to go overboard on this issue. I think he will resent it and say it was our duty to decide just such questions as this for him.

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to discuss the bill. There is only one question before us and that is the question of the amendments. Those amendments state that the sovereign right shall be taken away from the people to decide their health destiny. They are still wrong and I think they should be voted down.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, just one brief statement: I have no fault to find with the capacity or competency of the sovereign people to decide this issue.

What I am worried about is the effect that the well intentioned efforts of the small pressure group might have in a fair decision on this bill if the amendments are not acted on favorably.

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, I think the idea of inserting into this discussion pressure groups is more or less propaganda. I do not know of any pressure groups outside of those people who are interested in the health welfare of our Commonwealth that are interested in this bill. After all, the health of the people is the fundamental thing and I do not think the question of pressure groups should be brought in here. God knows if the people of this state are not able to decide their own destiny I do not think that I, as a Legislator standing here, or if I were a Commissioner in my county, should feel that I was above my people and they should not have the sovereign right to decide finally what they wanted to do.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

The section was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, withdraw the remainder of his amendments?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1378, Printer's No. 751
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1439, as follows:

An Act to further amend Sections 4342 and 4343 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by making certain city employees eligible for retirement after twenty years of service

Section 1 Sections 4342 and 4343 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L.) Act No. 164 are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4342 Retirement [Age] Every person now or hereafter employed by any city which has created such pension fund and pension board as hereinbefore provided [of the age of sixty years and upwards] who shall have been so employed for a period of twenty years or more shall upon application to the board of pensions herein created be retired from service and shall during the remainder of his or her life receive the pension or compensation fixed by this act subject to such qualifications as are herein contained

Section 4343 Retirement Allowance [Proof of Disability] During the lifetime of any person in the employment of any city creating such pension fund and pension board as hereinbefore provided he or she shall be entitled to receive as a pension annually from the fund set aside for the purpose fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average annual salary or wages which he or she received during the last five years of his or her employment by the said city said pension to be paid in semimonthly payments [Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retired or be in any manner deprived of his or her position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to the pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the service of such city but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employee however become totally and permanently disabled after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employee is in a permanent condition of health which would permanently disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office]

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jump permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I will providing he does not use his ability as an attorney against me.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger will proceed with his cross-examination.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, after my recent experience I am sure the gentleman has nothing to worry about.

Mr. Speaker, I desire that the sponsor, Mr. Jump explain the meaning of these amendments.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman the amendment to this bill just strikes out the sixty year clause. In other words, after an employee works twenty years he becomes eligible for the pension.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it grieves me deeply to have to arise and oppose a bill introduced by my good friend and neighbor, Mr. Jump.

However, I want the Members of the House to know that this amends the Act of 1933, which was the Third Class City Code and which has now been reenacted as the Code of 1951, by making eligible every person who was under the pension fund which was set up under the old Act of 1933. It amends that law to enable such persons to receive a pension of one half his pay, computed over the last five years of his employment, after twenty years of service which means that if a person starts working for a city, a third class city, at the age of 21 and holds that job for twenty years, he can then retire at the age of 41 or 42.

It has always been my opinion that pension acts were supposed to be set up and maintained to take care of people when they arrive at an age when they normally could not work or felt as though they should retire from further active duty.

What happens in about 99 per cent of these cases where a person becomes eligible to retire after 20 years' service or 25 years' service is that that person immediately retires as soon as he can and goes out and gets another job. It is true he cannot work for the same municipality but he can find many other jobs.

Of course he continues to live in the city, sees his friends who work at City Hall and says "Hi ya Joe, how much are you making now?"

They say, "Well I am still making $225 a month, how are you doing?"

He says, "Well now, the city is paying me $130 a month and I got another job for $225 a month, I'm doing pretty well."

How much this is going to cost third class city taxpayers I do not know. Under the present law a person must attain the age of 60 years before he can retire. If he is dismissed before that time he can continue to pay into this pension fund and when he gets to be 60 he is still eligible to retire.

But I am not only opposed to this bill on the ground that it costs the city some money. If the employes are worthy of a higher wage than they are getting, and the taxpayers and the authorities can see fit to pay it to them, then they should be paid while they are working and they should not be paid for doing nothing after they get to the age of 41 or 42.

I suppose if this thing passes, a few years from now we will come back with another bill reducing it to fifteen years' service, and pretty soon those of us that want to work will be working to support the people who are on pensions at the tender age of 35.

I think sometime in the future we will all be taking in washing to make a living. If a person is disabled or sick, then I like to see them taken care of in some way, and for that we certainly have plenty of laws allowing disability pensions of one kind or another. But this bill says to an able bodied person who has worked for twenty years and has been paid for doing his work, the same as you and I are paid for the work we do, not only "Go on a pension," but also "For the rest of your life we are going to support you at half salary." I do not like this bill and I would like to see it defeated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill probably should be labeled a measure to bankrupt pension funds. If those likely to benefit under the terms of this bill had been paying into the pension fund all of the years on the supposition that they would retire after they had served twenty years rather than on the supposition that they would retire after they had reached the age of sixty, that would be something different. But the pension funds have not been organized upon that basis.

The gentleman's bill is actuarially unsound. Every pension fund, in practically all the municipalities, would have to be bolstered up if this bill became law.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I just would like to take another minute to point out to the House that within the past ten days the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania handed down an opinion which arose in relation to an Act passed in 1945 under which Third Class Cities, which had not set up pension funds under this particular Act, created pension funds. The Supreme Court ruled unenforceable and unworkable a provision in that Act which provided that if a person employed by a Third Class City was involuntarily retired, in other words, dismissed, after serving twelve years or more but less than twenty years, that person could go on pension.

The Supreme Court pointed out that one of the fundamental ideas if a pension retirement system was the person could retire at a fixed age.

Other parts of that 1945 Act provided for retirement at the age of sixty and certain other provisions of the Act provided for retirement at the age of fifty-five, provided a person had worked for twenty years or more.

As I pointed out before, this says nothing about the age. It depends entirely on the age at which you start working. Conceivably a person could start working for the City of Reading at the age of 18, then in twenty years he would be 38.

If The Supreme Court has ruled unconstitutional and void a section of another Act which does not fix an age at which retirement may be had or may be entered into, then I feel sure the Supreme Court is going to knock this out too.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to see this bill defeated on that basis.

Mr. McMULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I find myself, on this bill, in a very unusual position. Especially in relation to the gentlemen on the other side of the House who have spoken against it. For once I am in complete accord and in sympathy and indorse every word they have said in opposition to this particular bill.

It is morally unsound, and financially unsound.

Mr. Speaker, did you ever stop to think that we think of employing people and have them work for us on the continuity of time in order that their experience may be more valuable to us. In this particular instance we find that when a man reaches the peak of his performance it is possible for him to retire and then sell that experience and knowledge he has gained at the expense of the taxpayer to someone who is willing to pay him more money, and at the same time expect the taxpayers to pay him half of his salary.

I say again, it is morally and financially unsound.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, first I want to say I am not a city employee. I have a few notes here for the benefit of the membership of this House and I would like to announce at this time I do not hope to take up too much time. I want to get out of here myself.

The commencing age of employees in municipal governments is seldom 21 years because of the nature of the work being on a patronage basis. It takes at least ten years for a person to become established politically, thus making the starting age of employees generally about 30 years.

The number of employees lasting in municipal government service for a 20 years period are few. General because of the change in administration or the gaining control by various factions, few employees manage to last 20 years.

As a class, municipal employees are the most underpaid of any type of employee. The Federal government, the State government, the County government and private industry all pay higher rates for labor, clerical and professional workers. Therefore, a pension fund where the municipal employees might realize a pension at the end of 20 years affords an incentive to seek the position and attempt to retain it. This 20 years without any minimum age will be an incentive to city workers who now are leaving their positions to take jobs elsewhere for higher wages.

Municipal firemen and policemen who are not subject to the political changes which city employees are subject to; both have the privilege of retiring after 20 years of service. Their starting ages are much lower than city employees because of their ability to secure civil service positions through examination at a younger age; therefore, if the police and firemen have the right to retire after 20 years, city employees should be afforded a similar right.

Mr. Speaker, if I may have your permission I would Like to read a letter from my City officials in Wilkes-Barre, which was addressed to me:

Dear Sir:

Act No. 157, approved the 13th day of April 1927, authorized Cities of the Third Class to create a pension fund for employees, other than police and firemen.

Pursuant thereto, the City of Wilkes-Barre, by Ordinance No. 677 passed finally July 19th, 1927, created and established a Pension Fund for employees who were not at that time protected by pension authorized by the laws of Pennsylvania.

Among other things, the Act provided that every person now or hereafter employed by the City of Wilkes-Barre of the age of sixty years, or upwards, who shall have been so employed for a period of twenty years, or more, shall, upon application, be retired on pension.

The Pension Funds of the Police and Firemen provide that employees may retire after twenty years of service, regardless of age, and it is the desire of the City officials of the City of Wilkes-Barre, as well as employees, that the law should be amended to permit city employees, other than Police and Firemen, to retire after twenty years of service, regardless of age. In other words, the various Pension Funds would then be uniform and all employees would be on the same basis.

Therefore, we are requesting that Act No. 157 of 1927 be amended in accordance with the foregoing and are urging you to sponsor and do all that you can toward the passage of such an amendment.

Attest:

Lucius K. Eldridge,
City Clerk

Tom A. Evans,
City Treasurer

Luther M. Kniffen,
Mayor
Frank A. Goeckel,
Director of Parks and Public Property
William D. Jones,
Director of Public Safety
J. Bowden Northrup,
Director of Accounts and Finance
Oliver Price,
Director of Street and Public Improvements

If you do not mind, Mr. Speaker, I have another short letter from the Secretary-Treasurer of the Pension Fund.

Dear Mr. Jump:

At a meeting of the Wilkes-Barre City Employees Pension Fund Board held on July 5, 1951, a resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted, approving of House Bill No. 1439.

We deeply appreciate your efforts and trust you will be successful in obtaining sufficient support for the final passage of this Bill.

Very truly yours,

City of Wilkes-Barre City Employees Pension Fund. s/Robert J. Williams,
Secretary-Treasurer

SENATE

TUESDAY, July 17, 1951.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, The Rev. J. B. WILLIAMS, Pastor of Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we stand here today with our heads bowed in the position of prayer, and we beseech Thee that Thou wouldn't give us the spirit of prayer, for our thoughts are not on Thee. There is no reaching out, no feeling of urgency which compels us to prostrate ourselves at Thy feet and beg for Thy mercy.

Give to us, we pray Thee, a deep sense of our responsibility to those who have placed their confidence in us, and who look to us at this moment for the kind of leadership that will guarantee for each citizen his rightful heritage. Help us lay aside any spirit or motive which keeps us outside of Thy will.

Grant, O God, that we shall remember that the last accounting of our stewardship must be to Thee. May we have lived so faithful to our trust and responsibility, in relationship to Thee and our fellowman, that Thou canst say to us, well done.

We ask this in the Name of our Father, God, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. KEPHART, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FREED read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 793, entitled:

An Act to validate and quiet the title to real estate in this Commonwealth held by a foreign corporation, not authorized to transact business in Pennsylvania, and heretofore conveyed to a citizen or citizens of the United States or a corporation authorized to hold such real estate.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, last week there was considerable publicity given to the matter of an elected public official, as well as an appointed administrative officer, drafting bills that were presented before this Legislature. The gentlemen involved, of course, did not violate any law of the Commonwealth. It may have been bad ethics, but the bad feature of it is that the people on the outside are of the opinion that when an elected public official of the State Government or an appointed official of the State Government prepares legislation to be introduced in this Legislature, that it has an effect on we the Members of the Legislature and, of course, that implication I personally do not like.

Mr. President, if this practice is indulged in by people on Capitol Hill, I think it is the fault of the Legislature because every Department, Board and Commission of the Commonwealth is the creature of this Legislature, and the practice and procedure under which Departments function is likewise the creature of this Legislature. Therefore, if we feel that it is bad practice for elected officials and department heads to indulge in the practice of law and appear before each other, we ought to do something about it. I personally think it is bad myself, because it permits the practice of law by elected officials in the State Government and permitting appointed officials to appear before departments of the State government opens the door for the exchange of favoritism, and that in turn opens the door for corruption, and that in turn leads to scandal such as we have had on Capitol Hill from time to time.

Mr. President, I do not want the gentlemen involved, Mr. Livengood or Mr. Nissley, to arrive at the conclusion that this bill is directed at them. It just so happens that they prepared these bills and it was discovered that it was done for a fee. It was publicized, and they became the victims of it, but I think we should make it a general rule that no elected official or department head be permitted to indulge in practice which was so widely publicized.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 794, entitled:

An Act prohibiting lobbying and the practice of law before State agencies by State elective and appointive administrative officers and firms, partnerships and associations of which they are members.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 795, entitled:

An Act vesting and confirming in cities of the second class all right, title and interest of the Commonwealth in certain streets, lanes and alleys situate within such cities.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. WOOD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 796, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the occupation of living quarters over or the depositing of foreign substances in any body of water which is the source of water used for human consumption; prescribing penalties; and authorizing the courts of common pleas to enjoin violations.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, from time to time in this Chamber there has been rumors afloat as to the position taken by the Democratic Party regarding the tax program. I do not rise to defend my colleagues; they need no defense, but I rise to clarify some misleading statements.

Mr. President, I am told that last evening a group of Democrats and Republicans had met at a party, and I have been accused of being one of them. First, I had no knowledge of a party last night or of a discussion of any program. I attended no party, and I am innocent of any such deal. Secondly, it is rumored in this Chamber and on Capitol Hill that the Democrats have now taken the position that if certain taxes were removed from our statute books, we would support an income tax. I am told the information came from a high source from within the Democratic Party. Well, I happen to be a Member of that Democratic Party, and by virtue of the fact that my colleagues have elected me as their Whip, I happen to be an officer, for which I am very grateful, but I have no knowledge at any time of any action taken within our Democratic Caucus where we have gone on record authorizing any one to make the remark that we would recede from our position. We have discussed it informally, and as my colleague from Westmoreland County stated yesterday very definitely and clearly, we feel that sufficient taxes would be derived from the present tax structure. However, there are certain bills pending in committee dealing with education, for which there are no provisions made, and if those bills are to pass, they will increase the salaries off the school teachers of our educational system. We would consider voting for certain taxes to raise sufficient moneys, if it will help the school system, but my colleague from Westmoreland County stated yesterday that even there we would not recede from our position in so far as an income tax is concerned.

Now, Mr. President, I want to make it clear once and for all that the Democratic Caucus has never consented to recede from that position. At no time have we considered that we should vote or would vote for an income tax regardless of what other taxes may be removed from our books. What the other side does is entirely up to them. We have offered our assistance, our cooperation, to sit down with a group or with the Governor and discuss the program, but that would not be done by any individual. Whoever should sit in on a committee or with the Governor will only be a man or a group of men who shall be so directed by the Democratic Caucus, and no one man is authorized to speak for our party without caucus consent. Any remarks any one man makes he makes as an individual, and he cannot bind the Democratic Caucus.

I say again, Mr. President, we are willing to cooperate to the extent that if you are to pass any legislation that will help the educational system, and those bills, as I understand it, are not within the Budget, we are glad to offer our thoughts, our opinions regarding those measures, and if new taxes may be necessary, we are willing to go along and discuss that phase of it, but it is my understanding that even there we will not commit ourselves to a State income tax. That has been the Democratic Party's platform, that is a caucus action and any other remarks are erroneous.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there is just one thing that I want to add to what Senator Haluska had to say, and that is, if and when the Democratic Caucus should agree on any new taxes for school purposes, those new taxes would be specifically earmarked for school purposes only.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think it is important that a few remarks be made in order that when we leave here to come back here on July 30, we all come back with a fresh mind and in hopes of making a fresh start.

Mr. President, Cordell Hull, I think, a long time ago made the statement that a lie would get half way around the world before the truth could put its pants on. Therefore, I have long ago learned to disregard statements made by persons whose only interest is in agitation.

Mr. President, I think that it is incumbent upon me to state, and I fully intended to acquaint my colleagues with the fact that I talked with the Governor last night on the telephone, and I assured him that I had made remarks on the Senate floor, voicing the opinion of the Majority of the Democratic Caucus, that we as the Democratic Members of this Senate have never to this date, nor would we in the future, act as a stumbling block towards an adjournment. I stated to him last night, and I state to you again today, that the Democratic Caucus is solidly opposed to an income tax and that we felt that if new revenues are needed, if after a review of the fiscal problem, in the light of the events as they are as of today it is proven that new revenues are needed, that he can be assured that we would listen and that we would try our best to cooperate and get a program through.

Mr. President, there are those who have spread numerous rumors. That does not interest me as an individual. I think that I exercised my prerogative when I spoke to Governor on the phone, and I say that any Member of this Senate who would be called to talk to the Governor of this Commonwealth and would refuse to do so ought to be denied the privileges of the Senate. This man is the Governor of this Commonwealth. He sees the picture one way, other Members of the Senate from both political parties may see it another way. That is not anything strange. That is the history of Legislative Halls, and I certainly, Mr. President, would rather not be the leader of any group that would ask me to prostitute what little intelligence I have, if I am not permitted to exercise the decency of a member of any elected body.

Mr. President, I did talk with the Governor and I stand ready at any time to discuss with the Governor the fiscal problems of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I assure you that every other thinking Member of this Senate will probably agree that he, too, stands ready to discuss the problems of the Commonwealth. On this day in the middle of July is no time for anybody to start taking the position, either with the Governor or the Legislature, in saying that it will be this or that or nothing. The people in this Commonwealth deserve the best that can come from this Session of the Legislature. The hour is getting late, there is no such thing as sell-out, as I have heard it rumored around. A sell-out of what? If we do not agree on something, if we do not get together on a middle of the road policy, the only sell-out is the people of Pennsylvania being sold out by the stubbornness of anybody that takes a different position from that.

Mr. President, I do not agree with the action of the Republican Party in the Federal Congress. I never believed in name calling and I do not now intend to get into that. I treat the Governor of this Commonwealth with the same respect as I would desire to be treated, if I were Governor of this Commonwealth, from both sides of the political fence, and from the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I do not know that there is anybody on this side of the Senate who has made any statement directly to the effect that I personally have made a deal. I only wish I were powerful enough to make deals. I can only make a suggestion, Mr. President, and so I want to suggest to whoever is starting the rumors, that all you are doing is hurting the people of the Commonwealth and not hurting any individual. The individuals,

I think, are big enough and strong enough to stand up in their own defense. I have heard rumors that we have recommended certain taxes, and I can honestly say to this group that I did not discuss with the Governor of the Commonwealth any specific taxes. I did not discuss with the Governor of the Commonwealth anything except to say to him that the Democratic Caucus, up until this moment, are unalterably opposed to an income tax, and that the Democratic Caucus has told me that they are willing to sit down, if specific needs show specifically that we need new revenues, that we have an open mind. That is the whole truth, the simple truth, so help me God.

SENATE RESOLUTION

RECOMMENDING THE FAIRMOUNT PARK COMMISSION TO PLACE THE HORTICULTURAL HALL AT THE DISPOSAL OF THE AUTHORITIES OF TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

Messrs. STIEFEL and CHAPMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of the General Assembly,

July 17, 1951.

Whereas, the phenomenal growth of Temple University and the ever-growing celerity with which its manifold services are constantly expanding, are preclusive of a corresponding speed in the erection or acquisition of adequate building facilities by Temple University, and

Whereas, among the many departments, schools and institutes of this great University towering on the prolific "Acres of Diamonds", its Research Institute, recently a recipient of the Nation's gratitude for epoch-making discoveries in the realm of nuclear and applied physics, is suffering from a Procrustean lack of adequate space so urgently needed for its expanding laboratories, and

Whereas, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is vitally interested in the unretarded and unhampered progress of Temple's Research Institute, the contributions whereof are inuring to the progress of our Nation and State and accordingly is concerned about the inadequacy of its present cramped quarters, and

Whereas, the Horticultural Hall in the Fairmount Park of the city of Philadelphia with its scarcely used space and sylvan majesty of the surrounding "Acres of Emeralds," offers ideal housing facilities for the Research Institute of Temple University, and

Whereas, the removal of the Research Institute of Temple University to the Horticultural Hall will vacate space that could be placed at the disposal of the Institute for Cancer Research of the School of Medicine of Temple University

Whereas, the removal of the Research Institute of Temple University to the Horticultural Hall will vacate space that could be placed at the disposal of the Institute for Cancer Research of the School of Medicine of Temple University.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania recommend to the Fairmount Park Commission of Philadelphia that it place the aforesaid Horticultural Hall at the disposal of the authorities of Temple University in order that it could be thus utilized with maximum productivity as the home of the Research Institute of Temple University, and

Be It Further Resolved, that the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to forward copies of the instant resolution upon its passage to the Fairmount Park Commission and to Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson, President of Temple University.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I certainly do not want to be misunderstood in objecting to this resolution. I want to say to the two very distinguished Members of the Senate who are the sponsors, that until we get additional information, I would rather not put the Senate on record regarding the transfer of property of this magnitude and, therefore, I will object to the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. President, until we have a chance to get the additional facts involved.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. STEVENSON and MALLERY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 797, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 886), entitled, as amended "An act creating a Municipal Employees' Retirement System for the payment of retirement allowances to officers and employes of political subdivisions and municipal authorities and of institutions supported and maintained by political subdivisions, and providing for the administration of the same by a board composed of certain state officers and others appointed by the Governor; imposing certain duties on the State Employees' Retirement Board and the actuary thereof; providing the procedure whereby political subdivisions and municipal authorities may join such system, and imposing certain liabilities and obligations on such political subdivisions and municipal authorities in connection therewith, and as to certain existing retirement and pension systems, and upon officers and employes of such political subdivisions; institutions supported and maintained by political subdivisions, and upon municipal authorities; providing certain exemptions from taxation, execution, attachment, levy and sale; and making an appropriation," to abolish the Municipal Employees' Retirement Board, and providing for the disposition of moneys heretofore or hereafter appropriated the Department of State for the use of the board.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

HOUSE BILL NO. 98 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it was the intention and the plan of the Majority Side of the aisle to run up to the Calendar and then recess for the purpose of a Republican Caucus.

In order to expedite the extra curricular activities on the part of several of the Members, I would like to call up out of order, if I might be permitted before the recess, on page 4 of the Senate Calendar, House Bill No. 98, Printer's No. 734, which went over in its order yesterday during the unavoidable absence of my friend and colleague, Senator Barr.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 98, as follows:

An Act regulating the appointment promotion suspension reduction removal and reinstatement of employes (except superintendents assistant superintendents inspectors and chief clerks) in bureaus of police in cities of the second class and defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions in such cities for such purposes

Section 1 All positions in the bureau of police except as hereinafter provided in cities of the second class shall be in the competitive class of the civil service of such cities This act shall not apply to or include superintendents of police under the direction of the department of public safety by whatever title his position may be designated nor his ranking assistant superintendent by whatever title his position may be designated nor to the inspectors or chief clerk in bureaus of police in such cities

Section 3 Each applicant for original appointment to any position in the competitive class in any bureau of police in any city of the second class shall undergo a physical examination which shall be conducted by a commission composed of doctors of medicine appointed for that purpose by the mayor Said commission shall certify to the civil service commission that the applicant is free from bodily or mental defects deformity or disease that might incapacitate him from the performance of the duties of the position he is seeking before such applicant is permitted to take any further examination No application for such appointment shall be received from any person who is under twenty-one years of age or over thirty-five years of age at the date of his application Nor shall any such application be received from any person who has not been a bona fide resident of the city for one year next preceding the date of his application Provided That any applicant for reinstatement as a member of the bureau of police who shall have served as an employee in such bureau of police for a period of more than six months and who at the time of his application for reinstatement shall be a resident of such city shall be eligible for such reinstatement even though such applicant shall be over the age of thirty-five years

Section 4 Reinstatements as employes in said bureau of police may be made without any restriction or restrictions as to time No examination other than a physical examination as directed by the civil service commission shall be required in any case of reinstatement Any person so reinstated shall be the lowest in rank in the bureau next above the probationers in such bureau

Section 5 No person employed in a competitive position in the bureau of police in any city of the second class shall be eligible for promotion from a lower grade to a higher grade until such person shall have completed at least four years service in the grade of patrolman

Section 6 Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled by promotions from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the bureau of police Promotions shall be based upon merit to be ascertained by tests to be provided by the civil service commission and upon the superior qualifications of the person to be promoted as shown by his previous service and experience The civil service commission shall maintain a numerical list of those persons qualified for promotion to the next superior position which list shall be permanent and from which list the director of the department of public safety shall make all promotions in the order in which the names appear on said list The director of the department of public safety shall not pass over any name appearing on the civil service commission list for promotion until the promotion is first tendered to the first name thereon and then only when said person refuses said promotion or is physically unable to carry out the duties of the new position. The civil service commission shall have the power to determine in each instance whether an increase in salary constitutes a promotion.

Section 7 No employe in the competitive class in any bureau of police in any city of the second class shall be removed discharged or suspended for a period exceeding ten days as a penalty or reduced in rank or pay without his written consent except for just cause which shall not be religious or political nor in any event except by the decision of a court either of trial or inquiry duly determined and certified in writing to the mayor and approved in writing by the mayor which court shall be composed of three persons employed in said bureau of police equal or superior in rank therein to the accused. Such decision shall only be determined by trial of charges with plain specifications made by or lodged with the director of the department of public safety of which trial the accused shall have due notice and at which he shall have the right to be present in person and represented by a brother employe or any attorney-at-law to act as his counsel. The persons composing said court shall be appointed and shall be sworn by the director of the department of public safety to perform their duties impartially and without fear or favor. The person of high rank in said court shall have the same authority to issue and enforce process to secure the attendance of witnesses and administer oaths to witnesses as is possessed by any justice of the peace of the Commonwealth if said person shall be equal in rank then the persons composing said court shall select one of their number to exercise such authority. Such charges may be of disability for service in which case the court shall be one of inquiry whose decision may be for the honorable discharge of the employe concerned or of neglect or violation of law or duty ineiciency intemperance disobedience of orders or unbecoming official or personal conduct in which cases the court shall be one of trial and its decision shall authorize the director of public safety to impose fines and pecuniary penalties to be stopped from pay or to suspend from pay or duty or both for a period fixed by them not exceeding one year or to dismiss from the service. It shall be lawful for the director of the department of public safety at his discretion to suspend from duty before trial any employe charged as aforesaid until such trial can be had with or without pay as such court shall afterwards determine but no trial shall be delayed for more than ten days following the date of suspension.

Section 8 After full and complete hearing the court of trial or inquiry shall determine its decision which shall be promptly certified in writing to the mayor. After approval by the mayor in writing the director of the department of public safety shall notify the accused in writing of such decision including the penalty if any. In every case of such removal discharge suspension reduction or fine the complete record of the proceedings and decision of the court of trial or inquiry approval by the mayor and notice of the director of the department of public safety shall be furnished forthwith to the civil service commission and entered upon its records. Within ten days following the receipt of the written notice of the director of the department of public safety if served personally or within ten days from the date of the mailing of such written notice by the director of the department of public safety to the last known address of the accused employe the accused employe shall have the right to appeal to the civil service commission of such city. The civil service commission shall review the entire record including the testimony before the court of trial or inquiry and shall have the right to affirm modify or revoke the decision of the court of trial or inquiry. The civil service commission in arriving at its decision may permit the taking of additional testimony but shall not be bound to do so. If the civil service commission shall fail to sustain the decision of removal of the officer the person sought to be removed shall be reinstated with full pay for the entire period during which he has been prevented from performing his usual employment and no charges shall be recorded against him. In the event the decision shall be modified or sustained by the civil service commission the person penalized shall have the right to appeal by petition to the court of common pleas of the county within thirty days after receipt of written notice of such action by the civil service commission. It shall be the duty of the civil service commission to give such notice. In every case so appealed to the court of common pleas of the county the court shall hear the charges made against the accused de novo. Notice of the taking of such appeal shall be served on the city solicitor within ten days following the taking of the appeal. The court shall fix a time and place for hearing shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law and file a decision. The issue before the court shall be whether the action of the trial court shall be affirmed or modified in any respect or whether the charges should be dismissed. Where any policeman has been suspended by the action of the trial court and the charges are dismissed on appeal the policeman shall receive full compensation for the entire period of suspension.

Section 9 If for reasons of economy or lack of funds it becomes necessary for any city of the second class to reduce any employes of its bureau of police then the city shall follow the following procedure.

First If there are any employes in its bureau of police eligible for retirement under the terms of any police pension fund then such reduction shall be made by retirement on pension of the oldest in age and service.

Second If the number of employes in its bureau of police eligible for retirement under the pension fund of said city is sufficient to affect the reduction in number desired by the city or if there is no eligible person for retirement or if no retirement fund exists in said city then the reduction shall be effected by suspending the last man or men starting with probationers that have been appointed. Such removal shall be accomplished by suspending in numerical order commencing with the last man appointed all recent appointees until such reduction shall have been accomplished. Whenever the number of employes in the bureau of police shall be again increased in number or if any vacancies occur the employes suspended under the terms of this act shall be reinstated to their former class before any new appointees are appointed in the inverse order in which they were suspended.

Section 10 All persons holding appointive positions in the bureau of police in any city of the second class upon the effective date of this act shall continue to hold such positions subject to the provisions of this act except that they shall not be required to take any examinations required by this act other than examinations required for promotions.

Section 11 So much of section one of article three of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred on (P. L. 20) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" as relates to the removal and dismissal of policemen in cities of the second class as reenacted and amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1761) is hereby repealed.

The act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 206) entitled "An act to regulate and improve the civil service of the cities of the second class in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making violations of its provisions to be misdemeanors and providing penalties for violations thereof" and its amendments are hereby repealed in so far as they relate to employes in bureaus of police in cities of the second class.

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time' and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will be happy when today is over and we either pass or kill this bill, because it has been hanging around here too long. When a bill hangs around as long as this has, you can tell there is something very bad in it.

Mr. President, last week before adjournment this bill was amended and the gentleman who amended the bill I think did it in good faith. I took the bill as amended home with me, and the amendments have not changed the bill one iota, and that is not my word but the word from the Law Department of the City of Pittsburgh. Anyone having a copy of the bill in front of them can readily understand what I am saying. This bill still reads, "The Civil Service Commission shall maintain a list of those persons qualified for promotion to the next superior position from which list the Director of the Department of Public Safety shall make all promotions in the order in which the names appear on said list."

Mr. President, this kind of legislation has never existed in any borough, township, city or county in this Commonwealth before. Any man that has one ounce of brains knows that when a Civil Service list is posted, that the appointing power should have the choice from the first of three names to pick a person, because now and then there are some persons who have retentive minds and appear first on the Civil Service list, but when it comes to doing the practical job, they are not qualified.

Going further in this bill, Mr. President, this leaves the City of Pittsburgh with no appeal, but would give a police officer three appeals. In other words, if a man is suspended from the Police Force, he has three appeals. If any of these appeals are contrary to the appointing power of the City, the City has no appeal whatsoever.

Mr. President, I do know what kind of government we are coming to, and I cannot for the life of me think that the men on the other side of this aisle would vote for a bill like this, unless they have been bludgeoned into it in their caucus. We all know that a police force is somewhat of a semi-military organization, and if this bill is passed there would be absolutely no discipline left in the Pittsburgh police force. Now, with all the things they have been writing about in the papers about Pittsburgh and et cetera, I think it is of the utmost importance that we are allowed to have a little discipline left in our police force in Pittsburgh, and I ask the fellows on the other side, in the name of decency, to vote down a monstrosity such as this.

Mr. President, I have before me the Civil Service Law for the police, as it is now, and it says in here very definitely:

"Whenever any soldier possesses the requisite qualifications, and his name appears on any eligible or promotional list, certified or furnished as the result of any such Civil Service examination, the appointing or promoting power in making an appointment or promotion to a public position shall give preference to such soldier, notwithstanding, that his name does not stand highest on the eligible or promotional list."

Now, Mr. President, I am saying if you pass this bill, it takes that out. You not only ruin the police force in the City of Pittsburgh, but you are insulting every veteran who is on the list out there today.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do not wish to prolong this debate. My colleague from Allegheny said that when a bill stays on the Calendar as long as this has, of necessity it must be a bad bill, and I would draw to his attention that it has stayed on the Calendar because of requests from him that it stay on, and his requests were well founded, there is no question about that.

Mr. President, we amended the bill last week, and I am informed by the State President of the Federation of Police Organization that this bill now is in conformity with other police Civil Services, and that it does not change the existing law, that the City of Pittsburgh can make regulation according the laws that are on the statute books of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I only wanted to say that in explanation of or, rather, in answer, I might say, to the Senator's allegations that we are passing a monstrosity. I realize that anything I might say will not change any votes. I would, therefore, Mr. President, urge the Members on this side of the Senate to vote for this measure.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Fleming, I want to say to him in all sincerity that I will take the word of the City Solicitor compared to police officers on what the amendments do to the bill. Secondly, I do not know why he should have such an interest. He does not even live in the City of Pittsburgh, he does not even represent one person that lives in the City of Pittsburgh and, personally, I resent him trying to legislate for the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, we all have contended here that we all believe in home rule, but here is a bill aimed directly and only at the City of Pittsburgh. Senator Barr tried to amend the bill and have it apply to every city in Pennsylvania. That was turned down, so this bill is aimed only at Pittsburgh. It is the most vicious civil service bill that was ever offered in this Senate. Civil service is a good deal like a salesman. If he can get his foot inside the door, he is in and probably will make a sale, but civil service has gotten both feet in the door and they are getting bolder and bolder every year.

Mr. President, this bill provides that any promotion in the police department—that includes the detectives—must be taken off the list, and where it differs from other civil service bills, most other civil service bills provide that the appointing power has the right to take one of three, but not this bill. They must take the next name, and no one can be considered for promotion unless he has been on the force for four years.

Now, Mr. President, let us suppose that we want to appoint a detective in the City of Pittsburgh. Under this bill, they must take somebody who has been on the police force for four years and they must take the first name that comes up. That is wrong. There are some detectives, the best that were ever in the City of Pittsburgh, that can hardly read or write, but they have a knack and a way of giving service as detectives that make them the best in the City of Pittsburgh. They may not pass a good examination, but when it comes to service they are the best.

By the way, this bill is not necessary in the City of Pittsburgh. I just read in the paper yesterday here in Harrisburg where Pittsburgh has the best record of any city in the United States of comparative size in the number of murders in our city. We had only twenty-nine murders last year in the City of Pittsburgh, the least, by far, of any city in the United States, and every one of them were apprehended by the detectives except four, and two of those were sex fiends that killed women at night and, of course, those are hard to find sometimes. So, there is no need of this bill.

Then, too, Mr. President, it provides for a board or a court that sits when anybody is to be fired and they conduct hearings in the ordinary way, but then when they get through, the Civil Service Commission shall review the entire record, including the testimony before the court of trial or inquiry and shall have the right to affirm, modify or revoke the decision of the court of trial or inquiry.

As I said on this floor before, Mr. President, in the County of Allegheny we have a splendid opportunity to contrast the difference between the regular county employees who are not under civil service, and over in the City Hall where they have been under civil service for a great many years. Anybody that comes to Pittsburgh today and goes into our Court House, where there is not a single civil service employee, will get the best service, the quickest, the most courteous service that could be given anybody, but if you go over into our City Hall, where the civil service employees have been around there for years, you will have to stamp on the floor and pound on the desk before they will look up at you. Finally they will get up and give you some little service, and that is what happens in all civil service positions.

Mr. President, I will admit that in the Postal Department of the Federal Government civil service has done a pretty good job, but I will say this, that the Pennsylvania Railroad, the B. and O. Railroad, the New York Central Railroad, have just as good a force as the postal employees of the United States, and they do not have any civil service.

Mr. President, this civil service is creeping into our government so fast that we will have a class of employees that are not allowed to get into politics. We preach that every citizen of the United States should get into politics, that it would do them good. They will get acquainted with their government, they will vote right, but here civil service says, "No, stay out of politics," and the longer they stay out, the worse citizens they become. They get so indifferent that they do not take any interest in public affairs. They sit back as a special class in this Country.

Mr. President, this bill brings in detectives under civil service and the appointive power is so restricted that it might destroy the city detective force of the City of Pittsburgh.

Therefore, I ask, Mr. President, that any one who is interested in his city or his government, and believes in government of the people and not by a class of people who are not allowed to get into politics, to vote against this bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, several weeks ago when we last discussed the bill before us now, I was moved to remind the outstanding proponent of the measure, Senator Fleming, that he had voted against amendments to the measure which would have made this bill applicable to his home area and the boroughs within the district that he represents. Now, I am wondering why, if this measure is one that would bring good government and would be desirable for the City of Pittsburgh, he would not have voted for the amendments which would have made it applicable to the boroughs and municipalities within his own district. It seems to me that this is the type of political hypocrisy that has brought government in Pennsylvania to the low ebb that it is. It is little wonder that people have such a small degree of respect for Legislators of our Commonwealth.

Mr. President, here a man who leads the proponents in a discussion to pass a measure for a city that is not within his Senatorial District, claiming that it is a measure for good government, and when an amendment is offered that would make the measure applicable to his own district, he votes against it. Well, I am just not able to compromise that kind of thinking.

Mr. President, on the merits of the bill itself, in union contracts we find that seniority is something to be considered. One good reason for unions is security of employment. We hear a great deal about the growth of the Trade Union movement in America, the gains that are made by it for workers and, from some sources, how powerful and arrogant it has grown, yet in practically all union contracts we provide for matters of advancement in employment, where not only continuous service but ability must be considered. In this measure proposed by Senator Fleming, we do not consider ability at all. We consider only continuous service. A man must be on the force four years and then be the top man in the matter of continuous service on the force, and if he is in that category, it is his job automatically.

Now, Mr. President, I am wondering what would happen in the matter of a search for a detective in a technical branch of skill and proficiency, a man with background and training for a special assignment in the City of Pittsburgh. If this measure would pass, it would just be impossible to place a man of the type needed to do the work demanded. I am wondering what would have happened, for instance, in the City of Youngstown, when it was necessary, with the election of a new Mayor several years ago, to go out and hire a complete new detective force from outside the City to clean up the City. Certainly, this bill would have restricted that type of action.

In other words, Mr. President, to my mind this is not a bill for good government. I believe that in Senator Fleming's mind, it is not the kind of bill that would bring good government, and the matter of policing, to the City of Pittsburgh. If it were, he would have voted for the amendments that would have brought that type of government to his own district. He voted against it. I just cannot compromise my thinking with that kind and that type of legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is not very often that I ever ask for a verification of the roll, but I would like to on this bill. I would like to know just how many friends I do have on the other side.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified. The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

Berger,	Hare,	McPherson, Jr.	Snowden,

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 730, PRINTER'S No. 752

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 730, Printer's No. 752, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 502 of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "The Game Law," by further regulating the issuance of permits for the hunting of antlerless deer and repealing the provisions for abrogation of open season on antlerless deer.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, during this short Session of the Legislature there has been introduced in the House and Senate some one hundred or more bills affecting the retirement systems of the State of Pennsylvania, and when a number of bills appeared in the State Government Committee a special committee was appointed by the Chairman of that Committee to study the bills before it. Later the bills referred to the Education Committee were referred to the same subcommittee, consisting of Senator Wagner, Senator Ruth and myself. About the same time, the House appointed a similar committee, consisting of Representative Wood, Representative Watkins and Representative Bower. The two committees met at various times, and have adopted a platform that they believe will meet the approval of both the Senate and the House.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WADE, RUTH and WAGNER, read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 798, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," by extending the time within which State mental hospital employees may become members and within which State employees may become "original members," and permitting additional persons to change from the one one-hundred-sixtieth (1-160) to the one one-hundredth (1-100) class and providing for obtaining full benefits by contributors heretofore or hereafter making such change.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 799, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 14 of the act, approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043), entitled "An act establishing a public school employees' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employees, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employees; exempting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," by further providing for minimum retirement allowances.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 545

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 545, entitled:

An Act to amend Subsection (f) of Section 302, of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law," by providing that employers reserve accounts shall not be charged with compensation paid to certain employees.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 1204

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1204, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled, "Public School Code of 1949," by clarifying the procedure in reference to rating of professional employes and temporary professional employes; and designating the persons authorized to do the same.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 34

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Resolution No. 34, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 17, 1951.

Whereas, There are now on Pennsylvania farms dairy animals, poultry and general livestock worth in the aggregate more than $412,000,000, producing approximately 75 per cent of the total annual income of Pennsylvania agriculture or in monetary terms about $575,000,000, a year; and

Whereas, The greatest economic losses to the dairy, poultry and general livestock industry are occasioned by the inroads of animal diseases and parasites; and

existing and still growing need for doctors of veterinary medicine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College by virtue of its scientific personnel; its resources for research; its close working relationship with dairy, poultry and general livestock raisers throughout the State and its physical location is the appropriate institution to develop the needed facilities; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the members of the General Assembly hereby request the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College to authorize the establishment of a school of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College and at the earliest possible time to erect such buildings; employ such personnel and establish such programs of research and instruction as in their judgment are requisite to the proper maintenance and operation of such a school of veterinary medicine; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly hereby pledge their support in obtaining the funds required to construct and to equip essential research, instructional, clinical, and administrative buildings for a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College, and for the operation and maintenance of the proposed School of Veterinary Medicine; it being understood, however, that funds cannot be appropriated for such buildings and their maintenance at the 1951 Session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the understanding and intention of the members of the General Assembly that funds ultimately appropriated for the construction and equipment of such buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of such a School of Veterinary Medicine shall be in addition to the amount appropriated at that time for the general operation and maintenance of the Pennsylvania State College as then constituted; and be it further

Resolved, That the trustees of the Pennsylvania State College be requested to prepare and to present to the members of the 1953 Session of the General Assembly specific and detailed information concerning the nature and estimated cost of requisite buildings and equipment, and also an estimate of the annual expense involved in the operation and maintenance of a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College under conditions which, in the judgment of the said trustees, would best meet the reasonable needs of the Commonwealth and its citizens for such veterinary medical service; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House send a copy of this resolution to the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON- CONCURRED BY THE SENATE TO SENATE BILL No. 25, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act relating to the orphans' courts, conferring exclusive jurisdiction on such courts over the administration and distribution of decedents' estates, trust estates, minors' estates, and absentees' estates; providing for the organization of orphans' courts, the procedure therein, the powers and duties of the judges thereof, and appeals therefrom.

and has appointed Messrs. McKINNEY, TOMPKINS and SCHMIDT as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR NOTARIES PUBLIC

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public.

CONSIDERATION OF NOTARIES PUBLIC

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of nominations for appointment as Notaries Public, sent to the Senate, by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, on July 17, 1951.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

By Mr. JOHN C. MILLER.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 69.

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1951.

Whereas, Inflation of prices and increased wages of many segments of the population to meet such inflated prices, have made it increasingly difficult for low paid government employes to secure the necessities of life; and

Whereas, The wages and salaries of postal employes are notoriously low in spite of the efficiency and dispatch with which such employes have conducted the business of the postal system; and

Whereas, The increase in size in the air, ground and naval forces increases the demands for service upon the postal system; and

Whereas, The high morale of the said air, ground and naval services depends in a large degree upon the contact with which the members thereof are able to keep with their homes and friends through the services of the postal system; and

Whereas, The postal service will lose many of its most able and competent employes to private industry if the wages and salaries of the postal employes are not increased in order to meet minimum decent living standards; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation, salary increases for postal employes, and to take favorable action on House Bill No. 244 and Senate Bill No. 355; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules

By Messrs. BEECH and HAUDENSHIELD.

RESOLUTION No. 70.

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1951

Whereas, The Legislature appears to be hopelessly deadlocked in its disagreement concerning the financial needs of the Commonwealth for the next biennium; and

Whereas, Proponents of the Governor's tax program insist that additional taxes are needed and that no economies can be effected and opponets of his tax program insist that no new taxes are needed and that many economies can be affected; and

Whereas, It is charged that several State employes who are candidates for public offices in Allegheny County are devoting all their time to their campaign and none to State work, while still receiving State salaries; and

Whereas, It is charged that several high salaried State employes are devoting all of their time to the campaign work of certain candidates, and that other State employes are being given time off from their regular work to campaign for certain candidates and

Whereas, Such practices amount to unwarranted waste of the taxpayer's money at a time when the Legislature is being asked to increase taxes; therefore be it

Resolved, That a special committee of ten members of the General Assembly, five from the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore and five from the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, be created to conduct an investigation of these illegal practices, and report its finding to the General Assembly before the end of the present session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 730

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 730.

Section 15. Determination and Apportionment of Commonwealth Subsidies.— (a) As soon as possible each year, after the final adjustment of values by the board, and before the determination of any appeal to court, the board shall certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the market value of all real property in each school district in the Commonwealth. [Beginning with payment to be made for the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine—one thousand nine hundred fifty, each] In the event of an appeal, the prothonotary of Dauphin County shall certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the final decision of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County or of the Supreme Court as the case may be. Each school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the market value of the taxable real property in the school district as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board, [and not the assessed valuation for county tax purposes as now provided by law.] subject to any change in such value made pursuant to an appeal to court.

(b) Beginning with the year one thousand nine hundred [forty-nine] fifty-one and every two (2) years thereafter, [in place of the valuations now required by law to be used for such purposes] the market value of the real property in each school district, as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board prior to the determination of any appeal to court, shall be used by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in ascertaining and determining the amount of funds required to meet payment to school districts and vocational school districts which become due and payable by law within the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred [forty-nine] fifty-one and ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred [fifty-one] fifty-three, and each biennium thereafter, and to apportion and allot the same to and among the respective school districts.

(c) In the event that the valuation of property shall be decreased pursuant to an appeal by a school district, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall revise all calculations made on the basis thereof to conform to the valuation finally fixed by or pursuant to the appeal. In the event that the amount payable to the district has already been certified on the basis of the original valuation, and a greater amount appears by the revised calculations to be due the district, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall certify to the State Treasurer and Auditor General the amount of the difference between such greater amount and the amount already certified. The amount so certified shall be added to any amount previously certified and shall be paid to the district in the manner provided in Article XXV of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), known as the "Public School Code of 1949." The taking of an appeal to court by any school district shall not hinder or delay the payment of any sum payable to a school district had no appeal been taken.
